Pratiques d'organisation communautaire en CSSS RQIIAC, 2011-06-20T00:00:00-04:00 Avec la création des centres de santé et de services sociaux CSSS en 2004 et les transformations des communautés locales au cours de la dernière décennie il était impératif pour le Regroupement québécois des intervenantes et intervenants en action communautaire en CSSS RQIIAC de réviser son cadre de référence publié en 2003. Adopté en mars 2010 la suite d'une consultation menée dans diverses régions du Québec le nouveau texte rassemble l'ensemble des dimensions essentielles de la pratique des organisatrices et organisateurs communautaires dans les CSSS. Il s'accompagne d'un cadre de pratique qui traite de l'organisation du travail de son encadrement et de son soutien ainsi que de quatorze récits de pratique qui illustrent concrètement les concepts qu'il avance. Destin avant tout celles et ceux qui exercent la profession mais aussi celles et ceux qui s'y parent de même qu'aux cadres des CSSS l'ouvrage fait une mise jour des acquis de près de quarante années d'exercice de l'organisation communautaire dans le réseau public québécois de la santé et des services sociaux. Il est aussi safaon un manifeste qui vise consolider une pratique de changement social au sein du réseau public et faire progresser les idées qui l'animent Community-Based Programs and Policies Howard A. Palley, 2014-01-02 This collection is focused on the provision of community based programs and activities in health and related long term care services that have contributed or may in the future contribute to social policy development. Several of the articles in this collection deal with community based health and long term care program and policy initiatives that have been facilitated through federal programs such as Medicare Medicaid and the Older Americans Act. The implementation of some of these community based programs have significantly influenced social policy thinking regarding the beneficial effects of integrating medical and social aspects of health and long term care services as well as the health care team approach to the delivery of health and long term care services. Another dimension addressed is the impact of interest groups such as family caregivers in advancing social policy that supports the efforts of community based family care givers in providing services to patients in need. The underlying theme is how such local community programs have contributed in a variety of ways to the development of social policies at the community level that in many ways focus on the integration of health and related long term care services and a health care team approach to the provision of such services. The book will be of interest to community development courses in Schools of Social Work and other health professions such as Nursing and Public Health. It will also be of interest to health policy programs in public administration and other social sciences. This book was published as a special issue of Social Work in Public Health Transformations de l'intervention
