EVERYTHING IS CONNECTED
IN LIFE
THE POINT IS TO KNOW IT AND TO UNDERSTAND IT.

Daguerreotypes Lisa Saltzman, 2015-07-06 In the digital age photography confronts its future under the competing signs of ubiquity and obsolescence While technology has allowed amateurs and experts alike to create high quality photographs in the blink of an eye new electronic formats have severed the original photochemical link between image and subject At the same time recent cinematic photography has stretched the concept of photography and raised questions about its truth value as a documentary medium Despite this situation photography remains a stubbornly substantive form of evidence referenced by artists filmmakers and writers as a powerful emblem of truth photography has found its home in other media at precisely the moment of its own material demise By examining this idea of photography as articulated in literature film and the graphic novel Daguerreotypes demonstrates how photography secures identity for figures with an otherwise unstable sense of self Lisa Saltzman argues that in many modern works the photograph asserts itself as a guarantor of identity whether genuine or fabricated From Roland Barthes's Camera Lucida to Ridley Scott's Blade Runner W G Sebald's Austerlitz to Alison Bechdel's Fun Home we find traces of photography's fugitive subjects throughout contemporary culture Ultimately Daguerreotypes reveals how the photograph at once personal memento and material witness has inspired a range of modern artistic and critical practices Gillian Wearing and Claude Cahun Sarah Howgate, Dawn Ades, 2017-04-25 Published to accompany an exhibition held at the National Portrait Gallery London 9 March 29 May 2017 The Story of Art Without Men Katy Hessel, 2023-05-02 Instant New York Times bestseller One of Vanity Fair's Favorite Books to Gift One of PureWow's 42 Books to Gift This Year One of Kirkus's Best Books of 2023 The story of art as it's never been told before from the Renaissance to the present day with more than 300 works of art How many women artists do you know Who makes art history Did women even work as artists before the twentieth century And what is the Baroque anyway Guided by Katy Hessel art historian and founder of thegreatwomenartists discover the glittering paintings by Sofonisba Anguissola of the Renaissance the radical work of Harriet Powers in the nineteenth century United States and the artist who really invented the readymade Explore the Dutch Golden Age the astonishing work of postwar artists in Latin America and the women defining art in the 2020s Have your sense of art history overturned and your eyes opened to many artforms often ignored or dismissed From the Cornish coast to Manhattan Nigeria to Japan this is the history of art as it's never been told before Masquerade Deborah Bell, 2014-12-31 In its conventional meaning masquerade refers to a festive gathering of people wearing masks and elegant costumes But traditional forms of masquerade have evolved over the past century to include the representation of alternate identities in the media and venues of popular culture including television film the internet theater museums sports arenas popular magazines and a range of community celebrations reenactments and conventions This collection of fresh essays examines the art and function of masquerade from a broad range of perspectives From African slave masquerade in New World iconography to the familiar Guy Fawkes masks of the Occupy Wall Street movement to the branded identities created by celebrities like Madonna Beyonce and Lady Gaga the essays show how masquerade permeates modern life Therapeutic Aesthetics Maria Walsh, 2020-11-12 Therapeutic Aesthetics focuses on moving image artworks as expressive of social psychopathological symptoms that arise in a climate of neoliberal cognitive capitalism such as anxiety depression post traumatic stress disorder and burnout The book is not about engaging with art as a therapy to express personal traumas and symptoms but proposes that a selective range of contemporary moving image artworks performatively mimic the psychopathologies of cognitive capitalism in a conflictual manner Engaging with a range of philosophers and theorists including Bernard Stiegler Franco Bifo Berardi Judith Butler Félix Guattari and Eva Illouz

Maria Walsh proposes that there is no cure only provisional moments of reparation To address this idea she uses the concept of the pharmakon the Greek term for drug which means both remedy and poison Through this approach she maintains the conflict between the curative and the harmful in relation to moving image artworks by artists such as Omer Fast Liz Magic Laser Leigh Ledare Oriana Fox Gillian Wearing and Rehana Zaman As transitional spaces these artworks can enable a toleration of anxiety and conflict that may offer another kind of aesthetic self cultivation than the subjection to biopolitical governance in cognitive capitalism The Visual Culture Reader Nicholas Mirzoeff,2002 The diverse essays collected here constitute an exploration of the emerging interdisciplinary field of visual culture and examine why modern and postmodern culture place such a premium on rendering experience in visual form Video John Quin,2023-09-18 As TikTokers YouTubers and traditional artists continue to reimagine the video form this book explores the value of this medium within medical practice and patient care as well as everyday creative expression
