Aggregate Architectural History Collaborative,2022-04-25 This extensive text investigates how architects planners and other related experts responded to the contexts and discourses of development after World War II Development theory did not manifest itself in tracts of economic and political theory alone It manifested itself in every sphere of expression where economic predicaments might be seen to impinge on cultural factors Architecture appears in development discourse as a terrain between culture and economics in that practitioners took on the mantle of modernist expression while also acquiring government contracts and immersing themselves in bureaucratic processes This book considers how for a brief period architects planners structural engineers and various practitioners of the built environment employed themselves in designing all the intimate spheres of life but from a consolidated space of expertise Seen in these terms development was to cite Arturo Escobar an immense design project itself one that requires radical disassembly and rethinking beyond the umbrella terms of global modernism and colonial modernities which risk erasing the sinews of conflict encountered in globalizing and modernizing architecture Encompassing countries as diverse as Israel Ghana Greece Belgium France India Mexico the United States Venezuela the Philippines South Korea Sierra Leone Singapore Turkey Cyprus Iraq Zambia and Canada the set of essays in this book cannot be considered exhaustive nor a field guide in the traditional sense Instead it offers theoretical reflections from the field based on extensive archival research This book sets out to examine the arrays of power resources technologies networking and knowledge that cluster around the term development and the manner in which architects and planners negotiated these thickets in their multiple capacities as knowledge experts as technicians as negotiators and as occasional authorities on settlements space domesticity education health and every other field where arguments for development were made New Architecture and Urbanism

Saswati Chetia,Deependra Prashad,2010-01-08 This book on New Architecture and Urbanism Development of Indian Traditions builds on the contributions from various architects planners educationists decision makers others from across the world who gathered together to create a forum for the promotion of traditional processes and techniques for the creation of the built environment This forum was initiated by INTBAU India The International Network for Traditional Building Architecture and Urbanism in India and supported by The Nabha Foundation This book presents the arguments axioms and case studies related to Traditional Architecture and Urbanism in a sequential format Firstly it examines the New ways of looking at Heritage by separating it from pure history into a living and evolving process The book looks at what defines traditional methods and their relevance to the contemporary context It also examines the aspects of Continuity and Contextual frameworks in the built environment The section on Sustainable Buildings Places and Communities explores the many facets of locally driven processes from the viewpoint of tradition and sustainability These include many community based planning methods and their applications in shaping the built environment aspects of environmental sustainability and on how appropriateness could be ingrained into current architectural education Lastly the book delves into a number of executed examples in architecture seeking to learn from tradition and examples in place making urbanism which in turn promotes humane walkable and connected neighbourhoods

Adventures with the Theory of the Baroque and French Philosophy Nadir Lahiji, 2016-09-22 Analysing the reception of contemporary French philosophy in architecture over the last four decades Adventures with the Theory of the Baroque and French Philosophy discusses the problematic nature of importing philosophical categories into architecture Focusing particularly on the philosophical notion of the Baroque in Gilles Deleuze this study examines traditional interpretations of the concept in contemporary architecture theory throwing up specific problems such as the aestheticization of building theory and practice Identifying these and other issues Nadir Lahiji constructs a concept of the baroque in contrast to the contemporary understanding in architecture discourse Challenging the contemporary dominance of the Neo Baroque as a phenomenon related to postmodernism and late capitalism he establishes the Baroque as a name for the paradoxical unity of kitsch and high art and argues that the digital turn has enhanced the return of the Baroque in contemporary culture and architectural practice that he brands a pseudo event in the term neobaroque Lahiji's original critique expands on the misadventure of architecture with French Philosophy and explains why the category of the Baroque if it is still useful to keep in architecture criticism must be tied to the notion of Post Rationalism Within this latter notion he draws on the work of Alain Badiou to theorize a new concept of the Baroque as Event Alongside close readings of Walter Benjamin Theodor Adorno and Michel Foucault related to the criticism of the Baroque and Modernity and discussions of the work of Frank Gehry in particular this study draws on Jacques Lacan's concept of the baroque and presents the first comprehensive treatment of the psychoanalytical theory of the Baroque in the work of Lacan Hints and Suggestions on School Architecture and Hygiene John George Hodgins, 1886 The Open Group Architecture Framework TOGAF
