Lets Write Lets Write:

Let's Write John Foster, 2014-01-21 Let's Write offers a wealth of suggestions for approaches to developing primary school pupils writing skills that will capture the children's interest while enabling them to improve their ability to express themselves in writing. It aims to meet the requirements of the new national curriculum for English at KS2 in a way that will develop the children's standard of writing by presenting activities that they will find enjoyable and stimulating. Throughout the book the emphasis is on providing activities that will engage the pupils in a discussion of how texts are structured before producing their own writing. John Foster suggests a range of imaginative tasks that both literacy specialists and non-specialists will find useful in developing children's ability to write coherently and correctly. Let's Write includes a clear explanation of the writing process with activities designed to improve pupils' drafting skills, examples of the different types of writing for pupils to analyse which they can use as models for their own writing, a range of imaginative ideas for writing tasks together with suggestions of curriculum opportunities for practising particular forms, writing challenges which can be used to stretch more able writers and thus to introduce differentiation by task as well as by outcome, writing tips for example on sentence structure and paragraph structure appropriate to the different types of writing activities involving pupils in the assessment of their writing, a section on writing correctly focussing on grammar, spelling and punctuation, a section containing games and activities designed to extend pupils' vocabulary. Let's Write provides teachers with a lively collection of resources that will be welcomed by teachers and that will help to develop children's writing.

Urdu for Children, Book II, Let's Write Urdu, Part Two Sajida Alvi, 2004-09-14 While similar in method to the activity-based learning introduced in the first set of books, Urdu for Children Book II is designed to meet the needs of children seven to eight years of age and older. The student's level is determined by their facility in reading, writing and speaking Urdu rather than their chronological age. The scope of the topics in Book II is wider than in Book I and the forty stories and poems, most of them original, are more complex and longer. The original artwork is richer and more varied and the English-Urdu and Urdu-English vocabulary lists are more comprehensive. Two volumes of Let's Read Urdu have been added to help children enhance their reading skills while a two-part Workbook provides practice exercises in writing and reinforces the new vocabulary introduced in the texts. The activity-based Teacher's Manual provides detailed lesson plans for each Urdu text. Two CDs accompanying the two volumes of the textbook to help ensure standard pronunciation of words and intonations in sentences and infuse life into the stories. Original music was composed for the poems allowing children to sing them to help with memorization. Developed by a team of trained public school teachers with extensive backgrounds in teaching Urdu as a heritage language, the Urdu Language Textbook Series helps meet the needs of a rapidly growing Urdu-speaking community in North America. It is the first step towards helping children develop Urdu linguistic skills so that they can keep their heritage and culture alive.

The knowledge and decisions of professionals influence all facets of modern life a fact reflected by the increasing and distinct emphasis on public accountability for what professionals know and do The nature of this accountability has been fundamentally transformed in response to a changing context of market pressures network arrangements declining discretion and public trust and public managerialism To tackle these challenges an important body of research has emerged which concentrates on the material elements and processes of professional learning and considers how these affect wider society This volume presents specific pressures on professionals learning in different occupational contexts ranging from public school teaching to medicine and creative industry These pressures are wrought by changing regulatory frameworks changing modes of organising changing demands and changing knowledge authorities in professional practice The authors stress the importance of understanding these relations as sociomaterial webs through which the important moments of professional action and decisions emerge This approach moves us beyond accepting learning as an identifiable individualist phenomenon by emphasising the multiplicities around professional practice standards and quality workarounds responsibility agency and knowledge practices As the chapters here demonstrate sociomaterial perspectives raise new questions and methodologies that can highlight what is often invisible in the sometimes messy dynamics of professional learning and point
