EC Law Aspects of Hybrid Entities Gijsbert Karel Fibbe, 2009 This study discusses the impact of the EC Treaty on the recognition of entities in the internal market The EC Treaty envisages the internal market as an area without internal frontiers in which the free movement of goods persons services and capital is ensured in accordance with the provisions of the EC Treaty One of the key questions discussed in this study is how this rationale reflects the relation between tax laws of Member States and specifically the relation between the application of autonomous classification methods by Member States and the free allocation of economic resources in the internal market This study also contains an examination of how the different approaches to hybrid entities in tax treaties interfere with EC law This part of the study contains an analysis of how the interrelation between domestic tax laws and the approach to classification conflicts under existing bilateral tax treaties relates to EC law

Stocks for All: People's Capitalism in the Twenty-First Century

Petri Mäntysaari, 2021-12-31 Public stock markets are too small This book is an effort to rescue public stock markets in the EU and the US There should be more companies with publicly traded shares and more direct share ownership Anchored in a broad historical study of the regulation of stock markets and companies in Europe and the US the book proposes ways to create a new regulatory regime designed to help firms and facilitate people's capitalism Through its comparative and historical study of regulation and legal practices the book helps to understand the evolution of public stock markets from the nineteenth century to the present day The book identifies design principles that reflect prior regulation While continental European company law has produced many enduring design principles the recent regulation of stock markets in the EU and the US has failed to serve the needs of both firms and retail investors The book therefore proposes a new set of design principles to serve contemporary societal needs

A 'Social Turn' in the European Union? Jacek Kubera, Tomasz Morozowski, 2020-04-08 Social Europe is a key topic in the construction of the EU and its institutions This volume examines the current state of and perspectives for Social Europe as well as key issues in European social policy including the posting of workers the impact of the free market and regulations on social convergence work automation digitalisation taxation and democracy in the workplace The aim of this volume is to identify a course to be followed in integrating the EU's social policies and point to areas in which co-operation between member states is likely to produce best results While a Social Europe was previously seen to be a natural consequence of political and economic integration it is now viewed as a separate area that requires active policies to preserve the European project The EU's big question today concerns the level at which this policy should be pursued the volume's contributors outline difficulties with harmonising social policies across the Union but they nevertheless argue that owing to the common challenges faced by Europe the idea of a Social Europe must not be abandoned and requires specific action The volume consists of 11 chapters written by a variety of expert authors analysing the idea of a Social Europe and proposing ways in which it could be put into practice Social policy can no longer be seen as derived from economic policy but rather as a separate driver of development that could be of interest to the northern southern and eastern states of the EU Jacek Kubera PhD Assistant Professor Faculty of Sociology Adam Mickiewicz University in Pozna Tomasz Morozowski PhD candidate Faculty of Political Science and Journalism Adam Mickiewicz University in Pozna and analyst at the Pozna Institute for Western Affairs
