Children and Young People's Relationships

Samantha Punch,Kay Tisdall,2016-04-08 This book challenges the current state of childhood studies by exploring children and young people s agency and relationships It considers how recent theorisations of relationships and relational processes can move childhood studies forward particularly in relation to re thinking claims of children and young people s agency and uncritical assertions around children and young people s participation and voice It does this by bringing together case studies of children s inter generational and intra generational relationships from both the Majority and Minority Worlds The main themes include negotiated power agency across contexts and negotiations of identity The chapters show both the heritage of childhood studies particularly within the UK and where it may be going One of the key aims of the book is to add to the limited but growing cross world dialogue that encourages cross cultural learning from research and practice in both Majority and Minority World contexts leading towards a more integrated global approach to childhood studies This book was published as a special issue of Children s Geographies

Disabled Childhoods Janice McLaughlin,Edmund

Coleman-Fountain,Emma Clavering,2016-02-05 A crucial contemporary dynamic around children and young people in the Global North is the multiple ways that have emerged to monitor their development behaviour and character In particular disabled children or children with unusual developmental patterns can find themselves surrounded by multiple practices through which they are examined This rich book draws on a wide range of qualitative research to look at how disabled children have been cared for treated and categorised Narrative and longitudinal interviews with children and their families along with stories and images they have produced and notes from observations of different spaces in their lives medical consultation rooms cafes and leisure centres homes classrooms and playgrounds amongst others all make a contribution Bringing this wealth of empirical data together with conceptual ideas from disability studies sociology of the body childhood studies symbolic interactionism and feminist critical theory the authors explore the multiple ways in which monitoring occurs within childhood disability and its social effects Their discussion includes examining the dynamics of differentiation via medicine social interaction and embodiment and the multiple actors including children and young people themselves involved The book also investigates the practices that differentiate children into different categories and what this means for notions of normality integration belonging and citizenship Scrutinising the multiple forms of monitoring around disabled children and the consequences they generate for how we think about childhood and what is normal this volume sits at the intersection of disability studies and childhood studies

The Australian People James Jupp,2001-10 Australia is one of the most ethnically diverse societies in the world today From its ancient indigenous origins to British colonisation followed by waves of European then international migration in the twentieth century the island continent is home to people from all over the globe Each new wave of settlers has had a profound impact on Australian society and culture The Australian People documents the dramatic history of Australian settlement and describes the rich ethnic and cultural inheritance of the nation through the contributions of its people It is one of the largest reference works of its kind with approximately 250 expert contributors and almost one million words Illustrated in colour and black and white the book is both a comprehensive encyclopedia and a survey of the controversial debates about citizenship and multiculturalism now that Australia has attained the centenary of its federation
