offers a unique approach toward understanding a much neglected writing Refusing to read the letter of James through the lens of Paul Hartin approaches the letter in its own right He takes seriously the address to the twelve tribes in the Dispersion 1 1 as directed to Jews who had embraced the message of Jesus and were living outside their homeland Israel At the same time Hartin shows how this letter remains true to Jesus heritage Using recent studies on rhetorical culture Hartin illustrates how James takes Jesus sayings and performs them again in his own way to speak to the hearers readers of his own world Hartin examines the text passage by passage while providing essential notes and an extensive explanation of the theological meaning of each passage The value of this commentary lies in its breadth of scholarship and its empathic approach to this writing The reader will discover new and refreshing insights into the world of early Christianity as well as a teaching that is of perennial significance Patrick J Hartin was born and raised in Johannesburg South Africa He studied at the Gregorian University in Rome and is an ordained priest of the Diocese of Spokane Washington He holds two doctorates in Theology in Ethics and in the New Testament both from the University of South Africa Presently he teaches courses in the New Testament and in Classical Civilizations at Gonzaga University He is the author of eleven books including Apollos Paul s

Stopping the Brain Drain of Skilled Veteran Teachers William L. Fibkins, 2011-12-29 Veteran educators are being encouraged to take early retirement in order to create jobs for less experienced lower paid novices Veteran educators are not alone early retirement promotions have become the norm for aging workers in America Consequently there is a brain drain of skilled workers at the national state and local levels The early retirement of our most talented veteran educators is leaving our schools without the necessary leadership hard earned experience proven skills and wisdom to meet the evolving challenges our country faces Indeed there are long term consequences of losing skilled educators while they are in the prime of their professional lives Addressing these concerns this book challenges the good news only theory of early retirement promotions which suggest that veteran educators are no longer needed as they age and that their retirement is the only way schools can survive financially in times of economic uncertainty This theory contends that everyone involved gets a reward the novice educators get jobs and the veterans get some cash This trade is seemingly no problem until the veteran educators are out the door and the school staff students and parents are left without their steady guiding hands Instead of hastily luring prime educators out the schoolhouse door with planned buyout promotions schools should offer our most gifted veteran educators career alternatives that will encourage and reward them to remain on board thereby allowing them to lead novice and mid career staff students parents and community members Examining the negative consequences of early retirement promotions on school culture administrative leadership teacher and student performance community reaction Stopping the Brain Drain of Skilled Veteran Teachers will not only expose some of the major drawbacks of early buyouts of veteran educators but will also suggest creative career alternative to keep such teachers on board Teaching & Research Aptitude Solved Papers
