Mizoguchi, P. Dillenbourg, Z. Zhu, 2006-11-15 A major theme of this book is the use of computers for supporting collaborative learning This is not surprising since computer supported collaborative learning has become both a widespread educational practice and a main domain of research Moreover collaborative learning has deep roots in Asian educational traditions Given the large number of researchers within this field its scope has become very broad Under this umbrella one finds a variety of more specific topics such as interaction analysis collaboration scripts e g the Jigsaw script communities of practice sociocognitive conflict resolution cognitive apprenticeship various tools for argumentation online discussion or collaborative drawing tools whiteboards collaborative writing and the role of facilitators Most research work on collaborative learning focuses on interactions rather than on the contents of environments which had been the focus in the previous decades of learning technology research However there is no reason to focus on one aspect to the detriment of the other The editors are pleased that the selected papers also cover multiple issues related to the storage representation and retrieval of knowledge ontologies for learning environments and the semantic web knowledge bases and data mining meta data and content management systems and so forth This publication also reveals a growing interest for non verbal educational material namely pictures and video materials which are already central to new popular web based applications This book includes contributions that bridge both research tracks the one focusing on interactions and the other on contents the pedagogical use of digital portfolios both for promoting individual reflections and for scaffolding group interactions Shaping the

Canons of Ancient Greek Historiography Ivan Matijašić, 2018-08-06 The main focus of this book is the ancient formation and development of the canons of Greek historiography It takes a fresh look on the modern debate on canonical literature and deals with Greek historiographical traditions in the works of ancient rhetors and literary critics Writings on historiography by Cicero Quintilian and Dionysius of Halicarnassus are chiefly taken into account to explore the canons of Greek historians in Hellenistic and Roman Imperial Ages Essential in canon formation was the concept of classicism which took shape in the Age of Augustus but whose earlier developments can be traced back to Isocrates a model rhetor according to Dionysius at the end of the 1st century BC The analysis explores also late antique authors of school treatises and progymnasmata a field where historiography had a pedagogical function Previous studies on canonical literature have rarely considered historiography This book examines not only the works of ancient historians and their legacy but also the relationship between historiography literary criticism and the rhetorical tradition American Book Publishing Record Cumulative, 1950-1977 R.R. Bowker Company. Department of Bibliography, 1978 To Each Its Own Meaning, Revised and Expanded Steven L. McKenzie, Stephen R. Haynes, 1999-07-01 This volume introduces the reader to the most important methods of biblical criticism It serves as an indispensable handbook for the work of students approaching biblical studies for the first time and for the professional interpreter of scripture who wants to understand the latest currents in biblical scholarship American Publishers' Circular and Literary Gazette ,1858 The Literary World ,1848 Norton's Literary Gazette and Publishers' Circular ,1855 Forthcoming Books Rose Arny, 2003 The Communicative Mind Line Brandt, 2013-11-04 Integrating research in linguistics philosophy semiotics neurophenomenology and literary studies The Communicative Mind presents a thought provoking and multifaceted investigation into linguistic meaning construction It explores the various ways in which the intersubjectivity of communicating interactants manifests itself in language structure and use and argues for the indispensability of dialogue as a semantic resource in cognition The view of the mind as highly conditioned by the domain of interpersonal communication is supported by an extensive range of empirical linguistic data from fiction poetry and written and spoken everyday language including rhetorically creative metaphors and metonymies The author introduces Cognitive Linguistics to the notion of enunciation which refers to the situated act of language use and demonstrates the centrality of subjectivity and turn taking interaction in natural semantics The theoretical framework presented takes contextual relevance viewpoint shifts dynamicity and the introduction into discourse of elements with no real world counterparts subjective motion fictivity and other forms of non actuality to be vital components in the construction of meaning The book engages the reader in critical discussions of cognitive linguistic approaches to semantic construal and addresses the philosophical implications of the identified strengths and limitations Among the theoretical advances in what Brandt refers to as the cognitive humanities is Fauconnier and Turner s theory of conceptual integration of mental spaces which has proved widely influential in Cognitive Poetics and Linguistics offering a philosophy of language bridging the gap between pragmatics and semantics With its constructive criticism of the general mechanism hypothesis according to which blending can explain everything from the origin of language to binding in perception Brandt s book brings the scope and applicability of Conceptual Integration Theory into the arena of scientific debate The book contains five main chapters entitled Enunciation Aspects of Subjectivity in Meaning Construction The Subjective Conceptualizer Non actuality in Construal Conceptual Integration in Semiotic Meaning Construction Meaning Construction in Literary Text and Effects of Poetic Enunciation Seven Types of Iconicity The Palgrave Handbook of Educational Thinkers Brett A.
