Fatal Words And Friendly Faces Interpersonal Communication In The 21st Century:

Fatal Words and Friendly Faces Larry G. Ehrlich, 2000 On February 19 1998 the AAA Foundation for Traffic Safety reported that more than 12 000 people had been injured in incidents of road rage In light of modernity's rapid strides forward in electronic communication and lagging efforts to explore human nature Larry G Ehrlich's book focuses on the architecture of human communication behavior It is divided into three sections which deal with intrapersonal interpersonal and public communication This readable book not only offers a discussion on the most recent research in information technology and on relationships in a global community but it is a truly interdisciplinary approach to communication behavior

American Book Publishing Record ,2000-07 Choice ,2000 Mass Communication Ralph E. Hanson, 2020-10-31 The best selling Mass Communication Living in a Media World presents a highly accessible introduction to mass communication that equips students with the critical thinking skills to become savvy media consumers To help students better retain the material author Ralph E Hanson uses a storytelling approach that weaves in examples drawn from everyday life Readers are encouraged to consider the media industry from the inside out and in doing so discover the many dimensions of mass communication that operate in our society The thoroughly revised Eighth Edition highlights how social and digital media video games and the COVID 19 pandemic are changing the face of media This title is accompanied by a complete teaching and learning package How to Get Into a Military Service Academy Michael Singer Dobson, 2015-10-08 The five United States military service academies are some of the most elite schools in the nation taking the finest high school students and turning them into commissioned officers of the Army Navy Air Force Coast Guard and Merchant Marine Over 60 000 students a year begin the arduous process of applying and about 4 000 get in At West Point alone over 15 000 candidates start the applications process Less than a third of them finish it Some figure out that they aren't going to be competitive some get derailed with specific problems and some get lost and drop out even though they might have gotten in From applications to Congressional nominations from athletics to medical qualifications the process is unlike any other for getting into college This book leads students and their families through the process step by step offering the tools needed for the very best chance of success Covering special issues and concerns like LGBTQ women and minorities criminal records and more the author also discusses whether attending a service academy is RIGHT for the prospective student and what he or she can expect upon acceptance admission and attendance Using his personal experience in helping his son through the applications process Michael Singer Dobson provides all candidates with the ins and outs of the competition for a spot at one of these prestigious schools Exploring Media Research Andy Ruddock, 2017-08-21 From Donald Trump's use of Twitter to social media mourning to cyber bullying the evidence of media influence today is all around us As such good media research is more important than ever and crucially is something all students can and should do Exploring Media Research is an eye opening exploration of what it means to understand and do media research today Carefully balancing theory and practice

Andy Ruddock demystifies the process showing you don't need huge amounts of time or money to do meaningful media analysis. The book introduces students to the scope and seriousness of media influence. Shows them how to tie their own interests to academic concepts and research issues. Explains how to use this understanding to develop proper research questions. Translates key theoretical concepts into actual research methods students can use to explore the media texts, events, markets, and professionals that interest them. Bringing theory to life throughout with a range of contemporary case studies. Exploring Media Research is a thoughtful and practical guide to gathering and analysing media data. It is essential reading for students of media communication and cultural studies.

Public Memory and the Television Series Outlander Valerie Lynn Schrader, 2020-12-30 Using rhetorical criticism as a research method, Public Memory and the Television Series Outlander examines how public memory is created in the first four seasons of the popular television show Outlander. In this book, Valerie Lynn Schrader discusses the connections between documented history and the series, noting where Outlander's depiction of events aligns with documented history and where it does not, as well as how public memory is created through the use of music, language, directorial and performance choices, and mise en scène elements like filming location, props, and costumes. Schrader also explores the impact that Outlander has had on Scottish tourism, known as the Outlander effect, and reflects on whether other filming locations or depicted locations may experience a similar effect as Outlander's settings move from Scotland to other areas of the world. Furthermore, Schrader suggests that the creation of public memory through the television series encourages audiences to learn about history and reflect on current issues that are brought to light through that public memory.

Messages Joseph A. DeVito, 1993 Unraveling the messages of interpersonal communication, this book is a comprehensive introduction that emphasizes skill development and application. By providing thorough coverage of four important elements: Critical Thinking, Skill Development, Diversity, and Listening, Messages Fourth Edition creates a foundation for readers to first understand the concepts and then apply what they have learned through real-life examples and exercises.

Unfinished João Biehl, Peter Locke, 2017-11-16 This original, field-changing collection explores the plasticity and unfinishedness of human subjects and lifeworlds, advancing the conceptual terrain of an anthropology of becoming. People's becomings trouble and exceed ways of knowing and acting, producing new possibilities for research methodology and writing. The contributors creatively bridge ethnography and critical theory in a range of worlds on the edge, from war and its aftermath, economic transformation, racial inequality, and gun violence to religiosity, therapeutic markets, animal rights activism, and abrupt environmental change. Defying totalizing analytical schemes, these visionary essays articulate a human science of the uncertain and unknown, and restore a sense of movement and possibility to ethics and political practice. Unfinished invites readers to consider the array of affects, ideas, forces, and objects that shape contemporary modes of existence and future horizons, opening new channels for critical thought and creative expression.
