An Encyclopedic Dictionary of Women in Early American Films Denise Lowe, 2014-01-27 Examine women's contributions to film in front of the camera and behind it An Encyclopedic Dictionary of Women in Early American Films 1895-1930 is an A to Z reference guide illustrated with over 150 hard-to-find photographs that dispels the myth that men dominated the film industry during its formative years. Denise Lowe, author of Women and American Television, presents a rich collection that profiles many of the women who were crucial to the development of cinema as an industry and as an art form. Whether working behind the scenes as producers or publicists, behind the cameras as writers, directors, or editors, or in front of the lens as flappers, vamps, or serial queens, hundreds of women made profound and lasting contributions to the evolution of the motion picture production. An Encyclopedic Dictionary of Women in Early American Films 1895-1930 gives you immediate access to the histories of many of the women who pioneered the early days of cinema on screen and off. The book chronicles the well-known figures of the era, such as Alice Guy, Mary Pickford, and Francis Marion, but gives equal billing to those who worked in anonymity as the industry moved from the silent era into the age of sound. Their individual stories of professional success and failure, artistic struggle and strife, and personal triumph and tragedy fill in the plot points missing from the complete saga of Hollywood's beginnings. Pioneers of the motion picture business found in An Encyclopedic Dictionary of Women in Early American Films include Dorothy Arnzer, the first woman to join the Directors Guild of America and the only female director to make a successful transition from silent films to sound; Jane Murfin, playwright and screenwriter who became supervisor of motion pictures at RKO Studios; Gene Gauntier, the actress and scenarist whose adaptation of Ben Hur for the Kalem Film Company led to a landmark copyright infringement case; Theda Bara, whose on-screen popularity virtually built Fox Studios before typecasting and overexposure destroyed her career; Madame Sul Te Wan, the first African American actor or actress to sign a film contract and be a featured performer; Dorothy Davenport, who parlayed the publicity surrounding her actor husband's drug-related death into a career as a producer of social reform melodramas; Lois Weber, a street corner evangelist who became one of the best-known and highest-paid directors in Hollywood; Lina Basquette, the Screen Tragedy Girl who married and divorced studio mogul Sam Warner; led The Hollywood Aristocrats; Orchestra, claimed to have been a spy for the American Office of Strategic Services during World War II, and became a renowned dog expert in her later years; and many more. An Encyclopedic Dictionary of Women in Early American Films 1895-1930 also includes comprehensive appendices of the WAMPAS Baby Stars, the silent stars remembered in the Graumann Chinese Theater Forecourt of the Stars, and those immortalized on the Hollywood Walk of Stars. The book is invaluable as a resource for researchers, librarians, academics working in film, popular culture, and women's history, and to anyone interested either professionally or casually in the early days of Hollywood and the motion picture industry. The Grizzly Bear, 1929 Radio Drama Martin Grams, Jr., 2024-10-16 The free-standing radios of the middle decades of the 20th century were invitingly rotund and proudly displayed nothing like today's skinny televisions hidden inside entertainment centers. Radios were the hub of the family's after dinner activities and children and adults gorged themselves on western adventure series like The Lone Ranger police dramas such as Calling All Cars and the varied offerings of The Cavalcade of America. Shows often aired two or three times a week and many programs were broadcast for more than a decade comprising hundreds of episodes. This book includes more than 300 program logs many appearing in print for the first time drawn from newspapers script files in broadcast museums records from NBC ABC and CBS and the personal records of series directors. Each entry contains a short broadcast history that includes directors writers and actors and the broadcast dates and airtimes. A comprehensive index rounds out the work.

With this sample of immigrants Professor Emeritus Alfred K. Ho provides a portrait of a successful candidate for U.S. immigration. Through his study he has achieved in why they immigrated and what they chose to do with their fortunes. Ultimately Achieving the American Dream is a testament to the American democracy and open society that are the main attractions to these immigrants who are as necessary to the U.S. as we are to them. The Selected Essays of Donald Johnson Greene, 2004 Part III The Terrain of Literature features Greene's examination of a variety of literary approaches to literature in an era when the subject needs to be referred as well to cognitive science as more conventional critical modes even deconstruction that have long defined it. Additionally he illuminates important works by writers as various as Jane Austen and Evelyn Waugh. These essays as well as the book as a whole are framed here by Greene's assessment of Canadian literature that calls attention to the native terrain that he originally called home and how the latter contributed to the making of one of the most cosmopolitan scholars of his era.
