Lessons from New American Schools Development Corporation's Demonstration Phase Susan J. Bodilly, S. W. Purnell, Kimberly Ramsey, Sarah J. Keith, 1996 Evaluates the progress of nine designs for whole school reform currently being tested in schools

Leadership Lessons from Comprehensive School Reforms Joseph Murphy, Amanda Datnow, 2003

Leadership Lessons From Comprehensive School Reform addresses a topic that has received far too little attention in the comprehensive school reform movement the role of school and district leaders in the reform process This volume shows how much we've learned about how leaders shape comprehensive reform and how the reform process must shape leadership

Robert Slavin Co Director Center for Research on the Education of Students Placed at Risk Johns Hopkins University This volume provides the most thorough balanced and informative source available on comprehensive school reform In addition to insights regarding implementation of many of the most prominent CSR models the book is a primer on distributed leadership providing perspectives on the interplay of principals teacher leaders central office administrators and model developers engaged in school and district reform

James Lytle Superintendent Trenton New Jersey Public Schools This book offers well grounded insights about the leadership practices of educators involved in the implementation of Comprehensive School Reform models Leaders and leadership scholars will find it a rewarding read I recommend it highly

Kenneth Leithwood Ontario Institute for Studies in Education Ontario Canada Discover what we've learned about educational leadership from comprehensive school reforms models straight from the experts and insiders

Comprehensive School Reform CSR is proving to be one of the most promising avenues for improving student achievement The authors have found that leadership is frequently acknowledged to be a prime factor in the successful implementation of comprehensive school reform

Murphy and Datnow have gathered together a group of CSR insiders and researchers to examine the issue of leadership in CSR for the first time Contributors and CSR models include Expeditionary Learning Schools Modern Red Schoolhouse Co Nect Success for All New American Schools Chicago Annenberg Challenge Bay Area School Reform Collaborative Accelerated Schools Coalition of Essential Schools Comer School Development Process

A Nation at Risk Kenneth K. Wong, James W. Guthrie, Douglas N. Harris, 2014-06-03 This special issue examines the underlying assumptions of the A Nation At Risk report the context within which the Commission's work was situated and the effects of the report in improving teaching and learning as well as the performance of the public educational system The purpose is to address three broad questions Was America's education system really putting the nation at risk in the early 1980s What is the legacy of A Nation At Risk Given our current knowledge on education and human development the report's overall concern is restated What risks and opportunities lay before the nation today and how will they affect the notion of a learning society and our public education system Taken as a whole the seven articles address the three broad issues identified regarding the past current and future of educational reform in the United States

Resources in Education ,1998 Challenges of Conflicting School

Reforms Mark Berends,JoAn Chun,Gina Schuyler Ikemoto,Sue Stockly,R. J. Briggs,2002-03-29 A decade ago New American Schools NAS launched an ambitious effort for whole school reform to address the perceived lagging achievement of American students and the lackluster school reform attempts that have produced so few meaningful changes As a private nonprofit organization NAS set out to help schools and districts significantly raise the achievement of large numbers of students by offering whole school designs and design based assistance during the implementation process NAS is currently in the scale up phase of its effort and its designs are being widely diffused to schools across the nation During the 1997_1998 and 1998_1999 school years RAND assessed the effects of NAS designs on classroom practice and student achievement in a sample of schools in a high poverty district RAND found that high poverty schools often have fragmented and conflicting environments with difficult and changing political currents and entrenched unions Teachers in high poverty schools tend to face new accountability systems and fluctuating reform agendas These teachers generally lack sufficient time for implementing reform efforts often becoming demoralized and losing their enthusiasm for the difficult task of improving student performance under difficult conditions RAND concluded that high stakes tests may motivate schools to increase performance and to seek out new curricula and instructional strategies associated with comprehensive school reforms However those same tests may provide disincentives to adopt richer more in depth curricula that can succeed in improving the learning opportunities of all students particularly those in high poverty settings

Bold Plans for School

Restructuring Samuel C. Stringfield,Steven M. Ross,Lana Smith,2012-11-12 Two powerful forces are driving American demands for better schools one longstanding force is idealistic and the other is new and economic The current group of young Americans is in danger of being the first full generation to consistently make less money and enjoy fewer worldly rewards than their parents The intersection of idealistic and pragmatic forces has produced an era of calls for reform in U S education that is unparalleled calls that have resulted in the creation of the New American Schools Development Corporation NASDC The chapters in this book highlight the path traveled by NASDC a private non profit corporation charged with creating new break the mold school designs for the 21st century and describes the first three years accomplishments of nine NASDC development teams

Implementation and Performance in New American Schools Mark Berends,2001 As a private nonprofit corporation New American Schools NAS began in 1991 to fund the development of designs aimed at transforming entire schools at the elementary and secondary levels This report describes trends in implementation school performance and related factors for a sample of NAS schools It is based on a three year longitudinal study of these schools

The Dimensions of Time and the Challenge of School Reform Patricia C. Gandara,2000-01-01 Annotation As the education reform movement matures into its second decade it is clear that many promising efforts have fallen short in their attempts to create real school change One reason for this is that the process of school reform is much more complex than most reformers realized or were willing to acknowledge The Dimensions of Time and the Challenge of School Reform points to another problem the problem of time and its role in both the success and failure of school reform efforts The importance of understanding the role that time plays in both learning and instruction and finding ways to provide time for teachers grappling with change and students learning to accommodate a new language and culture are important themes in this book This book is directed to policymakers and practitioners as well as to academics in that it combines theory with the real world experiences of many who have been active in the school reform movement and who have learned through trial and error how to think about time in innovative ways Book jacket IJER Vol 14-N1 International Journal of Educational Reform, 2005-07-07 The mission of the International Journal of Educational Reform IJER is to keep readers up to date with worldwide developments in education reform by providing scholarly information and practical analysis from recognized international authorities As the only peer reviewed scholarly publication that combines authors voices without regard for the political affiliations perspectives or research methodologies IJER provides readers with a balanced view of all sides of the political and educational mainstream To this end IJER includes but is not limited to inquiry based and opinion pieces on developments in such areas as policy administration curriculum instruction law and research IJER should thus be of interest to professional educators with decision making roles and policymakers at all levels turn since it provides a broad based conversation between and among policymakers practitioners and academicians about reform goals objectives and methods for success throughout the world Readers can call on IJER to learn from an international group of reform implementers by discovering what they can do that has actually worked IJER can also help readers to understand the pitfalls of current reforms in order to avoid making similar mistakes Finally it is the mission of IJER to help readers to learn about key issues in school reform from movers and shakers who help to study and shape the power base directing educational reform in the U S and the world Implementing Educational Reform Colleen McLaughlin, Alan Ruby, 2021-11-25 There is constant pressure on governments and policy makers to raise the standard of education and to develop appropriate curriculum and pedagogies for students It is no easy task This book presents eight specific case studies of education reform implementation which capture how the design and implementation choices of policy makers are shaped by national and historical contexts They offer real examples of the choices and constraints faced by policymakers and practitioners The cases are a mix of nationally and locally mandated reforms with five examples from nations where the state initiated and guided reforms The concluding synthesis chapter highlights commonalities and differences across the cases and disparate responses to shared concerns Providing a breadth of real world research it will assist policy makers practitioners and other stakeholders interested in system change Facing the Challenges of Whole-School Reform Mark Berends, Susan J. Bodilly, Sheila Nataraj Kirby, 2002-04-03 About a decade ago New American Schools NAS set out to address the perceived lagging performance of American students and the lackluster results of school reform efforts As a private nonprofit organization NAS's mission was and is to help schools and districts raise student achievement levels by using whole school designs and design team assistance during implementation Since its inception NAS has engaged in a development phase 1992-1993 a demonstration phase 1993-1995 and a scale up phase 1995-present Over the last ten years RAND has been monitoring the progress of the NAS initiative This book is a retrospective on NAS and draws together the findings from RAND research The book underscores the significant contributions made by NAS to comprehensive school reform but also highlights the challenges of trying to reform schools through whole school designs Divided into sections on each research phase the book concludes with an afterword by NAS updating its own strategy for the future This book will interest those who want to better understand comprehensive school reform and its effects on teaching and learning within high stakes accountability environments Cultivating Knowledge Scott Tunison, 2016-07-27 Over the last decade or two there has been increasing consensus that academic research if used judiciously to guide practice improves both educational policy and pedagogy ultimately leading to better outcomes for students Yet despite this potential there remains a deep ravine between the body of knowledge built through research especially at the intersection between specific interventions and improved student achievement and the actions taken by policy makers administrators and classroom teachers in their regular practice There are myriad reasons for this research practice divide Among them is that it is difficult for district based people to access primary research Furthermore multiple waves of well intentioned research based but largely unsuccessful school reform efforts have resulted in skepticism among practitioners about research and at the same time damaged researchers credibility in the field This book is divided into three broad areas First it develops an engaging analysis of the root causes for the research practice gap in education Second it describes the framework developed and used in a public school district by the author to address the root causes and provides evidence of its efficacy to facilitate greater incorporation of research into school and district level practice Through a process the author calls Knowledge Cultivation the framework uses weekly research summaries for district leaders that are relevant to their real time issues along with suggestions about ways in which the research might be useful The final section of the book includes the actual research summaries used by the author over a five year period Toward Positive Youth Development Marybeth Shinn, Hirokazu Yoshikawa, 2008-04-10 This shows how to harness the power of settings shifting the debate from simply enhancing youth outcomes at the individual level to improving the settings of youths daily lives It offers blueprints for creating and changing influential settings including classrooms schools universities out of school time programs etc

Safe Passage Joy G. Dryfoos, 1998 A passionate call to arms by one of America's leading advocates for children at risk Safe Passage examines hundreds of successful programs ideas that have worked in the real world models that can be applied to our own communities and our own children 14 illustrations Handbook of Education Policy Research Gary Sykes, Barbara Schneider, David N. Plank, 2012-09-10 Co published by Routledge for the American Educational Research Association AERA Educational policy continues to be of major concern Policy debates about economic growth and national competitiveness for example commonly focus on the importance of human capital and a highly educated workforce Defining the theoretical boundaries and methodological approaches of education policy research are the two primary themes of this comprehensive AERA sponsored Handbook Organized into seven sections the Handbook focuses on 1 disciplinary foundations of educational policy 2 methodological perspectives 3 the policy process 4 resources management and organization 5 teaching and learning policy 6 actors and institutions and 7 education access and differentiation Drawing from multiple disciplines the Handbook s over one hundred authors address three central questions What policy issues and questions have oriented current policy research What research strategies and methods have proven most fruitful And what issues questions and methods will drive future policy research Topics such as early childhood education school choice access to higher education teacher accountability and testing and measurement cut across the 63 chapters in the volume The politics surrounding these and other issues are objectively analyzed by authors and commentators Each of the seven sections concludes with two commentaries by leading scholars in the field The first considers the current state of policy design and the second addresses the current state of policy research This book is appropriate for scholars and graduate students working in the field of education policy and for the growing number of academic government and think tank researchers engaged in policy research For more information on the American Educational Research Association please visit <http://www.aera.net>

International Handbook of Leadership for Learning
 Tony Townsend, John MacBeath, 2011-07-10 The International Handbook of Leadership for Learning brings together chapters by distinguished authors from thirty one countries in nine different regions of the world The handbook contains nine sections that provide regional overviews a consideration of theoretical and contextual aspects system and policy approaches that promote leadership for learning with a focus on educating school leaders for learning and the role of the leader in supporting learning It also considers the challenge of educating current leaders for this new perspective and how leaders themselves can develop leadership for learning in others and in their organisations especially in diverse contexts and situations The final chapter considers what we now know about leadership for learning and looks at ways this might be further improved in the future The book provides the reader with an understanding of the rich contextual nature of learning in schools and the role of school leaders and leadership development in promoting this It concludes that the preposition for between the two readily known and understood terms of leadership and learning changes everything as it foregrounds learning and complexifies rather than simplifies what that word may mean Whereas common terms such as instructional leadership reduce learning to outcomes leadership for learning embraces a much wider developmental view of learning

Success for All Yanyu Zhou, 2008-11-01 This book provides a detailed account of an educational experiment in a middle school in Shanghai China The school called Zhabei No 8 Middle School hereafter No 8 School is located in a run down lower working class district Since the mid 1980s the school has experimented on an educational reform program called success education aiming to help those at risk students to be successful in school This book illustrates how this educational experiment has been carried out and to identify experiences that could be learned by the international educational community The book analyzes the critical role played by Principal Liu Jinghai and particular attention is paid to the strategies adopted by the school to help enhance students self esteem through integrating love and care throughout the school s curriculum and activities The pivotal roles played by teachers called class directors are meticulously studied and efforts the school has made to collaborate with parents and the local community are examined An ethnographic approach was used to gather data in this study A combination of interviews participant observation and document analysis was applied to arrive at a systematic and complex understanding of this educational endeavor in China Implementing Academic Standards James B. Hunt,1999-06 The National Education Goals NEG Panel has assembled information regarding standards implementation especially in the areas of math and science The papers in this volume describe how states have recently implemented their education standards how textbooks and teaching could help students reach standards and the resources and advice available from the professional organizations that developed national standards in math and science Sections include current state policy on standards special issues relating to teachers and textbooks special issues relating to math and science and NEG Panel policy related to standards

Inspiration, Perspiration, and Time Brian Gill,Laura S. Hamilton,J. R. Lockwood,Julie A. Marsh,Ron Zimmer,2005-12-08 In 2000 Edison Schools the nation s largest education management organization asked RAND to analyze its achievement outcomes and design implementation RAND evaluated Edison s strategies for promoting student achievement in its schools how it implemented those strategies how its management affected student achievement and what factors explained differences in achievement trends among its schools Constructivist Education in an Age of Accountability David W. Kritt,2018-01-16 This book contrasts authentic approaches to education with classroom practices based primarily on standards external to the individuals who are supposed to learn While other books tend to promote either a desperate scramble for meeting standards or determined resistance to neoliberal reforms this book fills that gap in ways that will inspire practitioners prospective teachers and teacher educators Mandates pay only lip service to constructivist and social constructivist principles while thwarting the value of both students and teachers actively creating understandings Authors in this book assert the central importance of a range of constructivist approaches to teaching learning and thinking inviting careful reflection on the goals and values of education
