Handbook Of Communication And Aging Research:

Handbook of Communication and Aging Research Jon F. Nussbaum, Justine Coupland, 2004-04-12 This second edition of the Handbook of Communication and Aging Research captures the ever changing and expanding domain of aging research Since it was first recognized that there is more to social aging than demography gerontology has needed a communication perspective Like the first edition this handbook sets out to demonstrate that aging is not only an individual process but an interactive one The study of communication can lead to an understanding of what it means to grow old We may age physiologically and chronologically but our social aging how we behave as social actors toward others and even how we align ourselves with or come to understand the signs of difference or change as we age are phenomena achieved primarily through communication experiences Synthesizing the vast amount of research that has been published on communication and aging in numerous international outlets over the last three decades the book s contributors include scholars from North America and the United Kingdom who are active researchers in the perspectives covered in their particular chapter Many of the chapters work to deny earlier images of aging as involving normative decrement to provide a picture of aging as a process of development involving positive choices and providing new opportunities A recurring theme in many chapters is that of the heterogeneity of the group of people who are variously categorized as older aged elderly or over 65 The contributors review the literature analytically in a way that reveals not only current theoretical and methodological approaches to communication and aging research but also sets the future agenda This handbook will be of great interest to scholars and researchers in gerontology developmental psychology and communication and in this updated edition will continue to play a key role in the study of communication and aging conceptual and methodological ideas      Difference Matters Brenda J. Allen, 2023-01-25 This captivating book analyzes six salient categories of social identity: gender, race, social class, disability, sexuality, and age, and why difference within and between those categories matter. Brenda J. Allen provides overviews of sociohistorical developments and their impact on how people perceive and treat one another. She explains how communication constitutes social identity and explores relationships among social identity, discourse, and power dynamics. Allen's book has motivated thousands of individuals in university classes, programs, and a variety of other organizations. She offers life-changing guidance in harnessing the potential of diverse perspectives, whether to improve interpersonal relationships and workplace communication or to build a more just society. Difference Matters: Communicating Social Identity invites and induces readers to value and appreciate difference. Allen covers complex and sensitive topics with an ease that inspires others to approach potentially threatening situations with an open mind and heart. Her frank discussions of the effects of dominant belief systems on her own behaviors encourage and reassure the audience to engage in self-reflection. Difference Matters to everyone. Establishing meaningful dialogue begins with curiosity about differing perspectives, empathy for others, and cultural humility. Allen addresses the uncertainty and anxiety too often connected with difference, advises mindfulness to reveal the hidden associations connected with stereotypes, and urges proactivity to challenge and change mainstream meanings of difference. She also provides tools and techniques to help readers apply lessons learned.      Family Stories and the Life Course Michael W. Pratt, Barbara H. Fiese, 2004-04-26 Pratt, Wilfred Laurier University and Fiese, Syracuse University survey recent psychological research and theory on family stories, which are first-person accounts of personal experiences that have meaning to individuals and the family as a whole. Contributors focus on the act of telling family stories.      Lifelong Learning in Later Life Brian Findsen, Marvin Formosa, 2012-03-26 This first truly comprehensive interdisciplinary international critique of theory and practice in lifelong learning as it relates to later life is an absolute tour de force. Alexandra Withnall, Universities of Warwick and Leicester, UK. This is a book that needed to be written; it provides a most thorough and skilful analysis of a comprehensive range of contemporary literature about learning in later life from many localities and countries of the world. Peter Jarvis, Professor Emeritus, University of Surrey. Impressive in its scope, this handbook seeks to describe older learning critically within the lifelong learning literature at the same time that it makes a strong and persuasive case for taking older learning seriously in our postmodern world. Kenneth Wain, University of Malta. Lifelong Learning in Later Life is an essential handbook for a wide range of people who work alongside older adults in varied contexts. This handbook brings together both orthodox approaches to educational gerontology and fresh perspectives on important emerging issues faced by seniors around the globe. Issues discussed include the social construction of ageing, the importance of lifelong learning, policy and practice, participation in later life learning, education of marginalised groups within older communities, inter-generational learning, volunteering, and active ageing, the political economy of older adulthood, learning for better health and well-being, and the place of seniors in a learning society Brian Findsen is a professor of adult education Faculty of Education University of Waikato Hamilton New Zealand His writings are usually constructed within a social justice framework such as The Fourth Sector Adult and Community Education in Aotearoa New Zealand edited with John Benseman and Miriama Scott in 1996 and Learning later 2005 Marvin Formosa is a lecturer in the European Centre for Gerontology University of Malta Msida Malta In addition to various articles focusing on critical educational gerontology recent and forthcoming books include Social Class Dynamics in Later Life 2009 and Social Class in Later Life Power Identity and Lifestyle with Paul Higgs 2012      De-Gendering

Gendered Occupations Joanne McDowell, 2020-10-05 De Gendering Gendered Occupations brings together contributions from researchers on language and gender studies and workplace discourse to unpack and challenge hegemonic gendered norms encoded in what are traditionally considered female occupations The volume integrates a range of theoretical frameworks including conversation analysis pragmatics and interactional sociolinguistics to analyse data from such professions as primary education healthcare and speech and language therapy across various geographic contexts Through this lens the first part of the book examines men's linguistic practices with the second part offering a comparative analysis of male and female discourse The settings discussed here allow readers to gain insights into the ways in which cultural professional and gendered identity intersect for practitioners in these professions and in turn future implications for discourse around gendered professions more generally This book will be key reading for students and researchers in sociolinguistics discourse analysis gender studies cultural studies and professional discourse      Older People in a

Digitalized Society Päivi Rasi-Heikkinen, 2022-10-14 With many older people lacking adequate digital competences to support their full participation in today's digitalized society Older People in a Digitalized Society asks how is the marginalisation of older people in digital society socially constructed How can we promote older people's digital inclusion and agency      Developmental and Clinical Pragmatics Klaus P. Schneider, Elly Ifantidou, 2020-08-24 This handbook provides a comprehensive and up to date survey of a wide range of developmental and clinical issues in pragmatics Principally the contributions to this volume deal with pragmatic competence in a native language in a second or foreign language and in a selection of language disorders The topics which are covered explore questions of production and comprehension on the utterance and discourse level Topics addressed concern the acquisition and learning teaching and testing assessment and treatment of various aspects of pragmatic ability knowledge and use These include for example the acquisition and development of speech acts implicatures irony story telling and interactional competence Phenomena such as pragmatic awareness and pragmatic transfer are also addressed The disorders considered include clinical conditions pertaining to children and to adults Specifically these are among others autism spectrum disorders Down syndrome and Alzheimer's disease
