Schizophrenia and Multiculturalism Moeze Lalji, 2011-06-01 Description This is Lalji's second collection of poetry and without doubt his skills are growing Deceptively simple at first glance this collection draws on Ismaili traditions and forms whilst reflecting contemporary global British and individual concerns English and Ismaili are used together in poems throwing light on each other And some poems are strikingly modern The festivities and customs of many countries and groups are celebrated and discussed with a view to greater understanding and sympathy Perhaps most impressively whilst these poems appeal to our intellect and suggest our need to think about the issues of today they have the power to move one suddenly and unexpectedly to tears About the Author Moeze Lalji was born in Uganda in 1958 and came to England as a refugee in 1972 He was a paperboy in his school days then went to West Hill Secondary School in Stalybridge then to Tameside College then to Leeds Polytechnic then worked for a small firm of chartered accountants then worked for a bank then with his wife owned a sub post office then worked for a property company Later he had a break down and suffers from schizophrenia He belongs to the Ismaili community and has his faith in the Aga Khan which keeps him alive with the obvious support from the mental health team His young brother died from schizophrenia He is very grateful to Jason Pegler for giving him support and the encouragement to be part of society and feel wanted through the poems which he finds therapeutic He never believed he would get this far in his life but Jason has made it possible for him Moeze wants to help mental health sufferers so he is donating his poems to the Chipmunka Foundation who help mental health sufferers Moeze also donates poems to various charities Moeze really says thank you to Jason and his team May God bless you all in your good work for society by providing an enabling environment

All Things Continue Joseph Nathan Smith, 2012-02-12 Many people in the twenty first century have trouble believing the Bible because they believe the timeline produced by radiometric dating techniques They surmise How could these radiometric proofs which are accepted by the scientific community be wrong Could the many laboratories which have calculated the age of dinosaur bones to be 65 million years old be wrong Others maintain their faith in the Bible but are conflicted over the seemingly irrefutable arguments presented by the community of radiometric date setters The modern mind is assailed by the teaching of the Bible and the opposing teaching of science In particular the claims of the various radiometric dating techniques including carbon dating seem to prove the Bible wrong Because these radiometric dating claims are in such opposition to the Bible a choice must be made The purpose of this book is to clarify that choice and expose the weakness in the radiometric dating argument
