Dear Mrs. Roosevelt:

Thank you for your 1st letter. I have now written for the first time a rather whimsical essay about one of the children's happenings and have sent it off. Maybe I should let the famous express opinions.

If you will be in Hyde Park Thursday evening or Friday morning the 17th or 18th I would be near enough enroute back to Pittsburgh to just say 'hello' and ask you to write in the book. Now please don't make any effort to arrange your plans for me. I only write ahead because if you would not be there we would not go quite that way as we are going to New London and New Haven. And I may be in New York in the fall. However, I know when you are there you are just too busy with important things to be interrupted with casual matters. If you could drop me a card here ~~before~~ which would arrive before next Wednesday, I would appreciate it.

Hastily but always cordially yours,

Emmaline Dumars
