there has been much discussion about the effects of deindustrialization on American manufacturing While the steel and auto industries have taken up most of the spotlight the textile and apparel industries have been profoundly affected In Empty Mills Timothy Minchin provides the first book length study of how both industries have suffered since WWII and the unwavering efforts of industry supporters to prevent that decline In 1985 the textile industry accounted for one in eight manufacturing jobs and unlike the steel and auto industries more than fifty percent of the workforce was women or minorities In the last four decades over two million jobs have been lost in the textile and apparel industries alone as more and more of the manufacturing moves overseas Impeccably well researched providing information on both the history and current trends
