International Who's Who in Poetry 2004 Europa Publications,2003 Provides up to date profiles on the careers of leading and emerging poets A Companion to Twentieth-Century Poetry Neil Roberts,2008-06-09 In the twentieth century more people spoke English and more people wrote poetry than in the whole of previous history and this Companion strives to make sense of this crowded poetical era The original contributions by leading international scholars and practising poets were written as the contributors adjusted to the idea that the possibilities of twentieth century poetry were exhausted and finite However the volume also looks forward to the poetry and readings that the new century will bring The Companion embraces the extraordinary development of poetry over the century in twenty English speaking countries a century which began with a bipolar transatlantic connection in modernism and ended with the decentred heterogeneity of post colonialism Representation of the canonical and the marginal is therefore balanced including the full integration of women poets and feminist approaches and the in depth treatment of post colonial poets from various national traditions Discussion of context intertextualities and formal approaches illustrates the increasing self consciousness and self reflexivity of the period whilst a Readings section offers new readings of key selected texts The volume as a whole offers critical and contextual coverage of the full range of English language poetry in the last century Poetry Review Stephen Phillips,Galloway Kyle,1998 Ars

Interpres: An International Journal of Poetry, Translation and Art: No. 4 - 5 Alexander Deriev,2005 The Selling and Self-Regulation of Contemporary Poetry J.T. Welsch,2020-03-31 The Selling and Self Regulation of Contemporary Poetry is the first book length study of the contemporary poetry industry By documenting radical changes over the past decade in the way poems are published sold and consumed it connects the seemingly small world of poetry with the other wider creative industries In reassessing an art form that has been traditionally seen as free from or even resistant to material concerns the book confronts the real pressures and real opportunities faced by poets and publishers in the wake of economic and cultural shifts since 2008 The changing role of anthologies prizes and publishers are considered alongside new technologies new arts policy and re conceptions of poetic labour Ultimately it argues that poetry s continued growth and diversification also leaves individuals with more responsibility than ever for sustaining its communities The Poetry of Ted Hughes Sandie Byrne,2014-08-15 This Reader s Guide charts the reception history of Ted Hughes poetry from his first to last published collection culminating in posthumous tributes and assessments of his lifetime achievement Sandie Byrne explores the criticism relating to key issues such as nature myth the Laureateship and Hughes relationship with Sylvia Plath

Rachel Falconer, 2018-11-30 Analyses media representations of riots strikes and protests Poetry's Data Meredith Martin, 2025-04-22 In this book Meredith Martin presents a historical account of prosodic criticism and through the example of her own research path argues for new scholarly practices in literary studies and the humanities more broadly Challenging the common scholarly practice of emphasizing one critical narrative one pathway through history or one author's reading the book traces three arcs the effects of the major shift in the late twentieth century from print based to digital resources in scholarship with the emergence of the World Wide Web Martin's experience as a scholar who coordinated a digital project about the history of the study of poetry which led to the creation of the Princeton Prosody Archive and the founding of Princeton's Center for Digital Humanities CDH and the mix of computational and aesthetic elements in the study of prosody including the study of versification and meter in the broader context of English literary study as a discipline Across these three arcs Martin argues that scholars must take seriously the idea of digital media as mediation through which textual forms are transformed into data and delivered to us via data structures and that our reading of historical texts in digital forms must reckon with these mediations She also demonstrates the connection between the intellectual labor of studying prosody or any historical object and the intellectual labor of fostering a collaborative research process This is a book she writes about the shifting grounds of knowledge production in the digital age and how we might situate ourselves amid these shifts by returning to of all things poetry
