Films and Dreams Thorsten Botz-Bornstein, 2007-01-01 Films and Dreams considers the essential link between films and the world of dreams Thorsten Botz Bornstein reveals a common structure of dreamtense in the works of major filmmakers like Tarkovsky Sokurov Bergman and Wong Kar wai Climates, Landscapes, and Civilizations Liviu Giosan, Dorian Q. Fuller, Kathleen Nicoll, Rowan K. Flad, Peter D. Clift, 2013-05-09 Published by the American Geophysical Union as part of the Geophysical Monograph Series Volume 198 Climates Landscapes and Civilizations brings together a collection of studies on the history of complex interrelationships between humans and their environment by integrating Earth science with archeology and anthropology At a time when climate change overpopulation and scarcity of resources are increasingly affecting our ways of life the lessons of the past provide multiple reference frames that are valuable for informing our future decisions and action plans Volume highlights include discussions of multiple connotations of the Anthropocene landscapes as a link between climate and humans synoptic approaches to explore large scale cultural patterns regional studies for contextualizing cultural complexity and environmental determinism and social theory Straddling the fields of Earth sciences anthropology and archaeology and presenting research from across several continents Climates Landscapes and Civilizations will appeal to a wide readership among scientists scholars and the public at large Library of Congress Subject Headings Library of Congress. Cataloging Policy and Support Office, 2007 Library of Congress Subject Headings Library of Congress, 2002 Modelling Landscape Dynamics Fivos Papadimitriou, 2024-01-02 This book offers a comprehensive exposition of the mathematical methods that can be used to model landscape dynamics It is systematically shown how mathematical models of progressively higher complexity can be derived from ordinary landscape maps and related data in ways that enable researchers to predict future landscape transformations and to assess landscape stability sustainability and resilience These models are deterministic i e linear or non linear systems of differential equations stochastic i e Markovian or combined deterministic and stochastic using stochastic differential equations whereas topics and challenging problems related to complexity spatial randomness chaotic behaviors riddled systems etc are also examined in the book Landscapes and Societies I. Peter Martini, Ward Chesworth, 2010-11-09 This book contains case histories intended to show how societies and landscapes interact The range of interest stretches from the small groups of the earliest Neolithic through Bronze and Iron Age civilizations to modern nation states The coexistence is of its very nature reciprocal resulting in changes in both society and landscape In some instances the adaptations may be judged successful in terms of human needs but failure is common and even the successful cases are ephemeral when judged in the light of history Comparisons and contrasts between the various cases can be made at various scales from global through inter regional to regional and smaller scales At the global scale all societies deal with major problems of climate change sea level rise and with ubiquitous problems such as soil erosion and landscape degradation Inter regional differences bring out significant detail with one region suffering from drought when another suffers from widespread flooding For example desertification in North Africa and the Near East contrasts with the temperate countries of southern Europe where the landscape effects of deforestation are more obvious And China and Japan offer an interesting comparison from the standpoint of geological hazards to society large unpredictable and massively erosive rivers in the former case volcanoes and accompanying earthquakes in the latter Within the North African region localized climatic changes led to abandonment of some desertified areas with successful adjustments in others with the ultimate evolution into the formative civilization of Egypt the Gift of the Nile At a smaller scale it is instructive to compare the city states of the Medieval and early Renaissance times that developed in the watershed of a single river the Arno in Tuscany and how Pisa Siena and Florence developed and reached their golden periods at different times depending on their location with regard to proximity to the sea to the main trunk of the river or in the adjacent hills Also noteworthy is the role of technology in opening up opportunities for a society Consider the Netherlands and how its history has been formed by the technical problem of a populous society dealing with too much water as an inexorably rising sea threatens their landscape or the case of communities in Colorado trying to deal with too little water for farmers and domestic users by bringing their supply over a mountain chain These and others cases included in the book provide evidence of the successes near misses and outright failures that mark our ongoing relationship with landscape throughout the history of Homo sapiens The hope is that compilations such as this will lead to a better understanding of the issue and provide us with knowledge valuable in planning a sustainable modus vivendi between humanity and landscape for as long as possible Audience The book will interest geomorphologists geologists geographers archaeologists anthropologists ecologists environmentalists historians and others in the academic world Practically planners and managers interested in landscape environmental conditions will find interest in these pages and more generally the increasingly large body of opinion in the general public with concerns about Planet Earth will find much to inform their opinions Extra material The color plate section is available at <http://extras.springer.com> The Built Environment Wendy R. McClure, Tom J.

Bartuska, 2011-09-09 This book takes a sweeping view of the ways we build things beginning at the scale of products and interiors to that of regions and global systems In doing so it answers questions on how we effect and are affected by our environment and explores how components of what we make from products buildings and cities are interrelated and why designers and planners must consider these connections Beyond the Ruins: A Journey Through Post-Apocalyptic

Landscapes Bobbi Cisneros, 2025-03-30 In this post apocalyptic realm civilization lies in ruins leaving behind vestiges of a forgotten world Beyond the Ruins takes you on a haunting journey through desolate cities and shattered landscapes revealing the remnants of a society lost to time The book captures the stark beauty and eerie silence of these abandoned places inviting you to ponder the fragility of our own world Beyond the Ruins is not just a collection of stunning photographs it s a profound exploration of the aftermath of catastrophe Each image tells a silent story evoking a sense of wonder and melancholy as we glimpse the resilience of nature amidst human decay Whether it s the crumbling grandeur of once majestic buildings or the poignant traces of daily life frozen in time this book offers a poignant reminder of the ephemeral nature of our existence The photographs in Beyond the Ruins are a testament to the enduring power of humanity even in the face of adversity They inspire us to reflect on the fragility of our civilization and to appreciate the preciousness of the world we live in
