Family Medicine J. L. Buckingham, E. P. Donatelle, W. E. Jacott, M. G. Rosen, Robert B. Taylor, 2013-06-29 JOHN S MILLIS In 1966 the Citizens Commission on Graduate Medical Education observed that the explosive growth in biomedical science and the consequent increase in medical skill and technology of the twentieth century had made it possible for physicians to respond to the episodes of illness of patients with an ever-increasing effectiveness, but that the increase in knowledge and technology had forced most physicians to concentrate upon a disease entity, an organ or organ system, or a particular mode of diagnosis or therapy. As a result, there had been a growing lack of continuing and comprehensive patient care. The Commission expressed the opinion that now, in order to bring medicine's enhanced diagnostic and therapeutic powers fully to the benefit of society, it is necessary to have many physicians who can put medicine together again. The Commission proceeded to recommend the education and training of substantial numbers of Primary Physicians who would by assuming primary responsibility for the patient's welfare in sickness and in health provide continuing and comprehensive health care to the citizens of the United States In 1978 it is clear that the recommendation has been accepted by the public the medical profession and medical education There has been a vigorous response in the development of family medicine and in the fields of internal medicine pediatrics and obstetrics One is particularly impressed by the wide acceptance on the part of medical students of the concept of the primary physician Dr John S Studyguide for Essentials of Family Medicine by Sloane, Philip D. Cram101 Textbook Reviews,2013-05 Never HIGHLIGHT a Book Again Virtually all testable terms concepts persons places and events are included Cram101 Textbook Outlines gives all of the outlines highlights notes for your textbook with optional online practice tests Only Cram101 Outlines are Textbook Specific Cram101 is NOT the Textbook Accompanys 9780521673761
