Liberation Theology And The Liberal Society:

Liberation Theology and the Liberal Society Michael Novak, 1987 Theologizing in Black Celucien L.

Joseph, 2020-04-15 Theologizing in Black is a creative and rigorous comparative study on black theological musings and liberative intellectual contemplations engaging the theological ethics and anthropology of both continental African theologians Tanzania Kenya Democratic Republic of the Congo and black theologians in the African Diaspora Haiti Trinidad Jamaica Antigua and Barbuda United States Using the pluralist approach to religion promoted by the philosopher of religion and theologian John Hick the book is also an attempt to bridge an important gap in the comparative study of religion Africana Studies and Liberation theology both in Africa and its diaspora The book provides an analytical framework and intellectual critique of white Christian theologians who deliberately disengage with and exclude black and Africana theologians in their theological writings and conversations From this vantage point Africana critical theology is said to be a theology of contestation as it seeks to deconstruct white supremacy in the theological enterprise This book not only articulates a rhetoric of protest about the misrepresentation and underrepresentation of the humanity of African and black people in white theological imagination it also enunciates a positive image of black humanity and congruently promulgates a constructive representation of blackness The paramount goal of Africana theological anthropology and ethics is the preservation of life and promotion of human dignity and the sheer acknowledgement that the African people and people of African descent are bearers of the image of God

Theology and Civil Society Charles Pemberton, 2017-10-23 From food banks to migrant welcome committees and community organisers to internet based campaigners civil society is central to the North Atlantic social landscape Theology and Civil Society advances our understanding of what civil society is and offers a theologically informed re imagining of our shared social life Prefaced by a foreword by the Rev Dr Rowan Williams this book explores contemporary manifestations of the kind of collective action observed in civil society since the 1800s It then examines civil society as the sum of modern associations which mediate our relationships to the market and the state but which cannot be identified fully with either the market or the state Finally three different perspectives on civil society are presented using insights from theologians such as John Milbank and Georg Hegel This is a pertinent topic for contemporary society and it is explored expertly here by an international panel of contributors As such it is an important volume for any scholar of Theology and Religious Studies and their interactions with Sociology and Politics Reconstructing the Common Good Gary J.

Dorrien, 2008-05-01 This landmark study in the history and theory of modern Christian socialism examines the work of such major figures as Rauschenbusch Tillich Moltmann Gutierrez and Miguez Bonino Dorrien argues that these theologians provide a singular context for addressing questions of freedom and totalitarianism sacralization and democratization individual autonomy and the common good He focuses on the differing conceptions of the common good that these major theorists have propounded and explicates as well their theological arguments on the relationship between the Kingdom of God and projects of historical praxis With a new Preface addressing the tumultuous events in Eastern Europe Reconstructing the Common Good develops and sustains a forceful argument for the continuing relevance of a decentralized pluralistic democratic form of socialism The Work of Inclusion Lorraine Cuddeback-Gedeon, 2022-12-29 Using ethnographic research The Work of Inclusion brings the standpoints of people with intellectual disabilities to the forefront of the theological conversation around disability inclusion grace and sin In a world shaped by interdependency developing a theological attunement to intellectual disability helps us to understand that human agency is both enabled by and limited by dependency relationships Only by recognizing the kinds of complex layers of agency seen in this ethnographic study can Christian ethics more broadly address the place of hope grace and resistance against structures of sin and injustice

South Korea's Minjung Movement Kenneth M. Wells, 1995-11-01 The minjung people's movement stood at the forefront of the June 1987 nationwide tide that swept away the military in South Korea and opened up space for relatively democratic politics a more responsible economy and new directions in culture This volume is the first in English to grapple specifically with the nature of a national development that lies at the center of the last three decades of tumult and change in South Korea Latin America And The Caribbean In The International System G. Pope Atkins, 2018-02-06 The fourth edition of this widely praised text has been thoroughly revised to reflect the evolving characteristics of the current international system that have had a dramatic effect on every aspect of international relations of Latin America and the Caribbean The original purpose of this book is unchanged It continues to provide a topically current and analytically integrated survey of the region's role in the world Still organized around the idea of Latin America and the Caribbean as a separate subsystem within the global international system the discussion gives special emphasis to complex interstate and transnational structures and processes Within this framework Atkins analyzes the foreign policies of the Latin American states themselves and those of the United States and other countries toward Latin America and the Caribbean He also looks closely at the nature and role of transnational actors in the region such as the multinational corporations the Holy See Protestant Churches transnational political parties international labor nongovernmental organizations and others He gives special attention to Latin American participation in international institutions at all levels The Liberating Pulpit Justo L. Gonzalez, Gonzalez, 2003-01-27 Catherine and Justo Gonzalez provide a valuable resource for preaching and biblical interpretation An account of liberation theology's impact on the task of preaching is offered by two historians of doctrine who are intimately aware of the need to be open to marginalized perspectives in the church Early Christian preachers had much to say on issues such as the origins and proper use of wealth the rights and duties of the poor and rich and the nature of ownership The Gonzalezes recapture this early Christian spirit offering concrete ways that the interpretation of specific biblical texts may be enriched or corrected in order to speak directly to the whole life of the whole church Often used as a text in preaching courses The Liberating Pulpit helps to clarify and to bridge the gap between those whose preaching and hermeneutics tend to be more traditional and the various minorities who tend to read Scripture in a different way

Three in One Michael Novak, 2001 Throughout his many writings Michael Novak one of the leading Catholic social theorists of our times has urged us to adopt a tripartite system of democratic capitalism including a market economy a democratic polity and a moral cultural system that would nourish the values and virtues on which free societies depend Three in One introduces the reader to Novak's portrait of democratic capitalism

Religion and Economics: Normative Social Theory J.M. Dean, A. M. C. Waterman, 2012-12-06 Normative Social Theory James M Dean and A M C Waterman University of Manitoba 1 Economics and Religion Once Again This book is a sequel to Economics and Religion Are They Distinct Brennan and Waterman 1994 That volume was motivated by a frustration born of many disappointing encounters between economists and theologians in the 1980s Can bishops synods and other voices of organized religion bring any interesting and disinterested contribution to the public policy debate If so what is the relation of their contribution to that of the purely secular knowledge economists believe they can supply Can economists bring any interesting and disinterested contribution to the public policy debate If so what is the relation of their contribution to the fundamental values that inform social ethics and that are still guarded to a large extent by religious tradition All too often the two sides talked at cross purposes Well intentioned economists coexisted for a few hours or days with well intentioned theologians whose manner of conceiving social reality was radically incompatible with their own There seemed to be no common ground The first requisite of any genuine conversation is an agreed conceptual framework that is able to accommodate the peculiar social vision both of the economist and of theologian and to display the logical relation between the two

Wright, 2005-11-01 For the pastor or serious layperson the realm of biblical interpretation can be a confusing maze of personalities communities methods and theories This maze can often result in obscuring the main goal of interpreting Scripture hearing and knowing God better The Dictionary for Theological Interpretation of the Bible is a groundbreaking reference tool that introduces readers to key names theories and concepts in the field of biblical interpretation It discusses these approaches and evaluates their helpfulness in enabling Christians to hear what God is saying to the church through Scripture The contributors come from a variety of backgrounds and the dictionary covers a broad range of topics with both clarity and depth

The Gift of Difference Chris K. Huebner, Tripp York, 2018-07-10 what I gather from the excellent essays in the current volume is that modern Mennonites would tend to say that they offer not the path of misguided purism not the illusion of beautiful souls but rather their own middle way between apoliticism and political compromise This is because as they rightly say they see the Church itself as the true polity and unlike most of the magisterial Reformation they see the possibility of living beyond the law in terms of a new sort of social and political practice John Milbank University of Nottingham from the Foreword What hath the Radical Reformation to do with Anglo Catholics especially Anglicans who have a lingering penchant for Christendom The answer from this book a lot more than you might expect Huebner and York have staged a mutually critical interaction between Radical Orthodoxy and Mennonite theology illuminating both as a result James K A Smith Calvin College author of Introducing Radical Orthodoxy editor of Radical Orthodoxy and the Reformed Tradition This book is breath of fresh air Retrieving central themes of classical theology it is both faithful to tradition and innovative offering a third way between liberalism and conservatism one which sees theology as critical for public life without privatizing Christianity on the one hand or slipping into Constantinianism on the other A James Reimer Conrad Grebel University College author of Mennonites and Classical Theology Dogmatic Foundations for Christian Ethics The Dogmatic Imagination The Dynames of Christian Belief Religion in Public and Private Life (Routledge Revivals) Clarke E. Cochran, 2014-06-27 Religious crosses the spheres of both the private life and the public institution In a liberal democracy public and private interests and goals prove to be inseparable Clarke Cochran s interdisciplinary study brings political theory and the sociology of religion together in a fresh interpretation of liberal culture First published in 1990 this analysis begins with a reassessment of the nature of the public and the private in relation to the political The controversy over religion and politics is examined in light of such contested issues of political life as sexuality abortion and the changing nature of the family Clarifying a number of debates central to contemporary society this timely reissue will be of particular value to students with an interest in the relationship between religious society and politics Pathologies of Power Paul Farmer, 2004-11-22 Pathologies of Power uses harrowing stories of illness of life and death in extreme situations to interrogate our understanding of human rights Paul Farmer a physician and anthropologist with twenty years of experience studying diseases in Haiti Peru and Russia argues that promoting the social and economic rights of the world s poor is the most important human rights struggle of our times A thoughtful memoir with passionate eyewitness accounts from the prisons of Russia and the beleaguered villages of Haiti and Chiapas this book links the lived experiences of individual victims to a broader analysis of structural violence Farmer challenges conventional thinking within human rights circles and exposes the relationships between political and economic injustice on one hand and the suffering and illness of the powerless on the other Farmer shows that the same social forces that give rise to epidemic diseases such as HIV and tuberculosis also sculpt risk for human rights violations He illustrates the ways that racism and gender inequality in the United States are mirrored in pathology plague disease and death Yet this doctor s autobiography is far from a hopeless inventory of human suffering Farmer s disturbing examples are linked to a guarded optimism that new medical and social technologies will develop in tandem with a more informed sense of social justice Otherwise he concludes we will be guilty of managing social inequality

rather than addressing structural violence Farmer s urgent plea to think about human rights in the context of global public health and to consider critical issues of quality and access for the world s poor should be of fundamental concern to pathologists medical students and humanitarians in a world characterized by the bizarre proximity of surfeit and suffering

Religion without Ulterior Motive Borght,2007-03-31 The awareness of the potential for abuse of religion has risen dramatically in the West since 9 11 We all seem to agree that the abuse of religion should be averted and condemnation of the abuse of religion is almost universal Bram van de Beek systematic theologian at Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam has radicalised this discourse by claiming that religion should not be allied to any cause not even to a good cause He illustrates this by the way theology has been instrumentalized within the Reformed tradition in e g apologetic theology liberation theology theocracy and pietism His thesis provokes fervent discussions Twelve prominent theologians react on issues such as public theology evangelical activism Christian life the relevance of reasons for faith the unity of the church and contextualization of religion in various parts of the world At stake is the assertion that precisely religion without ulterior motive is the best guarantee for relevant religion

Tensions in Christian Ethics Malcolm Brown,2011-01-01 The book draws on the author s teaching of ethics at undergraduate and postgraduate level for the Cambridge Theological Federation since 2000 Its purpose is to introduce the reader to questions in Christian ethics through a careful examination of the fundamental meta ethical questions posed by the state we re in whether understood as a new phase of modernity or as postmodernity Brown draws on sources and authors from a variety of Christian traditions and from Britain the U S A and Europe The book will be of use not only to university departments and denominational and ecumenical teaching institutions but also as a more general exposition of the current state of ethical thinking in the Christian churches
