How to Raise Independent and Professionally Successful Daughters Rita Stafford Dunn, Kenneth J. Dunn, 1977-01-01 Human Ethology Irenaus Eibl-Eibesfeldt, 2017-07-28 With the discovery of conditioned reflexes by I P Pavlov the possibilities for experimenting following the example set by the classical exact sciences were made available to the behavioral sciences Many psychologists hoped that the component parts of behavior had also been found from which the entire multifaceted cosmos of behavior could then be constructed An experimentally oriented psychology subsequently developed including the influential school of behaviorism This first text on human ethology presents itself as a unified work even though not every area could be treated with equal depth For example a branch of ethology has developed in the past decade which places particular emphasis on ecology and population genetics This field known as sociobiology has enriched discussion beyond the boundaries of behavioral biology through its stimulating and often provocative theses After vigorous debates between behaviorists anthropologists and sociologists we have entered a period of exchange of thoughts and a mutual approach which in many instances has led to cooperative projects of researchers from different disciplines This work offers a biological point of view for discussion and includes data from the author's cross cultural work and research from the staff of his institute It confirms above all else the astonishing unity of mankind and paints a basically positive picture of how we are moved by the same passions jealousies friendliness and active curiosity The need to understand ourselves has never been as great as it is today An ideologically torn humanity struggles for its survival Our species does not know how it should compensate its workers and it experiments with various economic systems constitutions and forms of government It struggles for freedom and stumbles into newer conflicts Population growth is apparently completely out of hand and at the same time many resources are being depleted We must consider our existence ratio Feminism, Inc. E. Zaslow, 2009-11-09 Drawing on extensive research with a diverse group of seventy teen girls Zaslow offers a critical account of the girl power moment in which feminism and femininity are shrink wrapped together in one market friendly package With a focus on pop music and television Zaslow skillfully explores the negotiative processes of teen girls as they make sense of girl power's new cultural narratives of femininity as well as its failure to offer strategies for real social change Written in highly accessible language this book charts new territory as it offers a rich account of the ways in which teen girls understand style sexuality motherhood and feminism in girl power media culture and how their desires social experiences and imaginings of the future are shaped in their relationship with a neoliberal girl power discourse The Resilient Child Joanne A. Joseph, 2007-10-10 If you try to identify the basic qualities of a child most likely to succeed as an adult what words might first come to mind Independent Likable Creative Disciplined According to Dr Joanne Joseph the essence of a productive and healthy personality is a positive and secure self image and a solid set of resilient attitudes and behaviors The Resilient Child Preparing Today's Youth for Tomorrow's World successfully integrates the latest information available about healthy cognitive development self esteem and resilience to give parents and teachers practical suggestions for nurturing these qualities in children and adolescents Dr Joseph an esteemed psychologist and child education consultant skillfully shows how stories television nutrition exercise parental discipline style and the child s individual characteristics each play a comprehensive role in the development of a child s self esteem and resilience With the author s clearly outlined strategies parents and educators can guide children to be socially skillful responsible disciplined good problem solvers and effective managers of the change and adversity inherent in today s world Elaborating beyond what others have identified as the elements of a productive personality Dr Joseph uses a series of inspiring anecdotes and documented research to discuss the following what experts do and do not know about the development of self esteem how parents and teachers can actively contribute to the natural development of a child s self esteem how to promote resilience in children through happy and difficult times the kinds of characteristics that differentiate children from each other how to liberate a child s inner strengths to build self esteem and resilience how literature and the media can teach resilient and productive values and behaviors styles of parental discipline and their influence on the development of the child and more

Differentiating Instruction for At-Risk Students Rita Dunn,Andrea Honigsfeld,2009 When the activities described herein are introduced to students whose learning styles they match most will demonstrate strong abilities to learn and remember new and difficult content within the first four months of beginning_ if not earlier This book is written to prevent more children from becoming at risk and to help those who already have fallen behind their classmates and do not enjoy school

Improved Test Scores, Attitudes, and Behaviors in America's Schools Thomas C. DeBello,Rita Dunn,1999-10-30 Education is a profession in which billions of federal dollars have been spent to reduce academic underachievement particularly for minority children from poverty homes Few funded programs have reduced failure on standardized achievement tests Despite either repetition or innovation most children who fail do not perform substantially better the next time around On the other hand practitioners who have used the Dunn and Dunn learning styles approaches have reported statistically higher standardized achievement test scores among average poorly achieving and special education students This book is based on the practical diverse experiences of more than thirty different supervisors throughout the United States Representing a variety of urban and suburban locations with diverse student populations each supervisor was able to obtain significantly higher standardized achievement test scores for his or her student populations
