Holocaust Horror:

The Horror Film Stephen Prince, 2004 Focusing on recent postmodern examples this is a collection of essays reviewing the history of the horror film and the psychological reasons for its persistent appeal Film and the Holocaust Aaron Kerner, 2011-05-05 A sweeping survey of how global filmmakers have treated the subject of the Holocaust Sites of the Uncanny Eric Kligerman, 2012-02-13 Sites of the Uncanny Paul Celan Specularity and the Visual Arts is the first book length study that examines Celan's impact on visual culture Exploring poetry's relation to film painting and architecture this study tracks the transformation of Celan in postwar German culture and shows the extent to which his poetics accompany the country's memory politics after the Holocaust The book posits a new theoretical model of the Holocaustal uncanny evolving out of a crossing between Celan Freud Heidegger and Levinas that provides a map for entering other modes of Holocaust representations After probing Celan's critique of the uncanny in Heidegger this study shifts to the translation of Celan's uncanny poetics in Resnais film Night and Fog Kiefer's art and Libeskind's architecture Holocaust Fiction and the Question of Impiety David John Dickson, 2022-10-10 This book discusses the issues underlying contemporary Holocaust fiction Using Gillian Rose's theory of Holocaust piety it argues that rather than enhancing our understanding of the Holocaust contemporary fiction has instead become overly focused on gratuitous representations of bodies in pain The book begins by discussing the locations and imagery which have come to define our understanding of the Holocaust before then highlighting how this gradual simplification has led to an increasing sense of emotional distance from the historical past Holocaust fiction the book argues attempts to close this emotional and temporal distance by creating an emotional connection to bodies in pain Using different concepts relating to embodied experience from Sonia Kruks notion of feeling with to Alison Landsberg's prosthetic memory the book analyses several key examples of Holocaust literature and film to establish whether fiction still possesses the capacity to approach the Holocaust impiously Horrors of War Cynthia J. Miller, A. Bowdoin Van Riper, 2015-05-14 Battlefields have traditionally been considered places where the spirits of the dead linger and popular culture brings those thoughts to life Supernatural tales of war told in print on screen and in other media depict angels demons and legions of the undead fighting against or alongside human soldiers Ghostly war ships and phantom aircraft carry on their never to be completed missions and the spirits sometimes corpses of dead soldiers return to confront the enemies who killed them comrades who betrayed them or leaders who sacrificed them In Horrors of War: The Undead on the Battlefield Cynthia J Miller and A Bowdoin Van Riper have assembled essays that explore the meaning and significance of these tales Among the questions that the volume seeks to answer are How do supernatural stories engage with cultural attitudes toward war In what ways do these stories reflect or challenge the popular memories of particular wars How do they ask us to think again about battlefield heroism military ethics and the politics of sacrifice Divided into four sections chapters examine undead war stories in film Carol for Another Christmas The Devil's Backbone television The Twilight Zone literature

The Bloody Red Baron Devils of D Day comics Weird War Tales The Haunted Tank graphic novels The War of the Trenches and gaming Call of Duty World at War Featuring contributions from a diverse group of international scholars these essays address such themes as monstrous enemies and enemies made monstrous legacies and memories of war and the war dead who refuse to rest Drawing together stories from across wars branches of service and generations of soldiers and featuring more than fifty illustrations Horrors of War will be of interest to scholars of film popular culture military history and cultural history

Israel and the Holocaust Avinoam J. Patt, 2024-01-25 Avinoam Patt examines the relationship between two of the most significant events in modern Jewish history the Holocaust and the creation of the state of Israel While there may be no direct causal connection between the Holocaust and the founding of the Jewish state in 1948 the memory of the Holocaust has been a constant presence in Israeli politics culture and society since even before 1948 The State of Israel has always existed in an uneasy relationship with the Shoah On the one hand Israel was faced with the challenge of taking in hundreds of thousands of Holocaust survivors as new citizens of the state many of whom were discouraged from sharing their traumatic wartime experiences with their fellow citizens On the other hand the destruction of European Jewry and the failure of Western democracy to protect the Jewish minority in Europe seemed to vindicate the Zionist worldview even as classical Zionism argued that the Jewish people deserved a state on the basis of their deep historical connection to the Land of Israel By tracing the evolving relationship to the memory of Shoah Avinoam Patt argues we can also trace shifting conceptions of Israeli self understanding and identity Israel's relationship to the wider world its neighbors the Jewish Diaspora and the Jewish past Israel and the Holocaust documents these tensions and analyses the changing nature of Israel's relationship to the Shoah revealing that it only seems to strengthen with the passage of time

The Oxford Handbook of Holocaust Studies Peter Hayes, John K. Roth, 2010-11-25 Few scholarly fields have developed in recent decades as rapidly and vigorously as Holocaust Studies The persecution and murder perpetrated by the Nazi regime have become the subject of an enormous literature in multiple academic disciplines Forty seven contributors debate the key issues at the start of the twenty first century Holocaust Cinema Complete Rich Brownstein,2021-10-01 Holocaust movies have become an important segment of world cinema and the de facto Holocaust education for many One quarter of all American produced Holocaust related feature films have won or been nominated for at least one Oscar In fact from 1945 through 1991 half of all American Holocaust features were nominated Yet most Holocaust movies have fallen through the cracks and few have been commercially successful This book explores these trends and many others with a comprehensive guide to hundreds of films and made for television movies From Anne Frank to Schindler s List to Jojo Rabbit more than 400 films are examined from a range of perspectives historical chronological thematic sociological geographical and individual The filmmakers are contextualized including Charlie Chaplin Sidney Lumet Steven Spielberg Quentin Tarantino and Roman Polanski Recommendations and reviews of the 50 best Holocaust films are included along with an educational guide a detailed listing of all films covered and a four part index glossary Holocaust Politics John K. Roth,2016-02-18 More than half a century after Nazi Germany s genocidal assault on the Jewish people the Holocaust grips our attention as never before raising hotly debated questions How is the Holocaust best remembered What are its lessons Who gets to answer those questions Who owns the Holocaust Those issues provoke disagreements that can be cutthroat or constructive Taking its point of departure from the controversy that swirled around John Roth s aborted appointment as director of the Center for Advanced Holocaust Studies a senior post at the US Holocaust Memorial Museum in Washington DC Holocaust Politics shows how contemporary attitudes and priorities compete to determine that all important difference

Fantasies of Witnessing Gary Weissman,2018-07-05 Fantasies of Witnessing explores how and why those deeply interested in the Holocaust yet with no direct familial connection to it endeavor to experience it vicariously through sites or texts designed to make it real for nonwitnesses Gary Weissman argues that far from overwhelming nonwitnesses with its magnitude of horror the Holocaust threatens to feel distant and unreal A prevailing rhetoric of secondary memory and trauma he contends and efforts to portray the Holocaust as an immediate and personal experience are responses to an encroaching sense of unreality In America we are haunted not by the traumatic impact of the Holocaust but by its absence When we take an interest in the Holocaust we are not overcoming a fearful aversion to its horror but endeavoring to actually feel the horror of what otherwise eludes us Weissman focuses on specific attempts to locate the Holocaust in the person of Elie Wiesel the most renowned survivor and his classic memoir Night in videotaped survivor stories and Lawrence L Langer s celebrated book Holocaust Testimonies and in the films Shoah and Schindler s List These representations he explains constitute a movement away from the view popularized by Wiesel that those who did not live through the Holocaust will never be able to grasp its horror and toward re creating the Holocaust as an experience nonwitnesses may put themselves through It is only by acknowledging the desire that gives shape to such representations and by exploring their place in the ongoing contest over who really knows the Holocaust and feels its horror that we can arrive at a more candid assessment of our current and future relationships to the Holocaust he says Cinematic Reflections on The Legacy of the Holocaust Diana Diamond, Bruce Sklarew, 2018-08-06 An international group of psychoanalysts and film scholars address the enduring emotional legacy of the Holocaust in Cinematic Reflections on the Legacy of the Holocaust Psychoanalytic Perspectives. Particular focus is given to how second and third generation survivors have explored and confronted the psychic reverberations of Holocaust trauma in cinema. This book focuses on how film is particularly suited to depict Holocaust experiences with vividness and immediacy. The similarity of moving images and sound to our dream experience allows access to unconscious processing. Film has the potential to reveal the vast panorama of Holocaust history as well as its intrapsychic reverberations. Yet despite the recent prominence of Holocaust films, documentaries and TV series as well as scholarly books and memoirs, these works lack a psychoanalytic optic that elucidates themes such as the repetition compulsion, survival guilt, disturbances in identity and disruption of mourning that are underlying leitmotifs. Cinematic Reflections on the Legacy of the Holocaust will be of great interest to psychoanalysts and therapists as well as to scholars in trauma film and Jewish studies. It is also of interest to those concerned with the prevention of genocide and mass atrocities and their long term effects.

Ethnic Identity and Minority Protection Thomas W. Simon, 2012-03-28 In Ethnic Identity and Minority Protection Designation, Discrimination and Brutalization, Thomas W. Simon examines a new framework for considering ethnic conflicts. In contrast to the more traditional theories of justice, Simon's theory of injustice shifts focus away from group identity toward group harms, effectively making many problems such as how to define minorities in international law dramatically more manageable. Simon argues that instead of promoting legislative devices like proportional representation for minorities, it is more fruitful to seek adjudicative solutions to racial and ethnic related conflicts. For example, resources could be shifted to quasi-judicial human rights treaty bodies that have adopted an injustice approach. This injustice approach provides the foundation for Kosovo's case for remedial secession and helps to sort out the competing entitlement claims of Malays in different countries. Indeed, the priority of Thomas W. Simon's Ethnic Identity and Minority Protection is to ensure the tales of designation and discrimination told at the beginning of the work do not become the stories of brutalization told at the end. In short, the challenge tackled in this text is to assure that reason reigns over hate.

Salvation from Cinema Crystal Downing, 2015-10-23 Salvation from Cinema offers something new to the burgeoning field of religion and film: the religious significance of film technique. Discussing the history of both cinematic devices and film theory, Crystal Downing argues that attention to the material medium echoes Christian doctrine about the materiality of Christ's body as the medium of salvation. Downing cites Jewish, Muslim, Buddhist and Hindu perspectives on film in order to compare and clarify the significance of the medium within the frameworks of multiple traditions. This book will be useful to professors and students interested in the relationship between religion and film.
