Letter from an Unknown Woman and Other Stories Stefan Zweig, 2013-01-29 These four Stefan Zweig stories newly translated by the award winning Anthea Bell are among his most celebrated and compelling work The titular tale is a devastating depiction of unrequited love which inspired a classic Hollywood film directed by Max Oph ls and starring Joane Fontaine Elsewhere in the collection a young man mistakes the girl he loves for her sister two erstwhile lovers meet after an age spent apart and a married woman repays a debt of gratitude to her childhood sweetheart Expertly paced laced with the acutely accurate psychological detail and empathy that are Zweig s trademarks this is a powerful addition to Pushkin s growing collection of his work Letters from an Unknown Woman Gerard Woodward, 2011-10-17 With her children evacuated and her husband at the front Tory Pace is grudgingly sharing the family home with her irascible mother working at the local gelatin factory to help the war effort and generally doing just about as well as could be expected in difficult times Her quiet life is thrown into turmoil however when her prisoner of war husband Donald makes an outrageous demand for sexual gratification He wants a dirty letter Horrified at first that Donald is being turned into some sort of monster by the Nazis Tory s disgust gradually gives way to a sense of marital duty and taking in the libraries bookshops public

Balzac's quest for a woman with a fortune and recurrent episodes of the author chasing an elusive pot of gold driving the story. This biography of one classic author by another is filled with Zweig's characteristic psychological insights. He portrays the energy and exuberance of imagination that produced some two thousand characters in La comédie humaine as well as the daily details of the coffee chugging writer's life: his manic writing schedule, method of correcting proofs, dealing with publishers and reviewers, signing contracts, doing marketing and publicity. Balzac blends biography and literary history in a highly readable volume that will teach you French cultural history as you laugh out loud. Balzac is sure to entertain, instruct, and charm. It is a work of art alive with the teeming life of its model. It is true both to facts and to the more elusive psychological and spiritual truth of a man who has remained one of the most mysterious of great creators. Henri Peyre, Sterling professor of French Literature, Yale University, The New York Times, 1929.

The Haunted Screen Lee Kovacs, 2005-11-21 While ghosts often inhabit films and literature devoted to the horror genre, a group of literature-based films from the 1930s and 1940s presents more human and romantic apparitions. These films provide the underpinnings for many of the gentle supernatural films of the 1990s. Tracing the links between specters as diverse as Rex Harrison's Captain Gregg and Patrick Swazie's Sam Wheat, the text presents the evolution of the cinematic literary ghost from classic Gothic to the psychological, sociological, and political ideologies of today. Included are analyses of the literary and film versions of classic ghost stories: Wuthering Heights, The Ghost and Mrs. Muir, Portrait of Jennie, Letter from an Unknown Woman, The Uninvited, Liliom, and Our Town, as well as interpretations of modern films not based on literary works that show the influence of these predecessors: Ghost and Truly, Madly, Deeply. The text includes stills, a bibliography, and an index.

Heather Laing, 2017-07-05 The Gendered Score: Music in 1940s Melodrama and the Woman's Film Heather Laing examines for the first time the issues of gender and emotion that underpin the classical style of film scoring but that have until now remained unquestioned and untheorized, thus providing a benchmark for thinking on more recent and alternative styles of scoring. Many theorists have discussed this type of music in film as a signifier of emotion and the feminine, a capacity in which it is frequently associated with female characters. The full effect of such an association on either female or male characterization, however, has not been examined. This book considers the effects of this association by progress through three stages: cultural historical precedents, the generic parameters of melodrama and the woman's film, and the narrativization of music in film through diegetic performance and the presence of musicians as characters. Case studies of specific films provide textual and musical analyses, and the genres of melodrama and the woman's film have been chosen as representative not only of the epitome of the Hollywood scoring style but also of the narrative association of women, emotion, and music. Laing leads to the conclusion that music functions as more than merely a signifier of emotion. Rather, it takes a crucial role in both indicating and determining how emotion is actually understood as part of the construction of gender and its representation in film.

Film, Music, Memory Berthold Hoeckner, 2019-11-27 Film has shaped modern society in part by changing its cultures of memory Film Music Memory reveals that this change has rested in no small measure on the mnemonic powers of music As films were consumed by growing American and European audiences their soundtracks became an integral part of individual and collective memory Berthold Hoeckner analyzes three critical processes through which music influenced this new culture of memory storage retrieval and affect Films store memory through an archive of cinematic scores In turn a few bars from a soundtrack instantly recall the image that accompanied them and along with it the affective experience of the movie Hoeckner examines films that reflect directly on memory whether by featuring an amnesic character a traumatic event or a surge of nostalgia As the history of cinema unfolded movies even began to recall their own history through quotations remakes and stories about how cinema contributed to the soundtrack of people s lives Ultimately Film Music Memory demonstrates that music has transformed not only what we remember about the cinematic experience but also how we relate to memory itself Letters from an Unknown Woman Gerard Woodward,2012-10-01 With her children evacuated and her husband at the front Tory Pace is grudgingly sharing the family home with her irascible mother working at the local gelatin factory to help the war effort and generally doing just about as well as could be expected
