Yalom, 1990-10-18 In this book gender is the lens through which autobiography and biography are scrutinized The authors show what is revealed when they magnify the gendered aspects of both men's and women's writing The eternal questions of identity choice responsibility happiness tragedy and even death are interpreted in terms of gender analysis The book presents a sequence of studies from the early nineteenth to the late twentieth century that includes individuals such as American poet Anne Sexton and German writers Christa Wolf and Paul Celan and groups such as nineteenth century Mexican women and members of the British working class It extends the paradigm of self-reflexive literature to include and highlight the overlap between autobiography and biography especially in the case of women who often wrote their lives obliquely through the biographies of their famous male relatives e.g. Adèle Hugo and Anne Thackeray Ritchie The authors refuse to accept a monolithic conception of gender The studies of Charles and Mary Lamb Nadezhda Durova and John Stuart Mill demonstrate that even in the nineteenth century a binary gender system is inadequate as a mode of approach to actual life stories

Born in Flames Howard Hampton, 2007-01-15 Twenty years as an outsider scouring the underbelly of American culture has made Howard Hampton a uniquely hard-nosed guide to the heart of pop darkness Bridging the fatalistic intensely charged space between Apocalypse Now Redux and Nirvana's Smells Like Teen Spirit his writing breaks down barriers of ignorance and arrogance that have segregated art forms from each other and often from the world at large In the freewheeling spirit of Pauline Kael Lester Bangs and Manny Farber Hampton calls up the extremist underground tendencies and archaic forces simmering beneath the surface of popular forms Ranging from the kinetic poetry of Hong Kong cinema and the neo New Wave energy of Irma Vep to the punk heroines of Sleater Kinney and Ghost World Born in Flames plays odd couples off one another pitting Natural Born Killers against Forrest Gump contrasting Jean-Luc Godard with Steven

Spielberg defending David Lynch against aesthetic ideologues invoking The Curse of the Mekons against Fredric Jameson's Postmodernism and introducing D H Lawrence to Buffy the Vampire Slayer We are born in flames sang the incandescent Lora Logic and here those flames are a source of illumination as well as destruction warmth as well as consumption From the scorched earth works of action movie provocateurs Seijun Suzuki and Sam Peckinpah to the cargo cult soundscapes of Pere Ubu and the Czech dissidents Plastic People of the Universe Born in Flames is a headlong plunge into the passions and disruptive power of art

The Language of Silence Ernestine Schlant, 2004-11-23 Focusing on individual authors from Heinrich Boll to Gunther Grass Hermann Lenz to Peter Schneider The Language of Silence offers an analysis of West German literature as it tries to come to terms with the Holocaust and its impact on postwar West German society Exploring postwar literature as the barometer of Germany's unconsciously held values as well as of its professed conscience Ernestine Schlant demonstrates that the confrontation with the Holocaust has shifted over the decades from repression circumvention and omission to an open acknowledgement of the crimes Yet even today a language of silence remains since the victims and their suffering are still overlooked and ignored Learned and exacting Schlant's study makes an important contribution to our understanding of postwar German culture

As the world closes in around them two Nazis hide out in a tropical paradise. The servants sense something strange about the two old men. They are not sure what business Dr Langhof and Dr Ludtz have in El Caliz but they are certain that whatever they do in their colonial mansion is the work of the devil. Although they do not know the specifics of the two men's crimes the servants are right to suspect something sinister. The men are Nazis fugitives from international law who fled to this South American haven in the chaotic days after World War II. Langhof brought with him a cache of stolen diamonds with which he bought their safety from the small nation's corrupt president. He passes his days cultivating a stunning greenhouse full of orchids and meditating on the evil acts that fill his past. For now they are safe but fate has many ways of dealing out justice.

Mouths of Illusion: Beyond the Machine Nicholas Frost, 2024-04-05

Mouths of Illusion: Beyond The Machine is a poem in 37 panels that anchors a contemporary multi media installation aligning with video sculpture and soundscapes to searingly deconstruct the nature of the ego mind our mental machine universe of language signs generating phantom meanings born of the self other relationship. Beyond the Machine lies experience alone a borderless vision of freedom. The work speaks of Manufactured Optimism our relentless meta narrative of want in bright brave utopias of choice fanned by sensory emotive intellectual lures and pacifiers of instant gratification where identities are fabricated in repeated automatising soundbite therapy mantras in ever subtler loops of self hypnosis. Massive Discontent is the result the ogre of untapped shadows upwellings of doubt ironic turnings scams and diminishing returns of the unlimited totalising project of modern rationalism wounding satires of alienation soul's dark night of victimisation. At last we say It's Up To You to birth responsibility catharsis sanity refuge in ageless truths and koans where the materialist polarising ego mind dissolves to borderless here now this awareness beyond encrusting paradigms of subject object name form time space cause flux birth death.

Recent American Art Song Keith E. Clifton, 2008-09-05

Recent American Art Song A Guide is a reference source devoted to songs with English texts by American composers written for solo voice and piano. The book focuses exclusively on art song since 1980 a substantial period largely ignored by scholars. This is the first study to examine this repertory in detail and many of the songs and composers are discussed in print for the first time. Keith E. Clifton has examined approximately 1000 songs by nearly 200 composers. Many songs employ musical idioms well beyond traditional classical styles including references to jazz musical theater rap and rock roll and several songs blur the boundaries between recital and stage works. Organized alphabetically by composer entries contain complete biographical and bibliographical information with major works and links to print resources and composer websites when available. In addition Clifton provides detailed information on the vocal range musical style and appropriate voice type for individual songs The book concludes with a full discography and bibliography as well as indexes listing the works by poet song cycle title voice type and level of difficulty The Practice of War Aparna Rao, Michael Bollig, Monika Böck, 2008-03-01 The fact is that war comes in many guises and its effects continue to be felt long after peace is proclaimed This challenges the anthropologists who write of war as participant observers Participant observation inevitably deals with the here and now with the highly specific It is only over the long view that one can begin to see the commonalities that emerge from the different forms of conflict and can begin to generalize From the Introduction More needs to be understood about the ways of war and its effects What implications does war have for people their lived in communities and larger political systems how do they cope and adjust in war situations and how do they deal with the changed world that they inhabit once peace is declared Through a series of essays that move from looking at the nature of violence to the peace processes that follow it this important book provides some answers to these questions It also analyzes those new dimensions of social interaction such as the internet which now provide a bridge between local concerns and global networks and are fundamentally altering the practices of war
