beings who have tasted freedom and spare no efforts in order to share it with suffering humanity And they often initiate the process of its discovery in seeking and suffering beings by pointing out the need for an intense yearning to be free Cry oh mind with a real cry sings Ramprasad Sen and the Mother of the Universe will not be able to withhold Her sweet Presence from you any longer Beings cry jugs of tears for mates money and materials states Sri Ramakrishna Paramahansa but shed not one tear for God Furthermore our intense yearning to be free must lead us straightaway to the path the teacher and the specific formula for the attainment of divine life which best suits each individual s karmas abilities and capacities The thorough breakdown of all that impedes doubt fear misconception inordinate desire is brought to bear in life by the cultivation of spirituality via hands on practice Without it there adheres in the mental body a whole host of various forms of attachment call them what you will many of them masquerading meekly as freedom As Sri Shankaracharya poignantly puts it When I was a baby I was attached to my mother s breast when I was a young man I was attached to a young woman when I was old I was attached to anxiety but to the Supreme Brahman alas I was never attached Nectar #5 Babaji Bob

Kinder,Annapurna Sarada,Reyhan al-Jerrahi,Alan Hunter,Marisela Bracho,Arawana Hayashi,Akiko Masuda,Kristin Cato,Seta Chandran,2001-10-31 If science art and religion are all open pathways when utilized properly we attempt in this issue to discover what true art consists of Ask the practitioner and inquire of the adept is the recourse we have resorted to herein Music poetry dance painting and film described in these pages are duly five sacred constituents of the infinite expanse of Advaitic experience We have heard seen possibly have even known what these sacred forms have suffered at the hands of people with a desire for fame a yen for pleasure and the singular search for wealth that occludes and excludes all other considerations The sweet exalted and transporting presence of God simply disappears from the medium and atmosphere which covets such fugacious spurious and soporific attainments Led on by artists who support a mere masquerade of true attainment beings rush to the affluent and the popular for their inner fulfillment scarcely ever experiencing the superlative presence of divinity residing in pure artistic expression Thus the authentic luminaries of art science and religion seldom get recognized by the masses and the masses then have little recourse and access to the more profound insights and inspirations of the various refined fields How is music made sacred Is it sacred already Is all dance divine Does all poetry reflect the divine muse within Do all works of art speak of the highest realization Does it really matter or is all realization like beauty in the eye of the beholder Possibly some of these questions may find answers in the following pages But if not suffice to say that where the medium is purified where a lustral regimen has been adhered to there spiritualized expression will reach its zenith When sensitive artists seeking the highest place their gifts and talents in action and offer the fruits of such before the world they must first and necessarily have subjected them to purification and intensification Any instrument whether it be a metal tube or a fleshy tube a wooden box with strings or a metal box containing film a tome of writings a paintbrush or the human body is always under the control of consciousness Like different conditions of water some fit for drinking some for swimming some for washing dishes and some only for carrying waste the consciousness of human minds is also pure or impure as the case may be In artistic endeavor then as in spiritual practice purification of what is limited or impure renders the medium fit to emanate the truth or essence of any given expression such as inspired choreography a masterpiece on canvas an original composition a unique film or a work of literary genius all which have the ability to transform lives So here is the acid test with regards to true artforms at least for the discriminating person As is consistent with all modes of existence with work dreams visions relative experiences of all types if they help reveal the divine essence in human nature and assist human character by way of positive accretion then they can be said to be real authentic and ultimately meaningful Otherwise too much distraction and wasted energy plague them as well as their host all amounting to vanity and vexation of human spirit

Teaching on Assessment Sharon L. Nichols, Divya Varier, 2021-03-01 In an age where the quality of teacher education programs has been called into question it is more important than ever that teachers have a fundamental understanding of the principles of human learning motivation and development Theory to Practice Educational Psychology for Teachers and Teaching is a series for those who teach educational psychology in teacher education programs At a time when educational psychology is at risk of becoming marginalized it is imperative that we as educators walk our talk in serving as models of what effective instruction looks like Each volume in the series draws upon the latest research to help instructors model fundamental principles of learning motivation and development to best prepare their students for the diverse multidimensional uncertain and socially embedded environments in which these future educators will teach The inaugural volume Teaching on Assessment is centered on the role of assessment in teaching and learning Each chapter translates current research on critical topics in assessment for educational psychology instructors and teacher educators to consider in their teaching of future teachers Written for practitioners the aim is to present contemporary issues and ideas that would help teachers engage in meaningful assessment practice This volume is important not only because of the dwindling presence of assessment related instructional content in teacher preparation programs but also because the policy changes in the last two decades have transformed the meaning and use of assessment in K 12 classrooms Praise for Teaching on Assessment This thought provoking book brings together perspectives from educational psychology and teacher education to examine how assessment can best support student motivation engagement and learning In the volume editors Nichols and Varier present a set of chapters written by leaders in the field to examine critical questions about how to best prepare teachers to make instructional decisions understand assessment within the context of learning and motivation theory and draw on assessment in ways which can meet the needs of diverse learners Written in a highly accessible language and style each chapter contains clear takeaway messages designed for educational psychologists teacher educators teachers and pre service teachers This book is essential reading for anyone involved in teaching or developing our future teaching professionals Lois R Harris Australian Catholic University This impressive book provides a wealth of contemporary and engaging resources ideas and perspectives that educational psychology instructors will find relevant for helping students understand the complexity of assessment decision making as an essential component of instruction Traditional assessment principles are integrated with contemporary educational psychology research that will enhance prospective teachers decision making about classroom assessments that promote all students learning and motivation It is unique in showing how to best leverage both formative and summative assessment to boost student engagement and achievement enabling students to understand how to integrate practical classroom constraints and realities with current knowledge about self regulation intrinsic motivation and other psychological constructs that assessment needs to consider The chapters are written by established experts who are able to effectively balance presentation of research and theory with practical applications Notably the volume includes very important topics rarely emphasized in other assessment texts including assessment literacy frameworks diversity equity assessment strategies for students with special needs and data driven decision making The book will be an excellent supplement for educational psychology classes or for assessment courses introducing students to current thinking about how to effectively integrate assessment with instruction James McMillan Virginia Commonwealth University

Good Schools in Poor Neighborhoods
Beatriz C. Clewell, Patricia B. Campbell, Lesley Perlman, 2007 Good Schools in Poor Neighborhoods contrasts highly effective schools serving urban low income minority youth with their more typical struggling counterparts Highlighted are two disparate schools one serving predominately African American students in a large northeastern city and one serving Latino students in a southwestern urban area Through solid data from original research as well as lively vignettes and vivid quotes from principals teachers parents and students a picture of exceptional schools emerges to guide policymakers and practitioners
