Muse Richard S. Field, Ruth Fine, 1987 The catalogue of an exhibition at Mount Holyoke College this volume documents the vital and original contributions that American women artists have brought to contemporary printmaking The neon bars and menacing stairwells of Jane Dickson's aquatints convey the loneliness of big city living as powerfully as Edward Hopper's urban landscapes They contrast with Yvonne Jacquette's stunning meticulous nighttime vistas of Manhattan Many of the artists here employ innovative techniques      The Grove Encyclopedia of American Art Joan M. Myth and the Making of Modernity Michael Bell, Peter Poellner, 1998 The contributors to this collection of essays on the literary use of myth in the early twentieth century and its literary and philosophical precedents from romanticism onwards draw on a range of disciplines from anthropology comparative literature and literary criticism to philosophy and religious studies The underlying assumption is that modernist myth making does not retreat from modernity but projects a mode of being for the future which the past could serve to define

Modernist myth is not an attempted recovery of an archaic form of life so much as a sophisticated self conscious equivalent Far from seeking a return to an earlier romantic valorizing of myth these essays show how the true interest of early twentieth century myth making lies in the consciousness affirmative as well as tragic of living in a human world which in so far as it must embody value can have no ultimate grounding Although myth may initially appear to be the archaic counterterm to modernity it is thus also the paradigm on which modernity has repeatedly reconstructed or come to understand its own life forms The very term myth by combining in its modern usage the rival meanings of a grounding narrative and a falsehood encapsulates a central problem of modernity how to live given what we know Theory of the Novel Michael

McKeon,2000-12 McKeon and others delve into the significance of the novel as a genre form issues in novel techniques such as displacement the grand theory narrative modes such as subjectivity character and development critical interpretation of the structure of the novel and the novel in historical context Pat Steir Pat Steir,Susan Harris,Jan Howard,2010 Catalog
