Hambleys Meadow

Eliakim Littell, Robert S. Littell

Hambleys Meadow:

Hambley's Meadow Cliff Shelton, 2001 When Hambley Williams sold his meadow he said It s like I was givin up part of myself Hambley s feeling for his meadow was more than nostalgia more than a desire to conserve the bountiful gifts of nature He came to the meadow when the world was too much for him and its strength flowed into him and renewed his spirit He sold it because he had to and to Lars Pederson because Lars understood and would preserve it as it had always been The sale affected the lives of many people It divided a community It brought about a re assessment of values and in the end a realization that people must be accepted for what they are not as others would have them be The story is about a community everyday folk like Hambley Williams mail carrier and veteran of the First World War people of the thirties people of the west far removed from thoughts of marching armies overseas until in Hambley s meadow a cache of the dynamite is found Mostly it is about Lars Pederson Lars acquires Hambley s meadow as part of a run down farm near Silver Sands a summer resort where nothing ever happens His neighbor land hungry and a power in the community had wanted the place for his son Bitterness develops and confrontation that has its culmination in the final chapter There is intrigue and strife barn burning and fence cutting but also the good times and Hambley s legacy the beauty and peace of the meadow Littell's Living
