The Oxford Handbook of Emotion, Social Cognition, and Problem Solving in Adulthood Paul Verhaeghen, Christopher Hertzog, 2016-03-09 Over the last decade the field of socio emotional development and aging has rapidly expanded with many new theories and empirical findings emerging This trend is consistent with the broader movement in psychology to consider social motivational and emotional influences on cognition and behavior The Oxford Handbook of Emotion Social Cognition and Problem Solving in Adulthood provides the first overview of a new field of adult development that has emerged out of conceptualizations and research at the intersections between socioemotional development social cognition emotion coping and everyday problem solving This field roundly rejects a universal deficit model of aging highlighting instead the dynamic nature of socio emotional development and the differentiation of individual trajectories of development as a function of variation in contextual and experiential influences It emphasizes the need for a cross level examination from biology and neuroscience to cognitive and social psychology of the determinants of emotional and socio emotional behavior This volume also serves as a tribute to the late Freda Blanchard Fields whose thinking and empirical research contributed extensively to a life span developmental view of emotion problem solving and social cognition Its chapters cover multiple aspects of adulthood and aging presenting developmental perspectives on emotion antecedents and consequences of emotion in context everyday problem solving social cognition goals and goal related behaviors and wisdom The landmark volume in this new field The Oxford Handbook of Emotion Social Cognition and Problem Solving in Adulthood is an important resource for cognitive developmental and social psychologists as well as researchers and graduate students in the field of aging emotion studies and social psychology

Expression in Speech Mark Tatham, Katherine Morton, 2004 Human beings communicate expressively with each other in conversation now in the computer age there is a perceived need for machines to communicate expressively with humans in dialogue This title presents research examining expressive content in speech with a view to simulating expression in computer speech

Writing Emotions Ingeborg Jandl, Susanne Knaller, Sabine Schönfellner, Gudrun Tockner, 2018-07-15 After a long period of neglect emotions have become an important topic within literary studies This collection of essays stresses the complex link between aesthetic and non aesthetic emotional components and discusses emotional patterns by focusing on the practice of writing as well as on the impact of such patterns on receptive processes Readers interested in the topic will be presented with a concept of aesthetic emotions as formative both within the writing and the reading process Essays ranging in focus from the beginning of modern drama to digital formats and theoretical questions examine examples from English German French Russian and American literature Contributors include Angela Locatelli Vera N nning and Gesine Lenore Schiewer

Emotion in Language Ulrike M. Lüdtke, 2015-12-16 The miracle of children s language development and the joy of expressive language on the one hand and the vulnerability of language and the sorrow and grief caused by its distortion or even loss in people with aphasia or dementia on the other hand show us the inseparability of emotion and language in its extremes Although the emotional turn promised a paradigmatic shift from a rationalistic towards an emotion integrating conceptualization of language hardly any interdisciplinary research has focused on the interplay between emotion and language The present book covers the wide range of work on Emotion in Language with contributions from numerous disciplines in the three areas of Theory Research and Application With contributions both from well known pioneers in the area of this topic as well as from young scientists the book offers a broad range of perspectives from linguistics and language development to neurology psychology and developmental neuropsychology and to the fields of philosophy and phenomenology

Emotions, Community, and Citizenship Rebecca Kingston, Kiran Banerjee, James McKee, Yi-Chun Chien, Constantine C. Vassiliou, 2017-03-17 Emotions are at the very heart of individual and communal actions They influence our social and interpersonal behaviour and affect our perspectives on culture history politics and morality Emotions Community and Citizenship is a pioneering work that brings together scholars from an array of disciplines in order to challenge and unite the disciplinary divides in the study of emotions These carefully selected studies highlight how emotions are studied within various disciplines with particular attention to the divide between naturalistic and interpretive approaches The editors of this volume have provided a nuanced and insightful introduction and conclusion which provide not only an overarching commentary but a framework for the interdisciplinary approach to emotion studies

Consciousness & Emotion Ralph D. Ellis, Natika Newton, 2005-03-18 The papers in this volume of Consciousness Emotion Book Series are organized around the theme of enaction Enactive emotional processes are not merely the recipients of information or the passive victims of input and learning The organism first is engaged in an ongoing complex pattern of self organizational activity for the purpose of maintaining a dynamical continuity of pattern across changes of subserving micro constituents and environmental conditions making use of multiple shunt mechanisms feedback loops and other complex dynamical features Self organizational structure is used to distinguish between action and mere reaction Accordingly the papers of this volume by leading students of emotion such as Jaak Panksepp Luc Ciompi Thomas Natsoulas Farzaneh Pahlavan Michela Balconi Todd Lubart Louise Sundararajan Jordan Petersen and others address three main issues I Emotional influences on perception and thought II Agency and choice III Agency and moral value

Healing the Reason-Emotion Split Daniel S. Levine, 2020-12-29 Healing the Reason Emotion Split draws on research from experimental psychology and neuroscience to dispel the myth that reason should be heralded above emotion Arguing that reason and emotion mutually benefit our decision making abilities the book explores the idea that understanding this relationship could have long term advantages for our management of society s biggest problems Levine reviews how reason and emotion operated in historical movements such as the Enlightenment Romanticism and 1960s counterculture to conclude that a successful society would restore human connection and foster compassion in economics and politics by equally utilizing reason and emotion Integrating discussion on classic and contemporary neurological studies and using allegory the book lays out the potential for societal change through compassion and would be of interest to psychologists concerned with social implications of their fields philosophy students social activists and religious leaders The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial CC BY NC 4.0 license

Cognitive Developmental Change Andreas Demetriou, Athanassios Raftopoulos, 2005-01-06 Cognitive Developmental Change makes a fascinating contribution to the fields of developmental cognitive and educational science by bringing together a uniquely diverse range of perspectives for analysing the dynamics of change Connecting traditional Piagetian information processing and psychometric approaches with newer frameworks for the analysis of developmental change it provides the reader with an account of the latest theory and research at the time of publication The contributors to the volume all internationally respected experts were asked when writing to consider three main aspects of cognitive change Its object what changes in the mind during development its nature how does change occur and its causes why does change occur Or what are the internal and external factors responsible for cognitive change As a result chapters cover key theories of cognitive change the factors that affect change including neurological emotional and socio cultural factors and methods for measuring and modelling change     Fifty Years of the Research and theory of R.s. Lazarus Richard S. Lazarus, 2013-06-17 A collection of the articles written by the author throughout his extensive career this book achieves three goals First it reprints selected research and theory papers on stress and coping from the 1950s to the present produced by Lazarus under five rubrics his dissertation perennial epistemological issues including the revolt of the 1940s and 1950s his transition from laboratory to field research the clinical applications of stress and coping and expanding stress to the emotions Second it provides a running commentary on the origination of the issues discussed what was occurring in psychology when the work was done and where the work led in the present Third it integrates various themes about which psychologists debate vociferously often without recognizing the intellectual bases of these differences
