Body and Blood Andrew R. Hardy, Keith Foster, 2019-06-07 The largest missional challenge facing the church of Christ in the West is to equip every member to engage in missionary endeavor in third places. Third places are those social zones in society like coffee shops, gyms, shopping malls, pubs, etc., that everyone and anyone can meet in as commonly owned spaces. The authors argue that for too long the church has not equipped and trained its members to engage in mission in the public square. The mobilization of every member to become the hands and feet of the missional sacramental body of Christ to carry the message of God's generous love to not yet Christians is vital if we want to witness the kingdom reign of God extend into their lives. Places are important to the sovereign Lord of mission, and this book challenges the churches of Christ to become what they properly need to be: equipping agencies for every member mission and ministry. The Church Going Global

Tormod Engelsen, Erling Lundebj, Dagfinn Solheim, 2011 Joining God in the Great Unraveling Alan J.

Roxburgh, 2021-05-06 The awareness that the churches shaped out of the European Reformations are in an advanced process of unraveling is becoming increasingly sensed by many. This book proposes a way of addressing this unraveling based on the experiences and knowledge of people who have always had to struggle with the unraveling of their own communities and worlds. It takes us outside the circular conversations of the Euro-tribal churches into dialogue with people who have been marginalized to see how they have learned to reenter their formative stories to discover ways of remaking themselves in the unraveling. The book then turns these discoveries into ways the churches can engage their own massive unraveling. A

Theological Assessment of Reconciliation for Missiology in the Korean Context Hyo Seok Lim, 2021-07-01 Any Christian who lives in such a broken world may ask God what their role would be as the person who is reconciled with God and about the implications of the vertical dimension of reconciliation. Many would agree that the vertical and horizontal dimensions of reconciliation should not be separated. It is however still necessary to examine further. For instance, what does the inseparableness of the two dimensions actually mean in theory and practice? How does the vertical dimension of reconciliation become the source and foundation of the horizontal dimension? How should the church maintain its theology of reconciliation which includes both dimensions? All these questions point to an underlying question: what is the relationship between the vertical and horizontal dimensions of reconciliation? This book explores this question interacting with the four thinkers and practitioners of reconciliation Karl Barth Miroslav Volf Son Yang Won and Desmond Tutu and assessing the theology of a leading theologian in the discourse of mission as reconciliation Robert Schreiter Based on the discussions it presents a proposal for a more wholesome and robust understanding of reconciliation for the discourse in mission studies which can be applied to any broken context including the Korean peninsula
