Encyclopedia of Human Development Neil J. Salkind,2006 Publisher description
Children in Custody Disputes Anna Kaldal,Agnes Hellner,Titti Mattsson,2023-12-07 This open access book explores how legal proceedings in and out of court can be matched to the complex problems underlying disputes concerning child custody residence and contact between parents It focusses in particular on Nordic experiences of in and out of court mechanisms as means of resolving custody disputes The contributors are internationally renowned and experienced researchers from the legal psychological and sociological fields who provide empirical as well as legal perspectives They examine central legal ethical and knowledge based dilemmas in custody dispute proceedings The findings speak to an international audience and suggest ways how to best realize the interests of the child It transcends disciplinary institutional and jurisdictional boundaries in search of new knowledge

Religious Rights within the Family Esther Erlings,2019-07-05 It is often asserted that A family that prays together stays together But what if a child no longer wishes to pray This book analyses the law in relation to situations where parents force their children to manifest the parental religion From thorough examination of international law it argues that unlike what is generally believed the human rights regime does not grant parents a right to impose manifestations of their religion on their children Instead the author proposes to regard coerced manifestations as a limitation on children's right to freedom of manifestation based on national laws that give parents rights at the domestic level under principles such as parental responsibility. The book focuses on two aspects of States' positive obligations in this regard: First, the obligation to provide a regulatory framework that can protect children's right to freedom of manifestation and restricts limitations to those that are proportionate or necessary in a democratic society; Second, to provide access to remedies which it is argued should consist of access to a family friendly infrastructure for dispute resolution available to parents and children in conflict over religious manifestation. Both depend heavily on the way States balance power between parents and children at the national level. The book includes three case studies and social research of jurisdictions that offer different perspectives under the principles of parental authority: France, parental responsibility, England, and parental rights, Hong Kong.

Life and Death in Private Law Kate Falconer, Kit Barker, Andrew Fell, 2024-12-26 Private law regulates life; this is self-evident, but how does it regulate death? This edited collection explores this question. Life and death are the beginning and end of the legal person, the instigator and terminator of rights, interests, and obligations. They are also the nominal separator of particular fields of law: medical law from succession law, for example. As such, they act as fault lines that can test the limit of private law principles and norms. This book explores what life and death tell us about private law and what private law can tell us about the meaning and value of life and death.

Family Mediation Howard H. Irving, 2002-10-01 It is important to understand that when a marriage is over, it is not the time for retribution and revenge, but rather the opportunity to strike out for a new life while providing for and protecting the children. This book, the first comprehensive treatment of family mediation for Chinese families, provides the knowledge and skills to achieve that objective. Throughout the book, the author discusses practical techniques for resolving family conflicts and creating parenting plans. The model described enables mediators who may be social workers, psychologists, or legal professionals to negotiate the issues in dispute so as to arrive at a settlement that is mutually acceptable and is fair and equitable to the families. Divorcing couples should also read the book because it will help them with ideas and principles leading towards amicable solutions.

Divorce and Family Mediation Jay Folberg, Ann Milne, Peter Salem, 2004-05-12 Building on the success of their groundbreaking 1988 Divorce Mediation, Folberg et al. now present the latest state of the art, comprehensive resource on family and divorce mediation. Paving the way for the field to establish its own distinct discipline and academic tradition, this authoritative volume offers chapters contributed by leading mediation researchers, trainers, and practitioners. Detailed are the theory behind mediation practice, the contemporary social and political context, and practical issues involved in mediating divorce and custody disputes with contemporary families. Authors also address intriguing questions about professional standards and where the field should go from here. A groundbreaking resource, this volume is indispensable for all mental health and legal professionals working with families in transition.

Gender Scripts in Medicine and Narrative Angela Laflen, 2010-06-09 Gender is an exciting area of current research in the medical humanities, and by combining the study of medical narratives with theories of gender and sexuality the essays in Gender Scripts in Medicine and Narrative illustrate the power of gender stereotypes to shape the way medicine is practiced and perceived The chapters of Gender Scripts in Medicine and Narrative investigate gendered perceptions and representations of healers and patients in fiction memoir popular literature poetry film television the history of science new media and visual art The fourteen chapters of Gender Scripts in Medicine and Narrative are organized into four cohesive sections These chapters investigate the impact of gender stereotypes on medical narratives from a variety of points of view considering narratives from diverse languages time periods genres and media Each section addresses some of the most pressing and provocative issues in theories of gender and the medical humanities I Gendering the Medical Gaze and Pathology II Monitoring Race through Reproduction III Rescripting Trauma and Healing and IV Medical Masculinities Along with these sections Gender Scripts Medicine and Narrative features a preface by Rita Charon MD PhD Director and Founder The Program in Narrative Medicine Columbia University a foreword by Marcelline Block and an introduction by Angela Laflen This collection takes a truly interdisciplinary look at the topic of gender and medicine and the impressive group of contributors to the anthology represent a wide range of academic fields of inquiry including medical humanities bioethics English modern languages women s studies film theory postcolonial theory art history the history of science and medicine new media studies theories of trauma among others This approach of crossing boundaries of genre and discipline makes the volume accessible to scholars who are concerned with narrative gender and or medical ethics Click here for a recent review of this title
