and The Comparative Political Theology argues that Sayyid Qutb's radical critique of secular modernity seen as a product of a great theft of sovereignty that usurps the monopoly of God over the entire world of creation is not idiosyncratic or incoherent but a quintessential expression and an extreme type of a specific tradition of political theology that until now has been exclusively the province of the Western thought Dragos Stoica claims that Sayyid Qutb's political theology of Hakimiyyah God's Sovereignty is better understood by integrating it in a wider context of the antimodern political theology Thus throughout this book he compares Qutb's critique of modernity with the Pakistani Islamist thinker Abu al A la Mawdudi 1903 1979 the Spanish Catholic counter revolutionary political theologian Juan Donoso Cortés 1809 1853 as well as the Protestant political theologians Abraham Kuyper 1837 1920 and Rousas J Rushdoony 1916 2001 This book employs a family resemblance cross cultural comparative method and applies a cross disciplinary analytical model that combines comparative political theology with critical discourse analysis Employing these analytical instruments this book compares Qutb and his counterparts via the category of anti modern political theology more precisely through a set of shared antitheses organized around the master concept of God's Sovereignty The ultimate objective is to augment the understanding of the Qutbian critique of secular modernity as an essential dimension of anti modern political theology Thus by recasting Sayyid Qutb as an essential Muslim political theologian of God's Sovereignty placed within a larger cross cultural paradigm this book contributes as well to the necessary process of decolonization of political theology Boricua Muslims Ken

Chitwood, 2025-10-14 The stories and struggles of Puerto Rican Muslims in modern day America Among Puerto Rican converts to Islam marginalization is a fact of daily life Their authenticity is questioned by other Muslims and by fellow Boricua on the island and in the United States At the same time they exist under the shadow of US colonization and as Muslims in the context of American empire To be a Puerto Rican Muslim then is to negotiate identity at numerous intersections of diversity and difference Drawing on years of ethnographic research and more than a hundred interviews conducted in Puerto Rico New York Florida Texas New Jersey and online Ken Chitwood tells the story of Puerto Rican Muslims as they construct a shared sense of peoplehood through everyday practices Boricua Muslims thus provides a study of cosmopolitanism not as a political ideal but as a mundane social reality a reality that complicates scholarly and public conversations about race ethnicity and religion in the Americas Expanding the geography of global Islam and recasting the relationship between religion and Puerto Rican culture Boricua Muslims is an insightful reckoning with the manifold entanglements of identity amid late modern globalization Let Us be Muslims Sulaiman Muhammad, 1996 Healing the Nation Yucel

Yanikdag, 2014-08-20 Yucel Yanikdag explores how during the First World War Ottoman prisoners of war and military doctors discursively constructed their nation as a community and at the same time attempted to exclude certain groups from that nation Those excluded were not always from different ethnic or religious groups as you might expect The educated officer prisoners excluded the uncivilised and illiterate peasants from their concept of the nation while doctors used international

New Beginning in US-Muslim Relations Eugenio Lilli, 2016-06-01. This book carries out a comparative study of the US response to popular uprisings in the Middle East as an evaluation of President Barack Obama's foreign policy commitments. In 2009, Obama publicly pledged a new beginning in US Muslim relations, causing eager expectation of a clear shift in US foreign policy after the election of the 44th president of the United States. However, the achievement of such a shift was made particularly difficult by the existence of multiple and sometimes conflicting US interests in the region which influenced the Obama administration's response to the popular uprisings in five Muslim majority countries: Egypt, Bahrain, Yemen, Libya, and Syria. After providing a detailed analysis of the traditional features of both US foreign policy rhetoric and practice, this book turns its focus to the Obama administration's response to the 2011 Arab Awakening to determine whether Obama's foreign policy has indeed brought about a new beginning in US Muslim relations.
