belief even those of people we may yet to hear of In this astonishing memoir author Guy Marchi recounts the truly extraordinary story of his life Born and raised in small town British Columbia Marchi's experiences have been unbelievable He enjoyed a successful musical career travelling much of the world spending years touring Southeast Asia and earned his name into the Guinness Book of World Records for most instruments played 186 Not only did he have an incredible musical career though he also became a high ranking athlete running marathons setting power lifting records placing nationally as a cyclist and winning the Fitness Canada competition Beyond this Marchi has had a number of other extraordinary experiences including living in India as a beggar being forced to run on foot from a criminal inquest sailing the Caribbean for two years and building an immaculate two story authentic log house with the logs cut from his own land Striking evocative and dynamic Marchi's is a truly incredible story of what one might accomplish in a single lifetime if only you set your mind to it

Medieval Warrior Cultures of Europe and Japan: Body, Mind, Sword Michael DeMarco, 2015-11-17 There are similarities and differences between the European and Japanese medieval warrior traditions that reflect the social evolutions within those cultures Over the years publishing the Journal of Asian Martial Arts we published articles that presented the main themes found in this unique area of comparative studies The most important of these writings are assembled in this anthology for your convenience Chapters 1 and 2 are by Dr Willy Pieter a leading scholar with a thorough grasp of European and Japanese martial art traditions His first chapter examines the feudal system and how aspects of social organization helped form the warrior ethic resulting in a mix of scientific and intuitive elements In the second chapter Dr Pieter illustrates how the perception of the human body and mind are culturally different in the East and West Westerners have a long tradition of dualism which separates the body and mind while the Eastern approach has been wholistic The author discusses scientific and medical histories for insight particularly Chinese and European influences on Japan In the third chapter John Michael Greer presents the esoteric side of a European sword tradition as found in the writings of Dutch fencing master

Gerard Thibault ca 1574 1627 He notes that Asian and Western combat systems have been understood in sharply different ways over the last century or so Asian combatives came to be associated with Eastern spiritual traditions and seemed to be very different than any Western combative system However this short chapter shows that there is actually much in common In the final chapter Matthew Galas compares and contrasts the sword arts in Germany with the classical Japanese martial traditions The period covered by this inquiry reaches from approximately 1350 until 1600 The focus is on general principles and combat philosophy The study reveals that German sword techniques were as effective as their counterparts in feudal Japan The content in this anthology is useful for anyone interested in either or both European and Japanese martial art traditions exemplified during their medieval periods Enjoy reading this special anthology dedicated to two leading warrior traditions ... Select Notes on the International Sunday School Lessons ... faced enormous odds The social norms of their time were so pervasive and insular that every touchpoint in society bullied them as social media bullies women today especially those who dare to be different not for difference s sake but to make a difference in their brief time on this planet To the woman they responded to challenges setbacks and disappointments by redoubling their efforts We can learn from and be inspired by their lives and their grit and their mistakes To read their stories is to see ourselves anew

Roman Soldier vs Parthian Warrior Si Sheppard, 2020-07-23

In 53 BC Roman and Parthian forces collided in a confrontation that would reshape the geopolitical map and establish a frontier between East and West that would endure for the next 700 years From the initial clash at Carrhae through to the battle of Nisibis more than 250 years later Roman and Parthian forces fought a series of bloody campaigns for mastery of the Fertile Crescent As Roman forces thrust ever deeper into the East they encountered a civilization unlike any they had crossed swords with before Originating in the steppes of Central Asia the Parthians ruled a federated state stretching from the Euphrates to the Indus Although Rome s legions were masters of the battlefield in the Mediterranean the Parthians refused to fight by the rules as Rome understood them Harnessing the power of the composite bow and their superior manoeuvrability the Parthians mode of warfare focused exclusively on the horse They inflicted a bloody defeat on the legions at Carrhae and launched their own invasion of Roman territory countered only with great difficulty by Rome s surviving forces The Parthians were eventually thrown out but neither side could sustain a permanent ascendancy over the other and the conflict continued Packed with stunning artwork including battlescenes maps and photographs this title examines the conflict through the lens of three key battles revealing a clash between two armies alien to each other not only in culture but also in their radical approaches to warfare
