At the Crossroads Jacques Kornberg, 2012-02-01 A founding father of modern Israel Ahad Ha am 1856 1927 was one of the shapers of the contemporary Zionist consciousness His career spanned the era of Russian Jewry s nationalist awakening During the last decade of the nineteenth century he was the leading theorist of the Russian Zionist movement Afterwards he was overshadowed by Theodore Herzl who imposed his own stamp on Zionism With the failure of Herzl s diplomacy and his early death in 1904 Russian Zionists abandoned Herzl s priorities and gradually refashioned the program of the Zionist organization in their own image More than anyone else Ahad Ha am provided the ideological authority for this shift Until At the Crossroads there were no up to date studies of Ahad Ha am This long awaited collection includes 14 essays by internationally known scholars in modern Jewish history and literature The essays range from studies of Ahad Ha am as a literary stylist his role in the revival of Hebrew his political thought and activity his debates with famous contemporaries about the Jewish future and the reinterpretation of his ideas by his Zionist disciples The overall picture presented by this book is a new image of Ahad Ha am far less Westernized and far more embedded in the nineteenth century Jewish and Russian cultural milieu than was previously thought

The Exile's Papers: The duplicity of autobiography Wayne Clifford, 2007 The Exile s Papers Part One considers the implications of duplicity in autobiography as they appear in the first two hundred or so sonnets of a four volume sonnet cycle completed over the past twenty years by the Lost Poet of the 1960s confronted at the end of the middle game by anonymity on the one hand and by opportunity the mass of a black hole on the other in which Rilke in his guise as Witness to the Angel speculates on raw necessary existence Disney s Jiminy Cricket remains of course unconvinced

Connecting Histories Bonnie Thomas, 2017-04-27 The Francophone Caribbean boasts a trove of literary gems Distinguished by innovative elegant writing and thought provoking questions of history and identity this exciting body of work demands scholarly attention Its authors treat the traumatic legacies of shared and personal histories pervading Caribbean experience in striking ways delineating a path towards reconciliation and healing The creation of diverse personal narratives encompassing autobiography autofiction heavily autobiographical fiction travel writing and reflective essay remains characteristic of many Caribbean writers and offers poignant illustrations of the complex interchange between shared and personal pasts and how they affect individual lives Through their historically informed autobiography the authors in this study Maryse Condé, Gisèle Pineau, Patrick Chamoiseau, Edwidge Danticat and Dany Laferrière offer compelling insights into confronting coming to terms with and reconciling their past The employment of personal narratives as the vehicle to carry out this investigation points to a tension evident in these writers' reflections which constantly move between the collective and the personal As an inescapably complex network their past extends beyond the notion of a single private life These contemporary authors from Martinique, Guadeloupe and Haiti intertwine their personal memories with reflections on the histories of their homelands and on the European and North American countries they adopt through choice or necessity They reveal a multitude of deep connections that illuminate distinct Francophone Caribbean experiences

Nabokov, History and the Texture of Time Will Norman, 2012-10-02 This book argues that the apparent evasion of history in Vladimir Nabokov's fiction conceals a profound engagement with social and therefore political temporalities While Nabokov scholarship has long assumed the same position as Nabokov himself that his works exist in a state of historical exceptionalism, this study restores the content, context and commentary to Nabokovian time by reading his American work alongside the violent upheavals of twentieth-century ideological conflicts in Europe and the United States This approach explores how the author's characteristic temporal manipulations and distortions function as a defensive dialectic against history, an attempt to salvage fiction for autonomous aesthetics Tracing Nabokov's understanding of the relationship between history and aesthetics from nineteenth-century Russia through European modernism to the postwar American academy, the book offers detailed contextualized readings of Nabokov's major writings exploring the tensions, fissures and failures in Nabokov's attempts to assert aesthetic control over historical time In reading his response to the rise of totalitarianism, the Holocaust and Cold War, Norman redresses the commonly expressed admiration for Nabokov's heroic resistance to history by suggesting the ethical, aesthetic and political costs of reading and writing in its denial This book offers a rethinking of Nabokov's location in literary history, the ideological impulses which inform his fiction and the importance of temporal aesthetics in negotiating the matrices of modernism

Passing Fancies in Jewish American Literature and Culture Judith Ruderman, 2019-01-09 This scholarly study explores the conflicting forces of assimilation and cultural heritage in literary portrayals of Jewish American identity In Passing Fancies in Jewish American Literature and Culture Judith Ruderman takes on the fraught question of who passes for Jewish in American literature and culture In today's contemporary political climate religious and racial identities are being reconceived as responses to culture and environment rather than essential qualities Many Jews continue to hold conflicting ideas about their identity seeking deep engagement with Jewish history and the experiences of the Jewish people while holding steadfastly to the understanding that identity is fluid and multivalent Looking at carefully chosen texts from American literature Ruderman elaborates on the strategies Jews have used to pass from the late nineteenth century to the present nose jobs renaming clothing changes religious and racial reclassification and even playing baseball While traversing racial and religious identities has always been a feature of America's nation of immigrants Ruderman shows how the complexities of identity formation and deformation are critically relevant during this important cultural moment
