Forgotten Rocket:

A Forgotten Offensive Christina J.M. Goulter, 2014-01-14 The forgotten offensive of the title is RAF Coastal Command's offensive against German sea trade between 1940 and 1945. The fortunes of the campaign are followed throughout the war and its success is then evaluated in terms of the shipping sunk and the impact on the German economy. India's Forgotten Rocket Pioneer Gurbir Singh, 2020-04-12 During 1934 and 1944 in Calcutta Stephen Smith worked alone and unsupported on developing rocket transport. In 1935 he was the first to demonstrate the successful transport by a rocket of livestock food and medicine. This book charts the story of Stephen H. Smith described by a contemporary as the greatest one man campaign for rocketry. He dedicated his life working alone in northeast India to develop a new revolutionary means of transport using only rocket power. The development of rockets in India is commonly understood to have ended with Tipu Sultan in 1799 and started again in 1963 with what is now called the Indian Space Research Organisation. However in the intervening period rockets were built and championed by one man working alone in Calcutta. In 1925 he set up the Indian Air Mail Society and it is amongst the global philatelic community where his work is still known but is almost entirely forgotten from the popular imagination in India. On 14 February 1891 Stephen H. Smith, the only son of a tea plantation manager originally from Norfolk, England was born in the Strawberry Hill region of Shillong. Between 1934 and 1944 he conducted over 200 rocket experiments to demonstrate the utility of a rocket as a means of transport. Small self-funded groups to develop rockets were established in USSR, USA, Britain, Australia and Germany. It was from these groups that Sergei Korolev and Wernher von Braun emerged and competed in the epic space race that resulted in Sputnik, Gagarin and Apollo 11. Stephen H. Smith was their contemporary but worked alone and unsupported in India. Long after he had died he was inducted into the Hall of Fame by the American Airmail Society in 1989. In 1992, a year after the centenary of his birth, the Indian government celebrated his achievements by issuing a stamp and a first day cover dedicated to his work. Today his work is found in official NASA publications, the Journal of the British Interplanetary Society and in the National Air and Space Museum. This new study of his contacts with the King of Sikkim, King George V, with a member of parliament in London and a 25-year long correspondence with a Swiss philatelist reveal in his own words his struggle to attain recognition and support for his work. His reluctant attempt to work with the military authorities in India during World War II ended in frustration. His multiple attempts in 1949 to contact the Governor of Bengal and Prime Minister Nehru in the newly independent India failed to generate a response. Darmenzi Duth Olec, 2018-01-09 An anxious bundle of nerves must save the world from an authoritative conqueror and a manipulative force of chaos. One year ago The Conqueror died, his plans stopped by three unassuming slugs. The hapless hero Numer hoped to return to a quiet life after saving his world. He was even building the courage to admit his love to Cherry. But everything goes awry when an ancient demon is released from their prison and shatters the ancient crystal that had imprisoned them. As if that's not enough, The Conqueror survived and he's taking matters into his own tentacles Leading a band of ridiculous agents Conrad aims to take the ancient crystal to power his invasion force But not everything is as it seems Just what is the extent of this demon s power And what s with these giant beasts that keep appearing It will not be so simple to save the world this time around A sequel to Slubers the manic presenter Duth Olec pulls readers and narrator Wally Plotch into another high stakes and humorous story Spacecraft Technology Mark Williamson,2006-02-23 This book covers the development of space technology in the late 1950s and 1960s from the launch of Sputnik 1 in October 1957 to the landing of men on the moon in 1969 The text begins by looking at the challenge of getting into space and the development of the launch of the space launch vehicle and moves on to discussion of unmanned satellites and spaceprobes and the first capsules deployed in Earth orbit and the Apollo missions to the moon We Forgot Pam Holden,2020-12-07 Do you forget things sometimes Have you ever forgotten your hat Do you ever forget to take your lunch to school What else do you forget Forgotten People, Forgotten Times V.H. Czysz, Claudio Bruno, 2006-09-19 In Future Spacecraft Propulsion Systems the authors demonstrate the need to break free from the old established concepts of expendable rockets using chemical propulsion and to develop new breeds of launch vehicle capable of both launching payloads into orbit at dramatically reduced cost and for sustained operations in low Earth orbit The next steps they explain to establishing a permanent presence in the solar system beyond Earth are the commercialisation of sustained operations on the Moon and the development of advanced nuclear or high energy space propulsion systems for solar system exploration out to the boundary of interstellar space In the future high energy particle research facilities may one day yield a very high energy propulsion system that will take us to the nearby stars or even beyond This is a timely and comprehensive book putting spacecraft propulsion systems in perspective
