The Criminological Foundations of Penal Policy Lucia Zedner, Andrew Ashworth, 2003

The Criminological Foundations of Penal Policy brings together leading international criminologists to examine the link between the fruits of criminological research and the development of criminal justice policy. This volume includes comparative discussions of the United States, Germany, Australia, England, and Wales. It is divided into four parts. Part 1 discusses the theoretical issues surrounding the relationship between public policy and the discipline of criminology. Part 2 consists of three essays exploring historical aspects of that relationship. Part 3 then examines three distinct areas of penal policy: sentencing, policing, and parole, as case studies of the influence of research upon the development of policy. Finally, in Part 4, which is explicitly devoted to international comparisons, there is a consideration of the factors that distinguish research projects that do influence criminal justice policy from those that appear not to.

The Criminological Foundations of Penal Policy is a volume in honour of Roger Hood, Professor of Criminology and Director of the Centre for Criminological Research in the University of Oxford.

Forensic Science Christopher Lawless, 2016-02-05

This book addresses a significant gap in the literature and provides a comprehensive overview of the sociology of forensic science. Drawing on a wealth of international research and case studies, this book explores the intersection of science, technology, law, and society and examines the production of forensic knowledge. This book explores a range of key topics such as: The integration of science into police work and criminal investigation; The relationship between law and science; Ethical and social issues raised by new forensic technology, including DNA analysis; Media portrayals of forensic science; Forensic policy and the international agenda for forensic science. This book is important and compelling reading for students taking a range of courses including criminal investigation, policing, forensic science, and the sociology of science and technology.
