Kupu Mai Te Tutolu:

Proceedings of the Seventh International Conference on Austronesian Linguistics ,2023-07-24 Inside Out Vilsoni Hereniko, Rob Wilson, 1999-06-24 In a time of dynamism and contradiction in Pacific cultural production a time of turning things over and writing from the inside out this far reaching volume provides a comprehensive set of essays and interviews on the emergent literatures of the New Pacific With its dynamic combination of important position papers polemics and decolonizing critiques by noted authors and of analysis by new and established post colonial scholars this volume exposes the maze and mix of literatures and cultural identities breaking down and building up across the Pacific Ocean This pioneering work will be the definitive resource for anyone researching or teaching Pacific literature and will be invaluable for bringing Pacific culture to readers outside the region Historical Dictionary of Polynesia Robert D. Craig, 2011 The term Polynesia refers to a cultural and geographical area in the Pacific Ocean bound by what is commonly referred to as the Polynesian Triangle which consists of Hawai i in the north New Zealand in the southwest and Easter Island in the southeast Thousands of islands are scattered throughout this area most of which are currently included in one of the modern island states of American Samoa Cook Islands French Polynesia Hawai i New Zealand Samoa Tonga Tokelau Tuvalu and Wallis and Futuna The third edition of the Historical Dictionary of Polynesia greatly expands on the previous editions through a chronology an introductory essay an expansive bibliography and over 400 cross referenced dictionary entries on significant persons events places organizations and other aspects of Polynesian history from the earliest times to the present Appendixes of the major islands and atolls within Polynesia the rulers and administrators of the 13 major island states and basic demographic information of those states are also included Historical Dictionary of Polynesia Robert D. Craig, 2002 Alphabetically arranged entries ranging in length from a paragraph to several pages describe the important people food native animals politics history and culture of Polynesia which is made up of more than a dozen countries including American Samoa French Polynesia Hawaii New Zealand and Tonga The book includes a four page list of acronyms an extensive chronology and appendices with the names of Polynesian islands and lists of political rulers of the various states through history Author Craig emeritus history Alaska Pacific U has created several other dictionaries on Oceania Polynesian mythology and Hawaii Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Oral Traditions of Southeast Asia and Oceania Herman C. Kemp, 2004 Theater and Political Process Ingjerd Hoëm, 2004-10-01 The Argonauts in the Pacific famous through Malinowski s work have not been exempt from general historical developments in the world around them By focusing on two plays performed by the Tokelau Te Ata a theater group the author reveals the self perceptions of the Tokelau and highlights the dynamic relationship between issues of representation and political processes such as nation building infrastructural changes and increased regional migration It is through an analysis of communicative practices which the author carried out in the home atolls and in the diasporic communities in New Zealand that we arrive at a proper understanding of how global processes affect local institutions and everyday interaction Ritual Communication Gunter Senft, Ellen B. Basso, 2009-12-15 This volume presents a new approach to ritual communication by an international group of scholars from a multidisciplinary and cross cultural perspective rich with empirical data and path breaking for future theorizing on the topic The chapters show how ritual communication involves witnessing a future through the making of cultural knowledge They show ritual communication to be a highly self oriented multimodal process in which the human body temporalization and spatialized settings play crucial roles Ritual communication encompasses both verbal and sensory attributes It is in part dependent upon prior formulaic and repeated action and is thus anticipated within particular contexts of social interaction It is performed and therefore subject to evaluation by its participants according to standards defined by language ideologies local aesthetics contexts of use and interpersonal relations The authors here emphasize the variety of participatory and experiential aspects of ritual communication in contemporary African Native American Asian and Pacific cultures Among the forms covered are ritual constraints on everyday interaction gossip private and public encounters political meetings and public demonstrations rites of passage theatrical performances magical formulae shamanic chants affinal civilities and leaders ceremonial discourse The book is ideal for students and scholars in anthropology and linguistic anthropology in particular Provided by publisher

Living Kinship in the Pacific Christina Toren, Simonne Pauwels, 2015-04-01 Unaisi Nabobo Baba observed that for the various peoples of the Pacific kinship is generally understood as knowledge that counts It is with this observation that this volume begins and it continues with a straightforward objective to provide case studies of Pacific kinship In doing so contributors share an understanding of kinship as a lived and living dimension of contemporary human lives in an area where deep historical links provide for close and useful comparison The ethnographic focus is on transformation and continuity over time in Fiji Tonga and Samoa with the addition of three instructive cases from Tokelau Papua New Guinea and Taiwan The book ends with an account of how kinship is constituted in day to day ritual and ritualized behavior Languages of Governance in Conflict Ingjerd Hoëm, 2015-03-20 Through an ethnographically based study of local communicative practices in the Pacific atoll society of Tokelau the book adds to our understanding of how systems of governance are constituted by minute acts of social interaction and are informed by our conceptions of the nature of sociality It combines a social anthropological approach to postcolonial studies in which local and trans national communicative practices related to governance and conflict management are analysed as different language games The book offers an experience near approach to local modes of conflict management and patterns of leadership and documents how micro level communicative practices have an impact on macro political processes Common Worlds and Single Lives Verena Keck, 2020-08-20 In Pacific societies local knowledge which has been accumulated over thousands of years and is irreplaceable is rapidly disappearing With the extinction of languages the ability to observe and interpret the world from varying perspectives is also being lost At the same time an enormous body of knowledge about nature plants and animals is vanishing However in parallel with this the people of the Pacific are confronted with new modes of knowledge and newly introduced technologies through imported educational systems missions of various denominations and the media They do not passively assimilate this knowledge but adopt adapt and apply it in a syncretistic way These changes will have permanent effects on the individual lives of people in the region and their knowledge about themselves and their surrounding world This stimulating book tracks the course of these developments and offers revealing insights into the complexity of Pacific peoples responses to the process of globalization

New Song and Dance from the Central Pacific Allan Thomas, 1996 Thomas describes a people s interaction and involvement with their favorite dance and music and his own involvement through a reflexivity that he finds an increasingly productive perspective in Ethnomusicology The fatele was introduced early in the 20th century and includes new imagery in dance a

Tokelau Oral Literature Ingjerd Hoëm, Even Hovdhaugen, Arnfinn Muruvik Vonen, 1992 Kupa mai te Tutolu or Words from Tokelau is a collection of oral texts covering a wide range of genres from the most formal to the informal All the texts are presented in Tokelauan a Polynesian language spoken by about 1600 people on the three Tokelau islands and by about 3000 Tokelauans living in New Zealand and are accompanied by English translations and extensive notes Great care has been taken to ensure that the particular characteristics of the oral performances have not been lost The book combines a traditional philological analysis with empirically oriented modern linguistic and anthropological approaches The combination of in depth textual studies and a sensitivity to features of performance and context makes this study an original contribution to the field of Polynesian studies
