was raised in the San Fernando Valley of Southern California when the Valley was a wide open area of orange groves homes and estates The large estates were owned by the movie stars such as Roy Rogers and other stars in their heyday After marriage my husband and I desired to raise our family in a country atmosphere with a minuscule population We sold our first home in the valley in order to move to the tiny town of Acton in the mountainous countryside sixty miles north of Los Angeles The time line of book is 1928 to 2011 with many odd happening in our lives and unusual memories and pleasant days in the country We cleared the land put down a well and built our home ourselves and raised a family of four children Upon completion of the house it was necessary to move the home if we wished to continue living in it It was a new home and yes we wanted it but this proved to be frightening experience and a near tragic disaster This is only one of the many unusual happenings in our life in the country Unwanted animals are freely given to people who live in the country from friends In this manner we acquired a burro that soon gave birth to a strong baby burro on its first day of birth kicked our young son and knocked him down several dogs a beautiful horse and another burro Life in the country was always surprising and a pleasant place to raise a family sometimes difficult but nice We knew friends in a circle of twenty miles in every direction Our two sons still live in Acton our daughters have moved to the beach cities in California

It's All Politics Kathleen Kelley Reardon, Ph.D., 2011-05-25 From It s All Politics Like business in general politics is not a spectator sport You cannot afford to be apolitical at work if you have any aspirations for advancement The only way to avoid politics is to avoid people by finding an out of the way corner where you can do your job Of course it s the same job you ll likely be doing for the rest of your career In any job when you reach a certain level of technical competence politics is what makes all the difference with regard to success At that point it is indeed all politics Everyday brilliant people take a backseat to their politically adept colleagues by failing to win crucial support for their ideas Sometimes politics involves going around or bending rules but more typically it s about positioning your ideas in a favorable light and knowing what to say and how and when to say it Keep in mind that people benefit from perpetuating the image of politics as something you either know or you don t Ignore them Political acumen is largely learned from observation And then it s a matter of practice practice practice When a journalist suggested that golfing great Gary Player was very lucky he replied It s funny but the more I practice the luckier I get The same is true of politics An indispensable guide to mastering the ins and outs of office politics the single most important factor in getting ahead in your career As management professor and consultant Kathleen Reardon explains in her new book It s All Politics talent and hard work alone will not get you to the top What separates the winners from the losers in corporate life is politics As Reardon explains the most talented and accomplished employees often take a backseat to their politically adept coworkers losing ground in the race to get ahead sometimes even losing their jobs Why Because they ve failed to manage the important relationships with the people who can best reward their creativity and intelligence To determine whether you need a crash course in Office Politics 101 ask yourself the following questions Do I get credit for my ideas Do I know how to deal with a difficult colleague Do I get the plum assignments Do I have a mentor Do I say no gracefully and pick my battles wisely Am I in the loop Reardon has interviewed hundreds of employees from successful veterans to aspiring hopefuls examining why some people who work hard and effectively at their jobs fall behind while those who are adept at reading the office tea leaves forge ahead Being politically savvy doesn't mean being unethical or devious At heart it's about listening to and relating to others and making choices that advance everyone's goals Like it or not when it comes to work it's all politics And politics is all about knowing what to say when to say it and who to say it to
