Information Technology R&D ,1985 Information Sources in Information Technology David Haynes, 2013-02-07 The aim of each volume of this series Guides to Information Sources is to reduce the time which needs to be spent on patient searching and to recommend the best starting point and sources most likely to yield the desired information The criteria for selection provide a way into a subject to those new to the field and assists in identifying major new or possibly unexplored sources to those who already have some acquaintance with it The series attempts to achieve evaluation through a careful selection of sources and through the comments provided on those sources Philosophy and Technology II Carl Mitcham, Alois Huning, 2012-12-06 Until recently the philosophy and history of science proceeded in a separate way from the philosophy and history of technology and indeed with respect to both science and technology philosophical and historical inquiries were also following their separate ways Now we see in the past quarter century how the philosophy of science has been profoundly influenced by historical studies of the sciences and no longer concerned so single mindedly with the analysis of theory and explanation with the relation between hypotheses and experimental observation Now also we see the traditional historical studies of technology supplemented by philosophical questions and no longer so plainly focussed upon contexts of application on invention and practical engineering and on the mutually stimulating relations between technology and society Further alas the neat division of intellectual labor those clearly drawn distinctions between science and technology between the theoretical and the applied between discovery and justification between internalist and externalist approaches all have become muddled Partly this is due to internal revolutions within the philosophy and history of science the first result being recognition of their mutual relevance Partly however this state of muddle is due to external factors science at the least in the last half century has become so intimately connected with technology and technological developments have created so many new fields of scientific and philosophical inquiry that any critical reflection on scientific and technological endeavors must henceforth take their interaction into account Services Marketing: Text and Cases, 2/e Harsh V.
