Alien Chic Neil Badmington, 2004-08-13 Alien Chic provides a cultural history of the alien since the 1950s asking ourselves why our attitudes to aliens have shifted from fear to affection and what this can tell us about how we now see ourselves and others Neil Badmington explores our relationship with aliens inscribed in films such as The War of the Worlds Mars Attacks Mission to Mars and Independence Day and how thinkers such as Descartes Barthes Freud Lyotard and Derrida have conceptualised what it means to be human and post human Alien Chic examines the concept of posthumanism in an age when the lines between what is human and what is non human are increasingly blurred by advances in science and technology for example genetic cloning and engineering and the development of AI and cyborgs Questioning whether our current embracing of all things alien in the form of extraterrestrial gadgets or abduction narratives for instance stems from a desire to reaffirm ourselves as human this is an original and thought provoking contribution to the study of posthumanism

Introduction to New and Alternative Religions in America William M. Ashcraft, Eugene V. Gallagher, 2006-10-30 Most new or alternative religious are gravely misunderstood by members of the religious mainstream Labeled cults or sects groups and their members are often ridiculed or otherwise disregarded as weird and potentially dangerous by the populace at large Despite their efforts at educating the general public the various anti and counter cult activists have in fact promoted much more mis understanding than accurate understanding of the religious lives of some of their fellow citizens Consequently they have helped to create a very hostile environment for anyone whose religious practices do not fit within a so called mainstream This set rectifies the situation by presenting accurate comprehensive authoritative and accessible accounts of various new and alternative religious movements that have been and are active in American society and it addresses ways of understanding new and alternative religions within a broader context Determining what actually constitutes a new or alternative religion is a subject of constant debate Questions arise as to a new faith's legitimacy
