Environmental Decision-Making in Context Chad J. McGuire, 2017-09-25 Because of the complexity involved in understanding the environment the choices made about environmental issues are often incomplete In a perfect world those who make environmental decisions would be armed with a foundation about the broad range of issues at stake when making such decisions Offering a simple but comprehensive understanding of the critical roles science economics and values play in making informed environmental decisions Environmental Decision Making in Context A Toolbox provides that foundation The author highlights a primary set of intellectual tools from different disciplines and places them into an environmental context through the use of case study examples The case studies are designed to stimulate the analytical reasoning required to employ environmental decision making and ultimately help in establishing a framework for pursuing and solving environmental questions issues and problems They create a framework individuals from various backgrounds can use to both identify and analyze environmental issues in the context of everyday environmental problems The book strikes a balance between being a tightly bound academic text and a loosely defined set of principles It takes you beyond the traditional pillars of academic discipline to supply an understanding of the fundamental aspects of what is actually involved in making environmental decisions and building a set of skills for making those decisions Human and Ecological Risk Assessment Dennis J. Paustenbach, 2024-04-15 Understand the fundamentals of human risk assessment with this introduction and reference Human risk assessments are a precondition for virtually all industrial action or environmental regulation all the more essential in a world where chemical and environmental hazards are becoming more abundant These documents catalog potential environmental toxicological ecological or other harms resulting from a particular hazard from chemical spills to construction projects to dangerous workplaces They turn on a number of variables of which the most significant is the degree of human exposure to the hazardous agent or process Human and Ecological Risk Assessment combines the virtues of a textbook and reference work to introduce and analyze these vital documents Beginning with the foundational theory of human health risk assessment it then supplies case studies and detailed analysis illustrating the practice of producing risk assessment documents Fully updated and authored by leading authorities in the field the result is an indispensable work Readers of the second edition of Human and Ecological Risk Assessment will also find Over 40 entirely new case studies reflecting the latest in risk assessment practice Detailed discussion of hazards including air emissions contaminated food and soil hazardous waste sites and many more Case studies from multiple countries to reflect diverse international standards Human and Ecological Risk Assessment is ideal for professionals and advanced graduate students in toxicology industrial hygiene occupational medicine environmental science and all related subjects
