Turning Points and Transformations Christine DeVine, 2011-07-12 From the Irish Cailleach and other shape shifters of folk legends to modern movie transformers from Ovid s Metamorphoses to the moment when Gregor Samsa woke up one morning to find himself transformed into an insect in Kafka s novella from conversion narratives to slave narratives turning points and transformations have always been central to literary works and to cultural developments In fact with Freytag s pyramid in mind one could claim that all literary works focus on the trope of a transformation born of a turning point because such moments comprise the very essence and vitality of human life and culture But why are turning points necessarily transformational and in what way And what brings about those turning points in language literature culture and human lives These are essentially the questions the essays in this volume seek to answer The contributors examine turning points and transformations personal literary and cultural brought about through the randomness of the universe as well as through human interference and discuss ways in which humans in general and writers in particular through their art experience and cope with the ineluctable results

Death, Society and Human Experience (1-download) Robert Kastenbaum, 2015-07-22 Providing an understanding of the relationship with death both as an individual and as a member of society This book is intended to contribute to your understanding of your relationship with death both as an individual and as a member of society Kastenbaum shows how individual and societal attitudes influence both how and when we die and how we live and deal with the knowledge of death and loss Robert Kastenbaum is a renowned scholar who developed one of the world s first death education courses and introduced the first text for this market This landmark text draws on contributions from the social and behavioral sciences as well as the humanities such as history religion philosophy literature and the arts to provide thorough coverage of understanding death and the dying process Learning Goals Upon completing this book readers should be able to Understand the relationship with death both as an individual and as a member of society See how social forces and events affect the length of our lives how we grieve and how we die Learn how dying people are perceived and treated in our society and what can be done to provide the best possible care Master an understanding of continuing developments and challenges to hospice palliative care Understand what is becoming of faith and doubt about an afterlife

Enrico; or, Byzantium Conquered Lucrezia Marinella, 2009-09-15 Lucrezia Marinella 1571 1653 is by all accounts a phenomenon in early modernity a woman who wrote and published in many genres whose fame shone brightly within and outside her native Venice and whose voice is simultaneously original and reflective of her time and culture In Enrico or Byzantium Conquered one of the most ambitious and rewarding of her numerous narrative works Marinella demonstrates her skill as an epic poet Now available for the first time in English translation Enrico retells the story of the conquest of Byzantium in the Fourth Crusade 1202 04 Marinella intersperses historical events in her account of the invasion with numerous invented episodes drawing on the rich imaginative legacy of the chivalric romance Fast moving colorful and narrated with the zest that characterizes Marinella s other works this poem is a great example of a woman engaging critically with a quintessentially masculine form and subject matter writing in a genre in which the work of women poets was typically shunned

Selected Philosophical and Scientific Writings Emilie Du Châtelet, 2009-09-15 Though most historians remember her as the mistress of Voltaire Emilie Du Châtelet 1706 49 was an accomplished writer in her own right who published multiple editions of her scientific writings during her lifetime as well as a translation of Newton s Principia Mathematica that is still the standard edition of that work in French Had she been a man her reputation as a member of the eighteenth century French intellectual elite would have been assured In the 1970s feminist historians of science began the slow work of recovering Du Châtelet s writings and her contributions to history and philosophy For this edition Judith P Zinsser has selected key sections from Du Châtelet s published and unpublished works as well as related correspondence part of her little known critique of the Old and New Testaments and a treatise on happiness that is a refreshingly uncensored piece of autobiography making all of them available for the first time in English The resulting volume will recover Châtelet s place in the pantheon of French letters and culture

An Introduction to Literature, Criticism and Theory Andrew Bennett, Nicholas Royle, 2016-03-02 Lively original and highly readable An Introduction to Literature Criticism and Theory is the essential guide to literary studies Starting at The Beginning and concluding with The End chapters range from the familiar such as Character Narrative and The Author to the more unusual such as Secrets Pleasure and Ghosts Now in its fifth edition Bennett and Royle s classic textbook successfully illuminates complex ideas by engaging directly with literary works so that a reading of Jane Eyre opens up ways of thinking about racial difference for example while Chaucer Raymond Chandler and Monty Python are all invoked in a discussion of literature and laughter The fifth edition has been revised throughout and includes four new chapters Feelings Wounds Body and Love to incorporate exciting recent developments in literary studies In addition to further reading sections at the end of each chapter the book contains a comprehensive bibliography and a glossary of key literary terms A breath of fresh air in a field that can often seem dry and dauntingly theoretical this book will open the reader's eyes to the exhilarating possibilities of reading and studying literature

Forced Passages Dylan Rodr U'guez, With the US having the highest incarceration rate in the world prisons have become sites of radical political discourse and resistance Dylan Rodriguez examines the work of a number of imprisoned intellectuals such as Angela Davis and Leonard Peltier and looks at how imprisonment has shaped their writing
