Lawrence R. Frey, 2006. Adult Attachment Patterns in a Treatment Context Sarah Daniel, 2014-08-27. Attachment theory posits that the need for attachment is a life-long phenomenon that becomes especially relevant in times of crisis or trauma. When adults experience illness, accidents, assaults, psychological difficulties or losses, their attachment behavioural systems are activated, motivating them to seek help and support from family and friends and/or from helping professionals. However, the resulting request for help is affected and shaped by earlier experiences regarding the support and trustworthiness of attachment figures. Can others be trusted? Is it safe to show vulnerability? How should one behave to increase the likelihood of receiving the help needed? Adult Attachment Patterns in a Treatment Context provides an integrated introduction to the subject of adult attachment. Research into adult attachment patterns offers professional helpers a theoretically sound insight into the dynamics underlying a range of client behaviours, including some of the more puzzling and frustrating behaviours.

such as denying obvious pain or continually pushing the professional for more personal involvement Sarah Daniel shows how applying knowledge of attachment patterns to treatment settings will improve the way in which professionals engage with clients and the organization of treatments This book will be relevant to a range of helping professionals such as psychotherapists psychologists and social workers both in practice and in training Oxford Textbook of Correctional Psychiatry Robert L. Trestman, Kenneth L. Appelbaum, Jeffrey L. Metzner, 2015 This textbook brings together leading experts to provide a comprehensive and practical review of common clinical organisational and ethical issues in correctional psychiatry The Trauma Recovery Group Michaela Mendelsohn, Judith Lewis Herman, Emily Schatzow, Melissa Coco, Diya Kallivayalil, Jocelyn Levitan, 2011-06-14 Rich with expert practical guidance for therapists this book presents a time limited group treatment approach for survivors of interpersonal trauma The Trauma Recovery Group is a Stage 2 approach within Judith Herman's influential stage model of treatment It is designed for clients who have achieved basic safety and stability in present day life and who are ready to work on processing and integrating traumatic memories Vivid case examples and transcripts illustrate the process of screening selecting and orienting group members and helping them craft and work toward individualized goals while optimizing the healing power of group interactions In a convenient large size format the book includes reproducible handouts worksheets and flyers See also Group Trauma Treatment in Early Recovery by Judith Lewis Herman and Diya Kallivayalil which presents a Stage 1 approach that focuses on establishing safety stability and self care
