Hollywood Spectatorship:

Hollywood Spectatorship Melvyn Stokes, Richard Maltby, 2019-07-25 This is an examination of the concepts of spectatorship in the light of historical accounts of audience reception The book looks at how audiences have historically talked about Hollywood movies and the ways in which word of mouth responses have affected the reception of individual movies

Star Gazing Jackie Stacey, 2013-11-05 In a historical investigation of the pleasures of cinema Star Gazing puts female spectators back into theories of spectatorship Combining film theory with a rich body of ethnographic research Jackie Stacey investigates how female spectators understood Hollywood stars in the 1940 s and 1950 s Her study challenges the universalism of psychoanalytic theories of female spectatorship which have dominated the feminist agenda within film studies for over two decades Drawing on letters and questionnaires from over three hundred keen cinema goers Stacey investigates the significance of certain Hollywood stars in women s memories of wartime and postwar Britain Three key processes of spectatorship escapism identification and consumption are explored in detail in terms of their multiple and changing meanings for female spectators at this time Star Gazing demonstrates the importance of cultural and national location for the meanings of female spectatorship giving a new direction to questions of popular culture and female desire

Spectatorship Michele Aaron, 2007 Michele Aaron cuts a lucid path through the dense undergrowth of the debate on spectatorship She revisits the classics of Hollywood and explores films from beyond the mainstream such as Dogma 95 to explore the nature of seeing and spectatorship

Hollywood's Cold War Tony Shaw, 2007 Published at a time when American filmmakers are deeply involved in the War on Terror this authoritative and timely book offers the first comprehensive account of Hollywood s propaganda role during the defining ideological conflict of the 20th century the Cold War

Hollywood's Chosen People Daniel Bernardi, 2012-09-17 As studio bosses directors and actors Jews have been heavily involved in film history and vitally involved in all aspects of film production Yet Jewish characters have been represented onscreen in stereotypical and disturbing ways while Jews have also helped to produce some of the most troubling stereotypes of people of color in Hollywood film history In Hollywood's Chosen People: The Jewish Experience in American Cinema leading scholars consider the complex relationship between Jews and the film industry as Jews have helped to construct Hollywood s vision of the American dream and American collective identity and have in turn been shaped by those representations Editors Daniel Bernardi Murray Pomerance and Hava Tirosh Samuelson introduce the volume with an overview of the history of Jews in American popular culture and the American film industry Multidisciplinary contributors go on to discuss topics such as early Jewish films and directors institutionalized anti-Semitism Jewish identity and gossip culture and issues of Jewish performance on film Contributors draw on a diverse sampling of films from representations of the Holocaust on film to screen comedy filmmakers and writers including David Mamet George Cukor Sidney Lumet Edward Sloman and Steven Spielberg and stars like Barbra Streisand Adam Sandler and Ben Stiller The Jewish experience in American cinema reveals much about the degree to which Jews have been integrated into and contribute to the making of American popular film culture. Scholars of Jewish studies, film studies, American history, and American culture, as well as anyone interested in film history, will find this volume a fascinating reading. The Geographies of Film Spectatorship

Denise Khor, 2003 The Urban Spectator Eric Gordon, 2010 How conceptions of the American city changed in response to new media technologies The Routledge Companion to Philosophy and Film Paisley Livingston, Carl

Plantinga, 2008-10-27 The Routledge Companion to Philosophy and Film is the first comprehensive volume to explore the main themes, topics, thinkers, and issues in philosophy and film. The Companion features sixty specially commissioned chapters from international scholars and is divided into four clear parts: issues and concepts, authors and trends, genres, film as philosophy. Part one is a comprehensive section examining key concepts, including chapters on acting, censorship, character, depiction, ethics, genre, interpretation, narrative, reception, and spectatorship, and style. Part two covers authors and scholars of film and significant theories. Part three examines genres such as documentary, experimental, cinema, horror, comedy, and tragedy. Part four includes chapters on key directors such as Tarkovsky, Bergman, and Terrence Malick, and on particular films, including Memento. Each chapter includes a section of annotated further reading and is cross-referenced to related entries. The Routledge Companion to Philosophy and Film is essential reading for anyone interested in philosophy of film, aesthetics, and film and cinema studies. Shocking Representation Adam Lowenstein, 2005-11-09

In this imaginative new work, Adam Lowenstein explores the ways in which a group of groundbreaking horror films engaged the haunting social conflicts left in the wake of World War II, Hiroshima, and the Vietnam War. Lowenstein centers Shocking Representation around readings of films by Georges Franju, Michael Powell, Shindo Kaneto, Wes Craven, and David Cronenberg. He shows that through allegorical representations, these directors confronted and challenged comforting historical narratives and notions of national identity intended to soothe public anxieties in the aftermath of national traumas. Borrowing elements from art cinema and the horror genre, these directors disrupted the boundaries between high and low cinema. Lowenstein contrasts their works, often dismissed by contemporary critics with the films of acclaimed New Wave directors in France, England, Japan, and the United States. He argues that these New Wave films, which were embraced as both art and national cinema, often upheld conventional ideas of nation, history, gender, and class, questioned by the horror films. By fusing film studies with the emerging field of trauma studies and drawing on the work of Walter Benjamin, Adam Lowenstein offers a bold reassessment of the modern horror film and the idea of national cinema. A Companion to Experimental Cinema Federico Windhausen, 2022-08-22 An exploration of what experimental cinema is and might become, A Companion to Experimental Cinema is a collection of original essays organized around both theoretical and historical issues of concern to film scholars, programmers, filmmakers, and viewers. Newly commissioned essays written by specialists in the field, along with dialogues conducted with a diverse range of practitioners, focus on core subjects to present an international array of overlapping and contrasting perspectives This unique text not only provides detailed accounts of particular films and filmmakers but also discusses new approaches of understanding characterizing and shaping experimental cinema The Companion offers readers an accessible point of entry to the material while seeking to contribute to scholarly debates Essays explore a wide range of topics within the realm of experimental film including the shift from traditional biography to broader contexts the increased attention afforded to local and transnational circuits of exchange and the deepening of theoretical considerations regarding cultural identity and cinematic aesthetics Key themes and concepts are interwoven throughout the text offering fresh perspectives on experimental cinema's dialogues with other modes and practices of film and video its interactions with the non-cinematic arts its responses to changing technological landscapes and more An essential addition to the field the Companion Balances introductory summaries and scholarly dialogue with existing literature Explores how the study of experimental cinema can benefit from scholarship in other disciplines Includes numerous analyses of films that are readily available to view via digital media Discusses both canonical and obscure or neglected works Examines the effects of the growing diversification of experimental film scholarship A Companion to Experimental Cinema is a valuable resource for scholars of film studies and art history curators and programmers critics and bloggers filmmakers and artists and anyone interested in exploring experimental or avant-garde cinema

Militant Visions Elizabeth Reich, 2016-08 Militant Visions examines how from the 1940s to the 1970s the cinematic figure of the black soldier helped change the ways American moviegoers saw black men for the first time presenting African Americans as vital and integrated members of the nation In the process Elizabeth Reich reveals how the image of the proud and powerful African American serviceman was crafted by an unexpected alliance of government propagandists civil rights activists and black filmmakers Contextualizing the figure in a genealogy of black radicalism and internationalism Reich shows the evolving images of black soldiers to be inherently transnational ones shaped by the displacements of diaspora Third World revolutionary philosophy and a legacy of black artistry and performance Offering a nuanced reading of a figure that was simultaneously conservative and radical Reich considers how the cinematic black soldier lent a human face to ongoing debates about racial integration black internationalism and American militarism Militant Visions thus not only presents a new history of how American cinema represented race but also demonstrates how film images helped to make history shaping the progress of the civil rights movement itself

Heritage Film Audiences Claire Monk, 2012-09-07 This book is a study of the contemporary audiences for quality period films and their responses to these films with reference to the critical debate which constructs many of these films as heritage films

Gender, Race, and Class in Media Bill Yousman, William E Yousman, Lori Bindig Yousman, Gail Dines, Jean McMahon Humez, 2020-07-24 Incisive analyses of mass media including such forms as talk shows MTV the internet soap operas television sitcoms dramatic series pornography and advertising enable this provocative new edition of Gender Race and Class in Media to engage students in critical mass media scholarship Issues of power related to gender race and class are integrated into a wide range of articles examining the economic and cultural implications of mass media as institutions including the political economy of media production textual analysis and media consumption

Throughout Gender Race and Class in Media examines the mass media as economic and cultural institutions that shape our social identities especially in regard to gender race and class Militant Around the Clock? Nikolaos

Papadogiannis,2015-05-01 During the 1970s left wing youth militancy in Greece intensified especially after the collapse of the military dictatorship in 1974 This is the first study of the impact of that political activism on the leisure pursuits and sexual behavior of Greek youth analyzing the cultural politics of left wing organizations alongside the actual practices of their members Through an examination of Maoists Socialists Euro Communists and pro Soviet groups it demonstrates that left wing youth in Greece collaborated closely with comrades from both Western and Eastern European countries in developing their political stances Moreover young left wingers in Greece appropriated American cultural products while simultaneously modeling some of their leisure and sexual practices on Soviet society Still despite being heavily influenced by cultures outside Greece left wing youth played a major role in the reinvention of a Greek popular tradition This book critically interrogates the notion of sexual revolution by shedding light on the contradictory sexual transformations in Greece to which young left wingers contributed The Palgrave Handbook of Asian Cinema Aaron Han Joon Magnan-Park,Gina

Marchetti,See Kam Tan,2018-11-04 This collection offers new approaches to theorizing Asian film in relation to the history culture geopolitics and economics of the continent Bringing together original essays written by established and emerging scholars this anthology transcends the limitations of national borders to do justice to the diverse ways in which the cinema shapes Asia geographically and imaginatively in the world today From the revival of the Silk Road as the belt and road of a rising China to historical ruminations on the legacy of colonialism across the continent the authors argue that the category of Asian cinema from Turkey to the edges of the Pacific continues to play a vital role in cutting edge film research This handbook will serve as an essential guide for committed scholars students and all those interested in the past present and possible future of Asian cinema in the 21st century Coming Attractions Lisa Kernan,2009-07-21

Movie trailers those previews of coming attractions before the start of a feature film are routinely praised and reviled by moviegoers and film critics alike They give away too much of the movie They re better than the films They only show the spectacular parts They lie They re the best part of going to the movies But whether you love them or hate them trailers always serve their purpose of offering free samples of a film to influence moviegoing decision making Indeed with their inclusion on videotapes DVDs and on the Internet trailers are more widely seen and influential now than at any time in their history Starting from the premise that movie trailers can be considered a film genre this pioneering book explores the genre s conventions and offers a primer for reading the rhetoric of movie trailers Lisa Kernan identifies three principal rhetorical strategies that structure trailers appeals to audience interest in film genres stories and or stars She also analyzes the trailers for twenty seven popular

Hollywood films from the classical transitional and contemporary eras exploring what the rhetorical appeals within these trailers reveal about Hollywood's changing conceptions of the moviegoing audience Kernan argues that movie trailers constitute a long standing hybrid of advertising and cinema and as such are precursors to today's heavily commercialized cultural forms in which art and marketing become increasingly indistinguishable

Reframing the Past Mia E. M. Treacey, 2016-02-26 Reframing the Past traces what historians have written about film and television from 1898 until the early 2000s Mia Treacey argues that historical engagement with film and television should be reconceptualised as Screened History an interdisciplinary international field of research to incorporate and replace what has been known as History and Film It draws from the fields of Film Television and Cultural Studies to critically analyse key works and connect past scholarship with contemporary research Reconsidered as Screened History the works of Pierre Sorlin Marc Ferro John O Connor Robert Rosenstone and Robert Toplin are explored alongside lesser known but equally important contributions This book identifies a number of common themes and ideas that have been explored by historians for decades the use of history on film and television as a way to teach the past the challenge of filmic and televisual history to more traditional historiography and an ongoing battle to find an appropriate historical way to engage with Film Studies and Theory Screened History offers an approach to exploring History Film and Television that allows room for future developments while connecting them to a rich and diverse body of past scholarship Combining a narrative of historical research on film and television over the past century with a reconceptualisation of the field as Screened History Reframing the Past is essential reading both for established scholars of History and Film Film History and other related disciplines and to students new to the field

Eclipsed Cinema Dong Hoon Kim, 2017-03-22 In this ground breaking investigation into the seldom studied film culture of colonial Korea 1910 1945 Dong Hoon Kim brings new perspectives to the associations between colonialism modernity film historiography and national cinema By reconstructing the lost intricacies of colonial film history Eclipsed Cinema explores under investigated aspects of colonial film culture such as the representational politics of colonial cinema the film unit of the colonial government the social reception of Hollywood cinema and Japanese settlers film culture Filling a significant void in Asian film history Eclipsed Cinema greatly expands the critical and historical scopes of early cinema and Korean and Japanese film histories as well as modern Asian culture and colonial and postcolonial studies

A Companion to the Horror Film Harry M. Benshoff, 2017-01-17 This cutting edge collection features original essays by eminent scholars on one of cinema's most dynamic and enduringly popular genres covering everything from the history of horror movies to the latest critical approaches Contributors include many of the finest academics working in the field as well as exciting younger scholars Varied and comprehensive coverage from the history of horror to broader issues of censorship gender and sexuality Covers both English language and non English horror film traditions Key topics include horror film aesthetics theoretical approaches distribution art house cinema ethnographic surrealism and horror's relation to documentary film practice A thorough treatment of this dynamic film genre suited to scholars and enthusiasts alike The Cinema of Tod Browning Bernd Herzogenrath, 2008-09-22 As a director actor writer and producer Tod Browning was one of the most dynamic Hollywood figures during the birth of commercial cinema Known for his fantastic collaborations with Lon Chaney in numerous silents and for directing the horror classic Dracula and the still controversial Freaks Browning has been called the Edgar Allan Poe of the cinema Despite not entering the profession until he began acting in his early thirties he went on to helm more than 60 films in a 25 year career His work continues to influence directors such as David Lynch John Waters and Alejandro Jodorowsky These essays critically explore such topics as the connection between Browning Poe and Kant Browning s cinematic techniques disability masochism sound and suspense duality parenthood narrative and cinematic trickery George Melford surrealism and the occult A Browning filmography is included
