Women in Hispanic Literature Beth Miller, 2024-06-28 The topics covered by this pioneering collection of essays range from peninsular Spanish to Latin American literature from the eleventh to the twentieth centuries and from the subject of women as portrayed in Hispanic literature to the literature of Hispanic women writers Some pieces present polemical feminist arguments other are more traditional All the contributors use their subject to take new stands on old controversies ask new questions and reevaluate important aspects of Hispanic literature While there is ample evidence in these essays of the dual archetype in Hispanic literature of women as icon and woman as fallen idol the collection reaches beyond these stereotypes to more complex sociological and theoretical concerns Although such research has been abundantly pursued by scholars of English and American literature it has been notably absent from Hispanic studies This anthology is a comprehensive introduction to its subject and a stimulus to further work in the area Contributors Fernando Alegria Electa Arenal Julianne Burton Alan Deyermund Rosalie Gimeno Harriet Goldberg Estelle Irizarry Kathleen Kish Luis Leal Linda Gould Levine Melveena McKendrick Francine Masiello Beth Miller Elizabeth Ord ez Rachel Phillips Marcia L Welles This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1983

Paratextuality in Anglophone and Hispanophone Poems in the US Press, 1855-1901 Ayendy Bonifacio, 2024-04-30 Drawing examples from over 200 English language and Spanish language newspapers and periodicals published between January 1855 and October 1901 Paratextuality in Anglophone and Hispanophone Poems in the US Press 1855 1901 argues that nineteenth century newspaper poems are inherently paratextual The paratextual situation of many newspaper poems their links to surrounding textual items and discourses their editorialisation through circulation the way poems were altered from newspaper to newspaper and their association and disassociation with certain celebrity bylines editors and newspaper titles enabled contemporaneous poetic value and taste that in the mid to late nineteenth century were not only sentimental Romantic and or genteel In addition to these important categories for determining a good and bad poem poetic taste and value were determined Bonifacio argues via arbitrary consequences of circulation paratextualisation typesetter error and editorial convenience

Pennsylvania, 1923 Translation as Advocacy Various, 2024-04-25 What does it mean to advocate in translation for translation through translation What does advocacy look like for those who do the translating or for those whose work is translated To what extent is translation itself a form of advocacy These what questions are the driving force behind this collection Translation as Advocacy highlights the innovative ways in which translator academics in seven different fields discuss their practice in relation to their understanding of advocacy The book aims to encourage people to think about translators as active agents bringing new work into the receiving culture advocating for the writers they translate for ideas for practices As such the book asserts that the act of translation is a mode of cultural production and a political intervention through which the translator as advocate claims a significant position in intercultural dialogue. Featuring seven interrelated chapters, the book covers themes of judgement spaces for translation, classroom practice, collaboration, intercultural position, textuality and voice. Each chapter explores the specific demands of different types of translation work, the specific role of each stage of the process and what advocacy means at each of these stages, for example, choosing what is translated, mediating between author and receiving culture, pitching to publishers, social interactions framing the translation for different audiences, teaching, creating new canons, gatekeepers and prizes, dissemination, marketing and reception. This book repositions the role of the translator/academic as an activist who uses their knowledge and understanding to bring agency to the complex processes of understanding across time and space. Moving critically through the different stages that the translator/academic occupies, using the spaces for research, performance and classroom teaching as springboards for active engagement with the key preoccupations of our times, this book will highlight translation as advocacy for students, educators, audiences for translation and the translation industry. Like all the volumes in the Language Acts and Worldmaking series, the overall aim is two-fold: to challenge widely held views about language learning as a neutral instrument of globalisation and to innovate and transform language research, teaching and learning together with Modern Languages as an academic discipline by foregrounding its unique form of cognition and critical engagement. Specific aims are to propose new ways of bridging the gaps between those who teach and research languages and those who learn and use them in everyday contexts; from the professional to the personal, put research into the hands of wider audiences; share a philosophy, policy and practice of language teaching and learning which turns research into action; provide the research experience and data to enable informed debates on current issues and attitudes in language learning, teaching and research; share knowledge across and within all levels and experiences of language learning and teaching; showcase exciting new work that derives from different types of community activity and is of practical relevance to its audiences; disseminate new research in languages that engages with diverse communities of language practitioners.
