

A black and white photograph of a large crowd of men, likely shipyard workers, in the foreground. They are wearing various types of hats and work clothes. In the background, the large, curved hull of a ship is visible, with a large circular porthole or hatch cover. The scene is set in a shipyard or dock area.

Life At Lairds Memories Of Working Shipyard Men:

Life at Lairds William David Roberts,1992 Crossing the Bar Anthony Slaven,Hugh Murphy,2017-10-18 This book is a collection of sixty interviews with key figures in British shipbuilding ship repair and marine engine building industries across the United Kingdom plus government and civil service members in the sector from the 1960s to the 1980s The aim of the project is to understand the economic social and political environment of the shipping industry from the perspective of those who worked in it The interviews place the twentieth century decline of British shipbuilding into a firm context The topics covered include international competition a recurring pertinent theme labour difficulties industry modernisation the attitude of shipowners the strong belief in traditional methods which kept many of those in the industry from recognising the cheaper faster and better quality work taking place overseas and leaving Britain behind ship production and production control the postwar boom shipyard overcrowding the decline of the domestic industry in favour of the international marketing weaknesses trade disputes and trade unions and nationalisation and privatisation concerns Opinions and viewpoints often conflict particularly between the perspectives of those working within the industry and the civil servants working outside of it but the interviews are presented as a unit and the reader is encouraged to draw their own conclusion The result is a unique historical archive that offers a multitude of firsthand perspectives on the British shipping decline open to interpretation by historians and future researchers It includes a preface introduction and select bibliography The interviews are grouped together by location and role Sixteen Decades in Wallasey Roy Dutton,2013-04-01

Reminiscences of New Brighton and Liverpool The constant procession of ocean going liners up and down the Mersey was a real spectacle Wallasey has eight miles of promenade fringed by golden sands with children s talent contests Joytime in Vale Park The Tower Grounds rides skating and a figure of eight We even had a circus and a zoo The New Palace indoor amusement park was the largest in England Tommy Mann s miniature railway operated in the Tower Grounds next to the Promenade Trips on the Royal Iris the ferries and a magnificent pier And don t forget the largest outdoor swimming pool in Europe What a place to grow up in It was my Disneyland and on my very own doorstep Tracing Your Liverpool

Ancestors Mike Royden,2010-03-10 Tracing Your Liverpool Ancestors gives a fascinating insight into everyday life in the Liverpool area over the past four centuries Aimed primarily at the family and social historian Mike Royden s highly readable guide introduces readers to the wealth of material available on the citys history and its people In a series of short information packed chapters he describes in vivid detail the rise of Liverpool through shipping manufacturing and trade from the original fishing village to the cosmopolitan metropolis of the present day Throughout he concentrates on the lives of the local people on their experience as Liverpool developed around them He looks at their living conditions at poverty and the laboring poor at health and the ravages of disease at the influence of religion and migration at education and the traumatic experience of war He shows how the lives of Liverpudlians changed over the centuries and how this is reflected in the records that have survived His useful book is a valuable tool for anyone researching the history of the city or the life of an individual ancestor

Crude Britannia James Marriott, Terry Macalister, 2021-05-20 Dripping with delicious detail Aditya Chakraborty Taking the reader on a journey through North East Scotland Merseyside South Wales the Thames Estuary and London this is the story of Britain's oil soaked past present and future Travelling the country the authors discover how the financial power and political muscle of an industry built the culture of a nation from pop music to kitchen appliances and how companies constructed an empire extracting the wealth of the world from Iran to Nigeria and Alaska Today the tide seems to be going out Britain's refineries have been quietly closed the North Sea oilfields are declining and wind farms are being built in their place As the country painfully shifts into its new post industrial role in the shadow of Covid Brexit and the climate crisis many believe the age of oil to be over But is it Speaking to oil company executives and traders as well as refinery workers filmmakers and musicians activists and politicians the authors put real people at the heart of a compelling story
