Two young women who share a past secret one now an ambitious journalist the other a cop must join forces to stop a vicious killer no matter the risk in this nail biting debut from an international bestselling author
Recent graduate Freddie Venton is desperate to get her journalism career started
She cultivates contacts online writes for free for digital publications and earns minimum wage as a barista
She's been taught to seize the story and she takes a reckless chance when a face from her past leads to a juicy scoop Freddie hasn't seen her old friend Nasreen Cudmore in years But when she learns Nasreen is a police officer after a chance encounter outside her coffee shop Freddie makes a snap decision to follow her when Nasreen gets an urgent callout Impersonating a forensics officer Freddie visits Nasreen's crime scene where a man's body lies slumped over his computer With the police banned from and unfamiliar with social media it's Freddie who realises the victim was a troll and finds Apollyon a twitter account whose profile picture shows the dead body and the missing murder weapon The Hashtag Murderer posts cryptic clues online pointing to the next target taunting the police enthralling the press and the public When Apollyon follows her Freddie's afraid she might be next Time is running out as she and Nasreen face a desperate struggle to catch this cunning fame crazed killer and to escape their past demons in Follow Me a chilling procedural debut from critically acclaimed up and coming talent Angela Clarke

Killing Tradition Simon Bronner, 2008-11-21 Across the country and around the world people avidly engage in the cultural practice of hunting Children are taken on rite of passage hunting trips where relationships are cemented and legacies are passed on from one generation to another Meals are prepared from hunted game often consisting of regionally specific dishes that reflect a community's heritage and character Deer antlers and bear skins are hung on living room walls decorations and relics of a hunter's most impressive kills Only 5 percent of Americans are hunters but that group has a substantial presence in the cultural consciousness Hunting has spurred controversy in recent years inciting protest from animal rights activists and lobbying from anti cruelty demonstrators who denounce the custom But hunters have responded to such criticisms and the resulting legislative censures with a significant argument in their defense the claim that their practices are inextricably connected to a cultural tradition Further they counter that they as representatives of the rural lifestyle pioneer heritage and traditional American values are the ones being victimized Simon J Bronner investigates this debate in Killing Tradition Inside Hunting and Animal Rights Controversies Through extensive research and fieldwork Bronner takes on the many questions raised by this problematic subject Does hunting promote violence toward humans as well as animals Is it an outdated activity unnecessary in modern times Is the heritage of hunting worth preserving Killing Tradition looks at three case studies that are at the heart of today's hunting debate Bronner first examines the allegedly barbaric rituals that take place at deer camps every late November in rural America He then analyzes the annual Labor Day pigeon shoot of Hegins Pennsylvania which brings animal rights protests to a fever pitch Noting that these aren't simply American concerns and that the animal rights movement in America is linked to British animal welfare protests Bronner examines the rancor surrounding the passage of Great Britain's Hunting Act of 2004 the most comprehensive and divisive anti hunting legislation ever enacted The practice of hunting is sure to remain controversial as it continues to be touted and defended by its supporters and condemned and opposed by its detractors With Killing Tradition Bronner reflects on the social psychological and anthropological issues of the debate reevaluating notions of violence cruelty abuse and tradition as they have been constructed and contested in the twenty first century

Transcripts of an Internet Scammer Kenny

B.,2022-08-01 For the last ten years I have spent between 4 000 to 5 000 hours on many Internet dating sites looking for scammers I have spoken with well over five hundred scam artists from Africa alone and I have files on most of them My goal in researching Internet scammers was to become an expert on their methods and on how to recognize the warning signs of a scam This compiled research will enable people to detect a scam and ask the right questions to foil scammers from accomplishing their mission I hope to save many people from the heart ache embarrassment and financial loss that result from these scams It has been a tiring journey exposing the methods of a scammer My joy was found in wasting their time and asking them questions they simply couldn't answer Find out how the trap works in Transcripts of an Internet Scammer
