Lester,2005 In Jesus in Our Wombs Rebecca J Lester takes us behind the walls of a Roman Catholic convent in central Mexico to explore the lives training and experiences of a group of postulants young women in the first stage of religious training as nuns Lester who conducted eighteen months of fieldwork in the convent provides a rich ethnography of these young women s journeys as they wrestle with doubts fears ambitions and setbacks in their struggle to follow what they believe to be the will of God Gracefully written finely textured and theoretically rigorous this book considers how these aspiring nuns learn to experience God by cultivating an altered experience of their own female bodies a transformation they view as a political stance against modernity Lester explains that the Postulants work toward what they see as an authentic femininity one that has been eclipsed by the values of modern society The outcome of this process has political as well as personal consequences The Sisters learn to understand their very intimate experiences of the Call and their choices in answering it as politically relevant declarations of self Readers become intimately acquainted with the personalities family backgrounds friendships and aspirations of the Postulants as Lester relates the practices and experiences of their daily lives Combining compassionate engaged ethnography with an incisive and provocative theoretical analysis of embodied selves Jesus in Our Wombs delivers a profound analysis of what Lester calls the convent s technology of embodiment on multiple levels from the phenomenological to the political Bunuel and Mexico Ernesto R.

Acevedo-Muñoz,2025-03-18 Though Luis Bu uel one of the most important filmmakers of the twentieth century spent his most productive years as a director in Mexico film histories and criticism invariably pay little attention to his work during this period The only book length English language study of Bu uel s Mexican films this book is the first to explore a significant but neglected area of this filmmaker s distinguished career and thus to fill a gap in our appreciation and understanding of both Bu uel s achievement and the history of Mexican film Ernesto Acevedo Mu oz considers Bu uel s Mexican films made between 1947 and 1965 within the context of a national and nationalist film industry comparing the filmmaker s employment of styles genres character types themes and techniques to those most characteristic of Mexican cinema In this study Bu uel s films emerge as a link between the Classical Mexican cinema of the 1930s through the 1950s and the new Cinema of the 1960s flourishing in a time of crisis for the national film industry and introducing some of the stylistic and conceptual changes that would revitalize Mexican cinema Official Gazette of the United States Patent and Trademark Office ,2003 Let's Go to
