Hollywood High Part 2:

Hollywood High Bruce Handy, 2025-05-20 From a longtime Vanity Fair writer and editor a delightfully entertaining intelligent and illuminating history and tribute to teen movies from Rebel Without a Cause to Fast Times at Ridgemont High and on to John Hughes Mean Girls The Hunger Games and more Provided by publisher Generation Multiplex Timothy Shary, 2014-03-07 Generation Multiplex 2002 was the first comprehensive study of the representation of teenagers in American cinema since David Considine's Cinema of Adolescence in 1985 This updated and expanded edition reaffirms the idea that films about youth constitute a legitimate genre worthy of study on its own terms Identifying four distinct subgenres school delinquency horror and romance Timothy Shary explores hundreds of representative films while offering in depth discussion of movies that constitute key moments in the genre including Fast Times at Ridgemont High A Nightmare on Elm Street The Breakfast Club Say Anything Boyz n the Hood Scream American Pie Napoleon Dynamite Superbad The Twilight Saga and The Hunger Games Analyzing developments in teen films since 2002 Shary covers such topics as the increasing availability of movies on demand which has given teens greater access to both popular and lesser seen films the recent dominance of supernatural and fantasy films as a category within the genre and how the ongoing commodification of teen images in media affects real life issues such as school bullying athletic development sexual identity and teenage pregnancy

Blowout! Mario T. García, Sal Castro, 2011-03-21 In March 1968 thousands of Chicano students walked out of their East Los Angeles high schools and middle schools to protest decades of inferior and discriminatory education in the so called Mexican Schools During these historic walkouts or blowouts the students were led by Sal Castro a courageous and charismatic Mexican American teacher who encouraged the students to make their grievances public after school administrators and school board members failed to listen to them The resulting blowouts sparked the beginning of the urban Chicano Movement of the late 1960s and early 1970s the largest and most widespread civil rights protests by Mexican Americans in U S history This fascinating testimonio or oral history transcribed and presented in Castro's voice by historian Mario T Garcia is a compelling highly readable narrative of a young boy growing up in Los Angeles who made history by his leadership in the blowouts and in his career as a dedicated and committed teacher Blowout fills a major void in the history of the civil rights and Chicano movements of the 1960s particularly the struggle for educational justice New York Magazine, 1984-06-04 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine's consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea Genre and Hollywood Steve Neale, 2005-06-20 Genre and Hollywood provides a comprehensive introduction to the study of genre In this important new book Steve Neale discusses all the major concepts theories and accounts of Hollywood and genre as well as the key genres which theorists have written about from horror to the Western He also puts forward new arguments about the importance of genre in understanding Hollywood cinema Neale takes issue with much genre criticism and genre theory which has provided only a partial and misleading account of Hollywood's output He calls for broader and more flexible conceptions of genre and genres for more attention to be paid to the discourses and practices of Hollywood itself for the nature and range of Hollywood's films to be looked at in more detail and for any assessment of the social and cultural significance of Hollywood's genres to take account of industrial factors In detailed revisionist accounts of two major genres film noir and melodrama Neale argues that genre remains an important and productive means of thinking about both New and old Hollywood its history its audiences and its films
