Empowering Teachers Across Europe to Deal with Social, Emotional and Diversity-Related Challenges Ana Kozina,2024-02-20 The increase in reported levels of stress and burnout in teachers across Europe highlights the importance of teachers social and emotional competencies and diversity awareness SEDA Since teaching is an extremely social and emotional process where diversity if recognised is embraced at every step we believe that supporting teachers to develop SEDA competencies is the key to shaping not only the positive relationships of living and learning together in classrooms but also in living and learning together in society Once SEDA competencies are supported a positive shift can occur at the level of individual teacher classroom school and society level The book is our way of experimentally demonstrating how teachers SEDA can be supported across Europe Volume I and how policy can support these processes Volume II Volume I focuses on the innovative conceptual overlap of social and emotional competencies and diversity awareness and experimentally test it across European countries with an emphasis on conceptualisation implementation and evaluation processes

Materialities of Schooling Martin Lawn,Ian Grosvenor,2005-05-16 This is a book with an interest in the materiality of schooling It is focused on objects in schooling which taken individually and together constitute the sites of schooling It does not assume a fixed dichotomy between objects and people in other words that there is a life of imagination and action and there are collections of inanimate objects Nor does it assume that the technologies and objects of schooling chained together by routines and action should remain invisible from inquiry into schools as sites of learning and work Instead by drawing attention to the materiality of schooling that is the ways that objects are given meaning how they are used and how they are linked into heterogeneous active networks in which people objects and routines are closely connected it is hoped that a richer historical account can be created about the ways that schools work

Autism and Reading Comprehension Joseph Porter,2016-07-18 The predictable format repetition and routine of these lessons will create a relaxed learning environment while the variations in the topics will hold students attention and help them generalize the reading skills they need to succeed Starting with Level 1 The Cat and ending with Level 9 The Lizard special educator Joseph Porter has developed an amazing 90 hours of animal themed whole group instructions There are two student worksheets for each of nine animals totaling eighteen worksheets Each worksheet has four variations and there is a ready to go lesson plan for each one There are also two sentence building exercises for each animal theme which will build students observation skills and help them transform those skills into conversation and written language In addition to the step by step lesson plans Joseph provides a detailed description of what the lessons will look and feel like in the classroom complete with valuable first hand advice In the back you ll find an appendix with numerous suggestions for complementary activities for each animal theme so you can supplement on the days with art projects music books and videos There is even a section containing Data Collection Sheets assessment forms that will help you record students progress per

Standard Lesson Commentary, 1986-87 Jim Fehl, 1986 Lessons learned from maths lessons: Things we have learned from watching trainee teachers of secondary mathematics Joan Stephens, Keith Parramore, 2022-09-30 This is a book about teaching mathematics in schools There are many excellent books about teaching mathematics that are driven by pedagogy psychology or research This book is different It is driven by the mathematics that underpins the school mathematics curriculum informed by the authors experiences and opinions In the field of pedagogy there are very few fixed knowns Mathematics on the other hand is a well founded rock So the thoughts and advice provided by Keith Parramore and Joan Stephens are anchored to that rock Lessons Learned from Maths Lessons is based on observations in secondary schools and many sections are relevant to primary school mathematics The authors are a husband and wife team of practising mathematicians with a wealth of experience in supporting trainee teachers They have learned something new and or interesting from every mathematics lesson they have observed One objective of this book is to share some of that learning with the reader A second objective is to promote an approach to teaching mathematics that empowers pupils and promotes understanding Trainee teachers often identify specific topic areas that they perceive they need to develop Parramore and Stephens argue that the greater need is for them to develop depth rather than breadth to truly explore the mathematical foundations of what they are teaching

Almost Over F. M. Kamm, 2020-04-01 In Almost Over F M Kamm presents a wide ranging philosophical discussion of the moral legal and medical issues related to aging dying and death She begins by considering different views about whether and why death is bad for the person who dies and what these views imply about the death of humanity She then considers whether there are conditions under which it might make sense to deliberately bring a person s death about given the processes of aging and dying that precede it In the opinion of some it is not only serious illness but ordinary aging that may give rise to this question and Kamm pays particular attention to the various ways in which aging could affect the distribution of goods and bads in a particular life Specifically she considers how the limitations and changes due to aging and the dying process affect meaning in one s life and whether the absence of meaning affects the reasonableness of not resisting or even seeking one s death Kamm explores these questions not only as they relate to individuals decisions but also as they relate to public policy and state action Recently attempts have been made to help the general public think about end of life issues by devising questionnaires and conversation guides Kamm evaluates some of these resources and articulates the moral implications of the assumptions they make about aging dying and value She also takes up the issue of physician assisted suicide as a way of ending one s life considering its moral permissibility and whether or not it ought to be legalized as a matter of public policy In doing so she examines arguments from discussions about capital punishment concerning state action and also methods of balancing costs and benefits including cost effectiveness analysis In her analysis Kamm engages with the views of such prominent philosophers medical doctors and legal theorists as Shelly Kagan Susan Wolf Atul Gawande Ezekiel Emanuel and Neil Gorsuch among others shedding new light on conversations about the moral complexities and consequences of aging dying and death
