

The background of the cover is a photograph of a person walking away on a bridge at sunset. The person is in silhouette, wearing a heavy coat and carrying a bag. The bridge has a metal railing, and the city skyline is visible in the distance under a hazy, orange sky. The sun is low on the left, creating a strong glow and reflecting on the wet pavement.

Liberation A Novel:

Liberation Joanna Scott, 2007-09-03 Caught in a perilous divide between life and death Mrs Rundel is both a woman struggling to catch her breath and the child she was 60 years earlier who struggled to survive the violence of the liberation of Italy and experienced the everlasting innocence of first love from an enemy soldier

Popular Feminist Fiction as American Allegory J. Elliott, 2008-06-09 This book argues that popular feminist fiction provided a key means by which American culture narrated and negotiated the perceived breakdown of American progress after the 1960s It explores the intersection of two key features of late twentieth century American culture

Liberation, 1969 The Cambridge Companion to American Fiction After 1945 John N. Duvall, 2012 A comprehensive 2011 guide to the genres historical contexts cultural diversity and major authors of American fiction since the Second World War

Proceedings, American Philosophical Society (vol. 114, No. 3, 1970) , 75 Years After Partition Amit Ranjan, Farooq Sulehria, 2025-07-24 This book explores how the 1947 Partition of British India not only divided people and territories but also deepened cultural rifts in postcolonial India Pakistan and Bangladesh especially between Hindus and Muslims The colonial divide and rule strategy which intensified religious divides laid the foundation for ongoing tensions Even as the 75th anniversary of Partition approached in 2022 this cultural segregation remains prevalent Over the years mass media such as films press and television have significantly evolved in India Bangladesh and Pakistan playing a pivotal role in manufacturing disseminating and perpetuating the narrative of cultural differences based on religion These cultural platforms have gained even more influence with the rise of majoritarian nationalism in both India and Pakistan The chapters in this volume analyses how language cinema and textbooks contributed to the divide instead of bridging gaps and why unresolved questions from the Partition continue to affect the region The chapters cover the communalization of Hindi and Urdu how textbooks in India Bangladesh and Pakistan narrate Partition the role of mass media in India and Pakistan in presenting Partition and the portrayal of Partition in films across India Bangladesh and Pakistan This book is aimed at students researchers and scholars interested in postcolonial studies South Asian history cultural studies and media analysis The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of India Review

Feminism and the Postmodern Impulse Magali Cornier Michael, 1996-07-03 Analyzes the intersections between feminist politics and postmodern aesthetics as demonstrated in recent Anglo American fiction

Black Male Fiction and the Legacy of Caliban James W. Coleman, 2014-10-17 With The Tempest s Caliban Shakespeare created an archetype in the modern era depicting black men as slaves and savages who threaten civilization As contemporary black male fiction writers have tried to free their subjects and themselves from this legacy to tell a story of liberation they often unconsciously retell the story making their heroes into modern day Calibans Coleman analyzes the modern and postmodern novels of John Edgar Wideman Clarence Major Charles Johnson William Melvin Kelley Trey Ellis David Bradley and Wesley Brown He traces the Caliban legacy to early literary influences primarily

Ralph Ellison and then deftly demonstrates its contemporary manifestations This engaging study challenges those who argue for the liberating possibilities of the postmodern narrative as Coleman reveals the pervasiveness and influence of Calibanic discourse At the heart of James Coleman s study is the perceived history of the black male in Western culture and the traditional racist stereotypes indigenous to the language Calibanic discourse Coleman argues so deeply and subconsciously influences the texts of black male writers that they are unable to cast off the oppression inherent in this discourse Coleman wants to change the perception of black male writers struggle with oppression by showing that it is their special struggle with language Black Male Fiction and the Legacy of Caliban is the first book to analyze a substantial body of black male fiction from a central perspective

Homosexual Characters in YA Novels Allan A. Cuseo,1992-03 Analyzes homosexual characters from YA novels published between 1969 and 1982 aiming to assess their literary quality and determine if their image of homosexual characters is negative

The Feminist Bestseller Imelda Whelehan,2017-03-16 Imelda Whelehan provides an overview of popular women s writing from the late 1960s to the present looking at how key feminist texts such as The Women s Room Kinfolk and Fear of Flying have influenced popular contemporary fiction such as Bridget Jones Diary and Sex and the City Whelehan reconsiders the links between the politics of feminist thought action and writing and creative writing over the past 30 years and suggests that even so called post feminist writing owes an enormous debt to feminism s second wave

Rethinking the American Animal Rights Movement Emily Patterson-Kane,Michael P. Allen,Jennifer Eadie,2022-02-25 Along with Civil Rights and Women s liberation Animal Rights became one of leading social moments of the twentieth century This book critically reviews all principal contributions to the American animal rights debate by activists campaigners academics and lawyers while placing animal rights in context with other related and competing movements Rethinking the American Animal Rights Movement examines the strategies employed within the movement to advance its goals which ranged from public advocacy and legal reforms to civil disobedience vigilantism anarchism and even terrorism It summarizes key theoretical and legal frameworks that inspired those strategies as well as the ideological motivations of the movement It highlights the irreconcilable tension between moral and legal rights verses humane treatment of animals as prescribed by advocates of animal welfarism The book also looks back to the nineteenth century origins of the movement examining its appeal to a sentimentalist conception of rights standing in marked contrast with twentieth century rights theory After providing an extensive social history of the twentieth century movement the book subsequently offers a diagnosis of why it stalled at the turn of millennium in its various efforts to advance the cause of nonhuman animals This diagnosis emphasizes the often contradictory goals and strategies adopted by the movement in its different phases and manifestations across three centuries The book is unique in presenting students activists and scholars with a history and critical discussion of its accomplishments failures and ongoing complexities faced by the American animal rights movement

Book Doctor Esther Cohen,2005-02-28 Everyone wants to write a book Arlette Rosen knows this and earns her living

helping strangers with their book ideas books about Derrida and dieting books of psychic exercises a compendium of Alzheimer's jokes and of course an infinite number of books about love Enter Harbinger Singh a tax lawyer still in love with his ex wife and set on revenge who believes he can win her back by writing a book All he needs is help with the actual writing The lives of Arlette and Harbinger intertwine in unexpected ways as they meander along a path filled with writing sex movies love music and continual revelation Cohen has crafted a modern day romance and a hilarious knowing look at the troublesome process of bringing a book into the world for readers and struggling writers everywhere Literature and Culture in Modern Britain Clive Bloom, Gary Day, 2014-06-11 British culture has changed almost beyond recognition since 1956 Angry young men have been displaced by Yuppies Elvis by the Spice Girls and meat and two veg by continental cuisine What is more as the death of Diana Princess of Wales showed the British are now more famous for a trembling lower lip than a stiff upper one This volume the last in the series examines the transformations in literature and culture over the last forty years An introductory essay provides a context for the following chapters by arguing that although there have been significant changes in British life there are also profound continuities It also discusses the rise of theory and its impact on the humanities Each essay in the volume concentrates on a facet of British culture over the last half century from painting to poetry from the seriousness of the novel to the postmodern ironies of the computing age What we get from this selection is not only an informed history of the relations between literature and culture but also a lively sense of cultural change not least of which is the new found relationship between literature and other arts which ushers us into the new millennium

Geopolitics and the Anglophone Novel, 1890-2011 John Marx, 2012-04-05 Literary fiction is a powerful cultural tool for criticizing governments and for imagining how better governance and better states would work Combining political theory with strong readings of a vast range of novels John Marx shows that fiction over the long twentieth century has often envisioned good government not in Utopian but in pragmatic terms Early twentieth century novels by Joseph Conrad E M Forster and Rabindranath Tagore helped forecast world government after European imperialism Twenty first century novelists such as Monica Ali Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie Michael Ondaatje and Amitav Ghosh have inherited that legacy and continue to criticize existing policies in order to formulate best practices on a global scale Marx shows how literature can make an important contribution to political and social sciences by creating a space to imagine and experiment with social organization Feminism and the Politics of Literary Reputation Charlotte Templin, 1995 Soon after its publication in 1973 Fear of Flying brought Erica Jong immense popular success and media fame Alternately pegged sassy and vulgar Jong's novel embraced the politics of the women's liberation movement and challenged the definition of female sexuality Yet today more than twenty years and several books later literary reputation continues for the most part to elude Jong Typecast by her adversaries as a media seeking sensationalist Erica Jong has been unfairly side stepped by academia Charlotte Templin contends In this carefully researched study augmented by personal interviews with Jong Templin assembles and analyzes the medley of responses to Jong's books by reviewers critics writers academics and the media by liberals conservatives and feminists She examines the diverse opinions on the merit and relevance to contemporary life of Fear of Flying the invocation of a high culture low culture dichotomy to discredit How to Save Your Own Life the anatomy of literary success with Fanny Jong's reception in a postfeminist age and the trivialization of Jong's works that is inevitable with mass media exposure Templin also shows how antagonistic reviewers tend to identify Jong with her fictitious characters a practice more common when the author is a woman and judge her to be guilty of the sin of not being a proper woman In turn she shows how reviewers reveal something of their own values and ideological biases in their critiques and how literary reputations are built destroyed and altered over time The first book to make a detailed examination of the reputation of a woman writer Feminism and the Politics of Literary Reputation provides an excellent case study for the literary reception of women writers within a broad cultural context Templin's analysis offers valuable insight into the reception of women writers especially commercially successful women writers and dramatically illustrates the relation of literary reputation to popular appeal and cultural mores

Persuasive Fictions Anna Wilson, 2001 From Mary Wollstonecraft's novels to Thelma and Louise or the prose and films of Audre Lorde her book documents how the first reception of a feminist work whether in the 1790s or the 1990s generates a truly unpredictable history of personal and political responses among readers including the later critical interpretations that try to decide whether a text successfully resists the dominant values and powers of its culture BOOK JACKET The Feminine "No!" Todd McGowan, 2001-01-01 Attempts to understand recent changes in the canon of American literature through the aid of psychoanalytic theory

Languages Are Good for Us Sophie Hardach, 2021-01-07 This is a book about languages and the people who love them Sophie Hardach is here to guide us through the strange and wonderful ways that humans have used languages throughout history She takes us from the earliest Mesopotamian clay tablets and the book cemeteries of medieval synagogues to the first sounds a child hears in their mother's womb and their incredible capacity for language learning Along the way Hardach explores the role of trade in transmitting words across cultures and untangles riddles of hieroglyphics cuneiform and the ancient scripts of Crete and Cyprus This is a book about languages the people who love them and the linguistic threads that connect us all Impeccably researched and engagingly presented Sophie Hardach tells wonderful stories about words that have travelled vast distances in space and time to make English what it is David Bellos author of Is That a Fish in Your Ear Translation and the Meaning of Everything

Metaphor and Diaspora in Contemporary Writing J. Sell, 2012-01-06 Choose ten major contemporary diasporic writers from Abdulrazak to Zadie ask ten leading authorities to write about their use of metaphor and this is the result a timely reassertion of metaphor's unrivalled capacity to encompass sameness and difference and create understanding and empathy across boundaries of nationality race and ethnicity

From Virgin Land to Disney World, 2016-08-22 With the publication in English in 1930 of Civilization and its Discontents and its thesis that instinct and ultimately nature had been and must be forever

subordinated in order that civilization might thrive and endure Freud contributed what some contemporaries saw to the central debate of his era a debate which had long preoccupied both official American pundits and the American populace at large At the beginning of the new Millennium evidence abounds that an American debate still rages over the meaning of nature the rightful weight of instinct and the status of civilization The Millennium itself has appeared in popular and official discourses as an appropriate marker of an age in which nature is close to the edge of radical extinction and has also become more and more unreliable as a paradigm for representation and debate At the same time the contemporary tailoring of nature to postmodern needs and expectations inevitably reveals the conceptual difficulty of any possible simple opposition between nature and culture as if they were clearly distinguishable domains If nature then can clearly be seen as a discursive concept it may also be a timeless concept insofar that it has been shaped created and used at all times Every epoch age and era had its own nature with myth history and ideology as its dominant shaping forces From the Frontier to Cyberia nature has been suffering the agony of the real resurfacing in discursive strategies and demonstrating a powerful impact on American society culture and self definition The essays in this collection speak critically of the natural and examine the American debate in the many guises it has assumed over the last century within the context of major critical approaches psychoanalytical concepts and postmodern theorizing
