Revisiting Minjung Sunyoung Park, 2019-03-11 An epoch marking alliance of laborers students dissident intellectuals and ordinary citizens was at the heart of South Korea's transformation from a dictatorship into a vibrant democracy during the 1980s. Collectively known as the minjung, these agents of Korean democratization historically carved out an expanded role for civil society in the country's politics. In Revisiting Minjung, some of the foremost experts in 1980s Korean history literature film art and music provide new insights into one of the most crucial decades in South Korean history. Drawing from the theoretical perspectives of transnationalism post-Marxist studies intersectional feminism popular culture studies and more, the volume demonstrates how an era that is often associated with radical politics was in effect the catalyst for the subsequent flourishing of democratic and liberal values in South Korea. Revisiting Minjung brings new themes new subjectivities and new theoretical perspectives to the study of the rich ecosystem of 1980s Korean culture. Treated here is a wide array of topics including the origins of minjung ideology its critique by the right-wing minjung art and music workers literary culture women writers and the resurgence of feminism erotic cinema science fiction transnational political travels and the representations of race and queerness in 1980s popular culture. The book thus details the origins and development of some of the movements that shape cultural life in South Korea today and it does so through analyses that engage some of the most pressing debates in current scholarship in Korea and abroad. Rediscovering Korean Cinema Sangjoon

Lee, 2019-12-12 South Korean cinema is a striking example of non-Western contemporary cinematic success. Thanks to the increasing numbers of moviegoers and domestic films produced, South Korea has become one of the world's major film markets. In 2001, the South Korean film industry became the first in recent history to reclaim its domestic market from Hollywood and continues to maintain around a 50 percent market share today. High-quality South Korean films are increasingly entering global film markets and connecting with international audiences in commercial cinemas and art theatres and at major international film festivals. Despite this growing recognition of the films themselves, Korean cinema's rich heritage has not heretofore received significant scholarly attention in English-language publications. This groundbreaking collection of thirty-five essays by a wide range of academic specialists situates current scholarship on Korean cinema within the ongoing theoretical debates in contemporary global film studies. Chapters explore key films of Korean cinema from Sweet Dream Madame Freedom The Housemaid and The March of Fools to Oldboy The Host and Train to Busan as well as major directors such as Shin Sang-ok Kim Ki-young Im Kwon-taek Bong Joon-ho Hong Sang-soo Park Chan-wook and Lee Chang-dong. While the chapters provide in-depth analyses of particular films, together they cohere into a detailed and multidimensional presentation of Korean cinema's cumulative history and broader significance. With its historical and critical scope, abundance of new research and detailed discussion of important individual films, Rediscovering Korean Cinema is at once an accessible classroom text and a deeply informative compendium for scholars of Korean and East Asian studies.
